Damages Hit Million

Runaway Freight Kills 1, Hurts 15

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — "It sounded like a dynamite explosion," said William Crane. "Then the freight cars hit"

Crane had been sitting in a restaurant in the path of a speeding string of 15 runaway freight cars which hurtled through downtown Olympia Friday night, killing one person, injuring 15 others and demolishing a quarter of a city block.

He and his wife were in the cafe wrecked by the cars after the freight thundered off the end of the track and crashed through a brick depot. Two of the cars rumbled 350 feet and came to rest inside a building across this capital city's main street.

"I ducked under the table and hollered for my wife," Crane said. "When it was over, we crawled out and went out through the rear of the restaurant."

Crane and others reentered the cafe to release five women trapped in a front booth.

Railroad telegrapher Kenneth A. Dilly, 36, was killed when the juggernaut plowed through the middle of the Union Pacific station.

Only six of the injured required hospitalization. The others, including Crane, were treated and released.

The freight cars, 12 of which were loaded with plywood and plaster-board, tore out a dead-end railway bumper guard and ripped into the depot. The two lead cars smashed on through and across the street. Four others piled up inside a building directly behind the depot, wrecking a cafe, tavern food shop and auto parts store. Two cars came to a stop inside the depot, while the others remained upright on the tracks.

Police estimated the damage as in excess of a million dollars. It would be several days before a close accounting of damage could be made, they said.

Gas mains were shattered and police roped off the area. The jumble of railroad cars, parked automobiles and rubble blocked the main thoroughfare.

Thurston County Coroner Hollis Fultz said the freight cars were cut loose from a locomotive during switching operations at Tumwater, about two miles south. They started rolling down the grade toward the state capital, with the locomotive crew in vain pursuit, he said.

2 Others Leap From Path Of Vehicle In Minerva St. Mishap

A 12 - year - old girl was injured Friday night when struck by a truck while en route to a school carnival with two companions.

Carol Sue Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Lowe, 1006 Avondale St., suffered a possible fracture of the pelvis, police said. She was admitted to City Hospital where her condition today was described as "fairly good."

Police said there were conflicting reports from witnesses. The accident occurred at 7:15 p. m. on a short dirt stretch between the intersection of Minerva St., Chester Ave. and Riley Ave.

James A. Gordon, 42, of 809 Sophia St. told police he was en route up the grade toward Riley Ave. when he saw two girls walking in the middle of the road.

He said he blew his horn and the girls ran to the left but as he was passing one ran back into the path of his truck.

Mrs. Gordon said her husband sounded his horn and applied his brakes but the right front bumper knocked the child to her hands and knees. She told officers she asked the girl if she was hurt but the child ran on toward the school.

The Lowe girl was walking to the McKinley School carnival with Barbara Ludwig of Chester Ave. and Sally Bussard of Bank St., her parents said.

The injured girl told police the truck came up the dirt stretch and kept blowing his horn. "It never did stop," the girl said. She said the truck hit her from behind and knocked her into the air.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ward, 796 Chester Ave., said they were walking a few feet in front of the children when they were attracted by a loud blowing of the horn. They said they turned around to

County Orders Vote Machines

GOP Commissioner Withholds Signing

Democrats on the Columbiana County Board of Commissioners have signed a contract for a trial of voting machines but the Republican member refused to go along after he lost a motion to submit the question on the November ballot.

Commissioners R. Max Gard of Lisbon and Frank Wilson of Wellsville signed a contract with the Shoub Voting Machine Co. of Canton to furnish 14 of the devices to be used in Lisbon and East Palestine for the May and November elections.

Commissioner Walter A. Hunston of East Palestine refused to sign.

Shoub will furnish the machines for 5 per cent of their cost for each election and if eventually they are purchased, the rental fee will be deducted from the total price.

This was the second contract submitted by the firm. The first was a conditional sale contract which was refused by the commissioners.

The new contract provides for rental of machines without any obligations, according to Wilson. If the county decides to purchase

President To Sign Hawaii Statehood Bill Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will sign the Hawaiian statehood bill early next week.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the announcement today after Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii had called on Eisenhower.

The Hawaiian governor visited the White House to thank the President on behalf of the people of the islands for the part the administration had played in pressing for admission of Hawaii as the 50th state.

Quinn, leaving at noon today for Honolulu to be there when notice of presidential approval arrives, said he had told the President Hawaii is very conscious of its mission in the middle Pacific.

Quinn said Hawaii wshes to perform as a "hub of the Pacific" in creating greater understanding between the East and West and the peoples of Asia "whose friendship we are trying to . . . nourish."

Quinn will have 30 days after formal notice of Eisenhower's approval to issue an election proclamation. The primary could be held no less than 60 nor more than 90 days after the proclamation. A general election could be held no later than 40 days after the primary.

Quinn said he would put the machinery in motion to qualify Hawaii for formal admission as soon as possible. But he said he wants to talk with legislative and political leaders of both parties in Hawaii before issuing his primary proclamation.

Quinn, a Republican, who said last month he would run for the first elected governor of the new state, said today this is not the time to talk about that.

He told reporters there is a strong two-party system in Hawaii and perhaps it would vote something like a border state in the continental United States. He added that Hawaii could swing 51 or 52 per cent, either Republican or Democratic.

Quinn said that in the primary election the people of Hawaii will be asked to vote on this question: "Do the people want to become a state?"

He said he would be surprised if as much as 4 per cent voted against statehood.

Detroit Man Selected As Ware Strike Arbiter

A. J. Houghton of Detroit has been selected as the arbiter to make a final settlement of a dispute between Homer Laughlin China Co. and the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters which idled 1,500 employes last month.

Houghton was agreed upon by both the company and union from a list of 12. He is a mediator for the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

J. M. Wells, secretary - treasurer of Laughlins, said no date has been set for the first meeting.

The dispute started Feb. 5 over the question whether gold stampers — members of Local 124 — or underglaze decorators — members of Local 155 — should operate a new underglaze stamping machine.

Twelve women picketed the plant with other employes refusing to cross the picket line, virtually halting all production for more than two weeks.

Firm Stand Advocated In Berlin Issue

General Says Soviet Can Be Deterred In 'Final Showdown'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union can be deterred from "a final showdown at this time," predicts Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, if the United States is determined "to go to war if necessary for Berlin."

"We must be willing to go all the way down the road," says the Army chief of staff. "We can't turn back at any point."

Taylor advocated this stand Wednesday in top secret testimony before the Senate Watchdog Preparedness subcommittee. A heavily censored transcript of his remarks was released Friday night by subcommittee Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex).

Asked if this country has "clear-cut plans to meet the Berlin crisis in any eventuality that may confront us," Taylor said:

"The Joint Chiefs of Staff do."

Taylor, himself a member of the Joint Chiefs, expressed conviction the United States and its European allies have the strength to carry out those plans.

Recalling the Soviet's blockade of Berlin in 1948, Taylor testified that many top military leaders now regard the U.S.-Berlin airlift as a mistake. Force should have been tried, Taylor said, when the Soviets blocked ground routes into Berlin.

"Instead we yielded to a challenge which may well have been a bluff, Taylor said. "We will never know to what extent the U.S.S.R. would have gone to maintain the ground blockade by force."

2 Newell Men Seized In Attempted Burglary

Two Newell men are in Hancock County Jail at New Cumberland today after they were surprised by a night watchman and held at bay with a shotgun during an attempting breaking and entering of the Lawrenceville American Legion Post 163 near Chester early this morning.

Ralph Heath, 23, and Collis Adkins, 21, awakened the watchman, Charles Clendenning of Lawrenceville, and were held at gunpoint inside the building after phoning county sheriff's deputies.

Deputies said Adkins is on a 5-year parole on federal charges of auto theft. They are being held for breaking and entering, according to the sheriff's office.

Russia Again Attacks Agreement On Cyprus

LONDON (AP) — Russia today again attacked the British-Greek-Turkish independence agreement on Cyprus and said it will turn the Mediterranean island into a "powder keg."

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, said "every point in the Zurich and London agreements is convincing proof that we are dealing with collusion behind the back of the people of Cyprus, against their national interests, against the interests of peace."

Mayor Scales Down His Budget Request At Council Meeting

Ike's Report On Berlin Is Set Monday

No New Policies Expected In Radio, TV Talk At 9:30

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's report to the nation Monday night on the Berlin situation will contain no surprises and set forth no new policies, informed sources predicted today.

The talk could be regarded mainly as an educational effort, the sources said, in a move to put the Berlin situation into perspective as the President sees it.

Eisenhower's decision to go on the air was reported to have been prompted in part by continuing contentions among Democrats in Congress that the nation's defenses are inadequate to meet the situation.

The White House announced late Friday the President will speak from his office for 30 minutes over all major television and radio networks starting at 9:30 p.m. EST Monday.

Eisenhower is expected to stress again American determination to stand firmly with its allies in the face of Soviet pressures. But he also was reported ready to make clear his willingness to ease tension by negotiations toward settling the entire German issue.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, asked whether any new development in the Berlin situation had prompted Eisenhower to speak, replied "No, sir."

The address will be the first such nationwide report on a foreign policy situation since last Sept. 9 when Eisenhower discussed Red China's campaign to force Chinese Nationalist troops off Quemoy Island.

News that the President had scheduled the address brought reaction today from some members of Congress.

Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) urged Eisenhower to tell the American people frankly and candidly "if there is a real danger of war" over Berlin.

Kidnap Plea Is Not Guilty

Pair Arraigned In Chester Abduction

Two of three Pennsylvania men charged with the kidnaping of a Hancock County woman last August pleaded not guilty Friday at their arraignment before Judge Harry E. Watkins in the U. S. District Court at Clarksburg.

Donald Lane and Ronald Wilson, both of Aliquippa, pleaded innocent to the abduction of Mrs. Dorothy Amedeo, 32, of Chester, while she was working alone in Pat's Tavern.

The third man involved, Wilbur Smith, also of Aliquippa, is presently serving a term in the Allegheny County Workhouse for contributing to the delinquency of a minor and was not arraigned yesterday.

At an earlier hearing in Beaver County, Lane and Wilson pleaded guilty to a charge of raping the Chester woman after taking her into nearby Pennsylvania. Smith pleaded not guilty to the rape charge.

Judge Watkins appointed Atty. C. Robert Sarver of Clarksburg as counsel for Lane and Wilson and set Thursday for their appearance to file any further motions.

Before allegedly kidnaping Mrs. Amedeo, the trio was reported to have robbed her at gunpoint of $200. The three were indicted in January by the Hancock County Grand Jury for armed robbery and kidnaping.

Midnight Clock Raced

Tax Bill, Budget Hit Adjournment

CHARLESTON (AP) — The usual last - day pileup of Senate-House disagreements that had to be resolved lay between the Legislature and the adjournment deadline of the 60-day session at midnight tonight.

While midnight is the end of the constitutional 60 days, the Legislature may legally go beyond that time in extended session limited to action on the budget. It is uncertain whether that will be necessary.

Joint conference committees were at work trying to compromise Senate - House disagreements on tax legislation and the budget. Once Senate - House differences on taxes needed to balance the budget were ironed out, the budget itself was not expected to be a major problem. The two chambers were not far apart on the budget.

The principal tax bill in conference is one dealing with the gross sales tax.

The Senate version, amounting to $1,800,000 in added yearly revenue, would extend the tax to professional incomes and raise the existing rates on contractors and wholesalers. The House bill, amounting to $3,200,000, would raise the rates of 12 categories of business and industry now covered by the gross sales tax law.

The Senate - passed version of the budget calls for about $112,716,000 in general revenue operating appropriations for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The House bill amounts to $112,871,000.

Roughly $4,200,000 in revenue above that in prospect from existing sources was needed to balance the budget. Legislation already passed would bring in about one million of the needed amount, leaving $3,200,000 to be agreed upon.

To raise this amount, the lawmakers could choose from among the divergent gross sales tax bills, a property transfer tax, and higher taxes on betting at horse race tracks.

Both houses have passed a bill to impose a tax on transfers of real estate. The Senate version amounts to three million dollars, the House's to $400,000. The Senate has passed a bill to bring in $500,000 more per year from race track betting, but the House has yet to act upon the bill.

The House had up for adoption —requiring a two - thirds vote—a Senate - approved resolution for a constitutional referendum in 1960 on authorizing issuance of 170 million dollars worth of road bonds. No more than 20 million dollars worth could be issued in any one year.

Although the Senate had approved the resolution, it would have to go back there for action on a House amendment in the event of adoption by the delegates.

The House struck out of the proposed constitutional amendment language which would have required the Legislature to provide for a property tax levy, if necessary to retire the debt within the limit of 25 years.

The House passed finally and sent to the governor last night an act to increase workmen's compensation benefits. The delegates concurred in Senate amendments which considerably trimmed down the version passed earlier by the House.

The minimum weekly benefit rate will be increased from $20 to $22 and the maximum weekly rate will go from $33 to $35. The measure also calls for these increases in monthly rates: from $17.50 to $20 for dependent children, from $20 to $25 for orphaned children and from $50 to $60 for wholly dependent parents.

Move Points To Decrease In Tax Plan

Between $54,000 And $64,000 Would Be Chopped Off

Making major cutbacks in a five-year municipal improvement program he proposed earlier, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence asked Council Friday night to provide $260,000 in additional revenue for 1959, which probably could be raised with a city income tax of six tenths of one per cent.

The mayor's fund request was scaled down by $54,455, as he asked $314,455 additional in the first conference Monday night. It could have been financed by a tax of eight tenths of one per cent—identical to a measure voters repealed at the November general election.

BECAUSE ONLY five voting members were present last night, President B. E. Warner told the mayor Council could not arrive at a decision immediately on his request. However, the two members who missed the session will be asked to familiarize themselves with the new figures over the weekend to prepare for another discussion before Council's regular meeting Monday night, Warner said.

Mayor Lawrence asked Council Monday night for $922,886 in 1959 —$314,455 over actual expenditures in 1958. His revised program was presented last night because most councilmen indicated they would favor a program requiring a lower income tax rate, possibly six tenths of one per cent.

Items eliminated from the administration's five-year program to allow the reduction included:

A municipal garage with maintenance equipment for vehicles, $100,000.

A new North Side fire station, $40,000.

SANITARY SEWER trunk lines to serve the Gardendale and Sunnyside districts, $40,000 each or total of $80,000.

Annual equipment replacement funds totaling $27,000 for the fire, police and street departments.

Ten new fire hydrants, $30 00

However, there were some additions to the program as well as some minor changes in the proposals listed for Council Monday night.

To launch a citywide year-round recreation program, the mayor's new plan calls for $8,000 a year, $40,000 over the five-year period. He conceded that he overlooked recreation in presenting his plan Monday. No list of proposed recreation facilities is available pending more detailed study, but the plan now provides for a full-time director, the mayor said.

HE ALSO CALLED for additional off-street parking facilities as part of his revised program. However, no cost figure was included because a committee of citizens is working on a proposition that it will present to Council later, the Mayor indicated.

The committee hopes to be able to propose a plan that will be self-liquidating, possibly by establishment of metered lots, the mayor indicated.

He also added a $3,000 item for interest on a short-term loans that would be made to get the improvement program under way. The money would be borrowed against anticipated revenue from an income tax, the mayor explained. The same method was used to launch a 1958 street improvement program shortly after the income tax went into effect May 1.

The mayor also called for reestablishment of the post of a full-time dog warden, another job that was eliminated at the end of 1958 after repeal of the tax. The mayor mentioned no cost figures

President To Sign Hawaii Statehood Bill Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower will sign the Hawaiian statehood bill early next week.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty made the announcement today after Gov. William F. Quinn of Hawaii had called on Eisenhower.

The Hawaiian governor visited the White House to thank the President on behalf of the people of the islands for the part the administration had played in pressing for admission of Hawaii as the 50th state.

Quinn, leaving at noon today for Honolulu to be there when notice of presidential approval arrives, said he had told the President Hawaii is very conscious of its mission in the middle Pacific.

Quinn said Hawaii wshes to perform as a "hub of the Pacific" in creating greater understanding between the East and West and the peoples of Asia "whose friendship we are trying to . . . nourish."

Quinn will have 30 days after formal notice of Eisenhower's approval to issue an election proclamation. The primary could be held no less than 60 nor more than 90 days after the proclamation. A general election could be held no later than 40 days after the primary.

Quinn said he would put the machinery in motion to qualify Hawaii for formal admission as soon as possible. But he said he wants to talk with legislative and political leaders of both parties in Hawaii before issuing his primary proclamation.

Quinn, a Republican, who said last month he would run for the first elected governor of the new state, said today this is not the time to talk about that.

He told reporters there is a strong two-party system in Hawaii and perhaps it would vote something like a border state in the continental United States. He added that Hawaii could swing 51 or 52 per cent, either Republican or Democratic.

Quinn said that in the primary election the people of Hawaii will be asked to vote on this question: "Do the people want to become a state?"

He said he would be surprised if as much as 4 per cent voted against statehood.

Ike's Report On Berlin Is Set Monday

No New Policies Expected In Radio, TV Talk At 9:30

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower's report to the nation Monday night on the Berlin situation will contain no surprises and set forth no new policies, informed sources predicted today.

The talk could be regarded mainly as an educational effort, the sources said, in a move to put the Berlin situation into perspective as the President sees it.

Eisenhower's decision to go on the air was reported to have been prompted in part by continuing contentions among Democrats in Congress that the nation's defenses are inadequate to meet the situation.

The White House announced late Friday the President will speak from his office for 30 minutes over all major television and radio networks starting at 9:30 p.m. EST Monday.

Eisenhower is expected to stress again American determination to stand firmly with its allies in the face of Soviet pressures. But he also was reported ready to make clear his willingness to ease tension by negotiations toward settling the entire German issue.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty, asked whether any new development in the Berlin situation had prompted Eisenhower to speak, replied "No, sir."

The address will be the first such nationwide report on a foreign policy situation since last Sept. 9 when Eisenhower discussed Red China's campaign to force Chinese Nationalist troops off Quemoy Island.

News that the President had scheduled the address brought reaction today from some members of Congress.

Two of three Pennsylvania men charged with the kidnaping of a Hancock County woman last August pleaded not guilty Friday at their arraignment before Judge Harry E. Watkins in the U. S. District Court at Clarksburg.

Donald Lane and Ronald Wilson, both of Aliquippa, pleaded innocent to the abduction of Mrs. Dorothy Amedeo, 32, of Chester, while she was working alone in Pat's Tavern.

At an earlier hearing in Beaver County, Lane and Wilson pleaded guilty to a charge of raping the Chester woman after taking her into nearby Pennsylvania. Smith pleaded not guilty to the rape charge.

Judge Watkins appointed Atty. C. Robert Sarver of Clarksburg as counsel for Lane and Wilson and set Thursday for their appearance to file any further motions.

Midnight Clock Raced

Tax Bill, Budget Hit Adjournment

CHARLESTON (AP) — The usual last - day pileup of Senate-House disagreements that had to be resolved lay between the Legislature and the adjournment deadline of the 60-day session at midnight tonight.

While midnight is the end of the constitutional 60 days, the Legislature may legally go beyond that time in extended session limited to action on the budget. It is uncertain whether that will be necessary.

Joint conference committees were at work trying to compromise Senate - House disagreements on tax legislation and the budget. Once Senate - House differences on taxes needed to balance the budget were ironed out, the budget itself was not expected to be a major problem. The two chambers were not far apart on the budget.

The principal tax bill in conference is one dealing with the gross sales tax.

The Senate version, amounting to $1,800,000 in added yearly revenue, would extend the tax to professional incomes and raise the existing rates on contractors and wholesalers. The House bill, amounting to $3,200,000, would raise the rates of 12 categories of business and industry now covered by the gross sales tax law.

The Senate - passed version of the budget calls for about $112,716,000 in general revenue operating appropriations for the fiscal year starting next July 1. The House bill amounts to $112,871,000.

Roughly $4,200,000 in revenue above that in prospect from existing sources was needed to balance the budget. Legislation already passed would bring in about one million of the needed amount, leaving $3,200,000 to be agreed upon.

To raise this amount, the lawmakers could choose from among the divergent gross sales tax bills, a property transfer tax, and higher taxes on betting at horse race tracks.

Both houses have passed a bill to impose a tax on transfers of real estate. The Senate version amounts to three million dollars, the House's to $400,000. The Senate has passed a bill to bring in $500,000 more per year from race track betting, but the House has yet to act upon the bill.

The House had up for adoption —requiring a two - thirds vote—a Senate - approved resolution for a constitutional referendum in 1960 on authorizing issuance of 170 million dollars worth of road bonds. No more than 20 million dollars worth could be issued in any one year.

Although the Senate had approved the resolution, it would have to go back there for action on a House amendment in the event of adoption by the delegates.

The House struck out of the proposed constitutional amendment language which would have required the Legislature to provide for a property tax levy, if necessary to retire the debt within the limit of 25 years.

The House passed finally and sent to the governor last night an act to increase workmen's compensation benefits. The delegates concurred in Senate amendments which considerably trimmed down the version passed earlier by the House.

The minimum weekly benefit rate will be increased from $20 to $22 and the maximum weekly rate will go from $33 to $35. The measure also calls for these increases in monthly rates: from $17.50 to $20 for dependent children, from $20 to $25 for orphaned children and from $50 to $60 for wholly dependent parents.

Move Points To Decrease In Tax Plan

Between $54,000 And $64,000 Would Be Chopped Off

Making major cutbacks in a five-year municipal improvement program he proposed earlier, Mayor Fred P. Lawrence asked Council Friday night to provide $260,000 in additional revenue for 1959, which probably could be raised with a city income tax of six tenths of one per cent.

The mayor's fund request was scaled down by $54,455, as he asked $314,455 additional in the first conference Monday night. It could have been financed by a tax of eight tenths of one per cent—identical to a measure voters repealed at the November general election.

BECAUSE ONLY five voting members were present last night, President B. E. Warner told the mayor Council could not arrive at a decision immediately on his request. However, the two members who missed the session will be asked to familiarize themselves with the new figures over the weekend to prepare for another discussion before Council's regular meeting Monday night, Warner said.

Mayor Lawrence asked Council Monday night for $922,886 in 1959 —$314,455 over actual expenditures in 1958. His revised program was presented last night because most councilmen indicated they would favor a program requiring a lower income tax rate, possibly six tenths of one per cent.

Items eliminated from the administration's five-year program to allow the reduction included:

A municipal garage with maintenance equipment for vehicles, $100,000.

A new North Side fire station, $40,000.

SANITARY SEWER trunk lines to serve the Gardendale and Sunnyside districts, $40,000 each or total of $80,000.

Annual equipment replacement funds totaling $27,000 for the fire, police and street departments.

Ten new fire hydrants, $30 00

However, there were some additions to the program as well as some minor changes in the proposals listed for Council Monday night.

To launch a citywide year-round recreation program, the mayor's new plan calls for $8,000 a year, $40,000 over the five-year period. He conceded that he overlooked recreation in presenting his plan Monday. No list of proposed recreation facilities is available pending more detailed study, but the plan now provides for a full-time director, the mayor said.

HE ALSO CALLED for additional off-street parking facilities as part of his revised program. However, no cost figure was included because a committee of citizens is working on a proposition that it will present to Council later, the Mayor indicated.

The committee hopes to be able to propose a plan that will be self-liquidating, possibly by establishment of metered lots, the mayor indicated.

He also added a $3,000 item for interest on a short-term loans that would be made to get the improvment program under way. The money would be borrowed against anticipated revenue from an income tax, the mayor explained. The same method was used to launch a 1958 street improvement program shortly after the income tax went into effect May 1.

The mayor also called for reestablishment of the post of a full-time dog warden, another job that was eliminated at the end of 1958 after repeal of the tax. The mayor mentioned no cost figures except to say about $1,800 would be required to purchase a new truck for the warden. The truck he used in 1958 has been turned over to the incinerator department to replace a wornout vehicle, he explained. The warden's post was not mentioned in the proposal Monday night.

ANOTHER NEW item is $2,800 for repair of the River Rd., damaged by a flood about two months ago.

The $64,852 reduction in the mayor's request was brought about by cutting the amount the city would need annually for the five-year improvement program.

The program he submitted Monday night would have required $213,000 annually over the five-year period. The present annual cost of the program is $149,000.

The mayor allowed to stand unchanged the $97,500 additional that would be required this year to hire more personnel and provide a general wage increase approximating 6 per cent for all employes.

His initial proposal called for hiring two more firemen, five additional policemen, eight street department workers and a "Meter Maid." Generally speaking, the additions would return the departments to the personnel levels at which they stood while the 1958 income tax was in effect.

LAST NIGHT'S revised plan calls for addition of three firemen—instead of two—but dropped the suggestion for adding a fifth "Meter Maid." Funds to continue the system of adult school crossing guards are provided for in the police department's budget, the mayor said.

The revised program submitted last night also calls for minor upward changes in the estimated costs of major rebuilding projects on St. Clair Ave., Anderson Blvd. and Avondale St.

The costs were pushed up slightly partly because the administration has discovered that the city borrowed $21,778 from the federal government shortly after World War II to finance preparation of plans for work on the three thoroughfares and several others, the mayor said.

The agreement with the federal government provided that all the planning funds must be repaid if the city goes ahead with any single street project, he explained.

Although the city expects to attempt to renegotiate the agreement with the federal government, the revised figures take into account the possibility of repaying the $21,778 loan, he explained.

THE CHANGE boosted from $294,000 to $320,000 the estimated cost of widening and concrete surfacing of St. Clair Ave. from Princeton Ave. to the city limits. Of the total, the city's share would be $184,640 — or $36,928 a year — and property-owners would be assessed approximately $10 a front foot, the mayor said.

The estimated cost of concrete surfacing of Avondale St. between Bank St. and Bradshaw Ave. has been pushed up from $40,000 to $50,000, the mayor said. The project also would include work on a faulty storm sewer which "blew up" in a torrential rain last summer and tore out about a block of brick paving, the mayor said.

The city would pay about $34,000 of the Avondale St. project, which would mean an assessment estimated at $8.40 a foot front for property-owners.

The Anderson Blvd. project's cost has been upped from $57,000 to $62,000, the mayor said. The city's share would be $36,000 and property-owners would pay about $5.26 a front foot. It calls for widening the street from 18 to 25 feet, with blacktop surfacing, curbing and drainage.

A FIVE-year program for blacktop resurfacing of streets is expected to cost $116,000 over 5 years. The city's share would be $67,000, or $13,411 a year, as it would pay the cost of intersections and a share of the balance.

The cost to property-owners, who would have to petition for the improvements, would be about $1 a square yard.

A program to install "blademix" blacktop on unsurfaced streets, also subject to property-owners' petitions, would cost about $96,180 over the 5 years. Property-owners would pay about 75 cents a front foot for the work, which would resemble the blacktop streets used in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships. The city's share, exclusive of labor, would be $17,432 over 5 years—or $3,486 annually. Labor costs already have been computed as part of street department expenses, the mayor said.

Other features in his program unchanged from the proposal Monday night are:

OILING ALL streets and alleys, $7,000 a year, paid entirely by the city; seal-coating blacktop streets, $9,800 a year, also paid entirely by the city; replacement of guardrails throughout the city, $58,000 over 5 years; new street department equipment totaling about $46,000; sewer cleaning equipment, $4,000; a radio system for the fire department, $250 a year; 1,600 feet of fire hose, $3,200; an incinerator department landfill, $30,000; preparation of a master plan, $30,000, and increasing insurance coverage, $2,500.

The mayor also renewed a request for a $20,000 fund to modernize and synchronize the city's traffic system, to allow smooth flow of autos, and $9,000 for general repair of City Hall, One major item is $1,500 to install new roofing and flashing, the mayor said.

In eliminating the Gardendale and Sunnyside trunk line sewer projects from the tax-financed improvement program, the administration expects they can be paid for out of sewage department revenue, the mayor said.

AFTER LISTING his revised program, the mayor commented that it would require "a tax of a minimum of six tenths of one per cent" for financing.

Warner responded that the final determination will depend upon whether the city uses a former estimate that it can expect $50,000 for each tenth of a per cent of tax or whether it establishes a rule-of-thumb of $40,000 per tenth, based on actual collections last year.

Using the alternative yardsticks, a tax of six tenths of one per cent would bring in $240,000 to $300,000 a year. Under the lesser estimate it would fall slightly short of providing the new funds the mayor requested. Under the $50,000 per tenth estimate, it would provide $300,000, or about $40,000 more than he asked.

Lawrence required 90 minutes to present his revised program. Then Warner said that Council probably could not reach a decision immediately because Councilman Samuel B. Webber and A. Stanley Kidder were absent.

WARNER SAID he will ask the two to familiarize themselves with the figures in order to join another discussion Monday night.

At the session last Monday, councilmen indicated they might adopt a program for 1959 and decide upon the amount of money required for it in time to consider a new income tax ordinance on first reading at a special meeting Monday night, March 23. No target date for the legislation was mentioned in last night's discussions.

Also attending were Councilmen William Y. Orr, Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw, W. E. Kaiser and H. A. Tullis and Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross and Engineer George S. Bloomgren.

Census Bureau To Ask Consumer Income Data

Special questions on consumer income, educational attainment, literacy, and family characteristics will be asked in the Census Bureau's current population survey, according to Edgar Bryan, supervisor of the bureau's regional office at Pittsburgh, which will participate.

The special questions will be in addition to the regular employment and unemployment inquiries which are asked each month in the current population survey.

The supervisor emphasized that all information about individuals furnished to the Census Bureau is held in confidence under federal law. It is used to obtain summary figures such as totals, averages and percentages for various groups in the population.

the machines, the rental price will apply towards the cost.

The conditional contract called for the machines to be paid off in 10 installments with a tenth of the total price within 15 days after the machines were delivered and a tenth each year thereafter until they are paid for. The contract also added a 4 per cent interest rate. The conditional contract was sent to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw for an opinion. He explained the terms to the commissioners.

The total price of 14 machines is $25,522.

During the commissioners meeting Thursday, Hunston made a motion to submit the voting machine issue at the November election. The motion died for want of a second. He then refused to sign the contract.

Under the contract, the company will also furnish an instructor and two machines so that voters can become familiar with their operation before the May primary.

"I've been a Red Cross Nurse ever since the Service was founded, 50 years ago," says Miss Frederika Farley. "I've seen it grow from a handful of nurses to the nationwide service it is today. It makes me proud and happy to have been a part of this great tradition."

On Duty—for 50 years...

The stirring history of the Red Cross Nursing Service—this year celebrating its 50th Anniversary—is excitingly told in the personal story of Frederika Farley, veteran Red Cross Nurse.

"I've lived Red Cross Nursing," says Miss Farley, "ever since, as a young nurse, I was sent by Red Cross to the only American hospital in Russia, during World War I. Later, I spent 33 years as head of the New York Red Cross Chapter's Home Nursing Service.

"During those years there was tremendous progress in medical knowledge and medical care, and the Red Cross Nursing Service changed with the times, accepting ever greater responsibilities.

"There was always some new challenge. Wars—three times in 50 years. Disasters. Epidemics.

"In 1912, Red Cross inaugurated its public health nursing program as Rural Nursing, a year later expanding it to more heavily populated communities. Public health nursing proved to be one of the most beneficial programs Red Cross pioneered on a national scale.

"When the demands on our hospitals during World War II created a critical shortage of professional nurses, we started training Nurse's Aides—a wonderfully successful and valuable Red Cross program.

"And when Red Cross set up a Blood Program which now handles over 2,000,000 pints of life-saving blood a year, the services of volunteer nurses became indispensable.

"It has been an inspiration to me to be among the pioneers in this great nursing service. I wish you could all know, as I do, the wonderful work Red Cross does with your dollars."

Yes—it is your dollars that have made the continuously expanding public service of Red Cross Nursing possible. Your dollars have kept the service on duty every day for 50 years.

In day to day community life, as in the sudden demands of emergencies, Red Cross Nurses carry on the highest traditions of the nursing profession. They deserve—and need—the support of every one of us. Let's be sure they have it.

Join Red Cross—America's great volunteer task force.

except to say about $1,800 would be required to purchase a new truck for the warden. The truck he used in 1958 has been turned over to the incinerator department to replace a wornout vehicle, he explained. The warden's post was not mentioned in the proposal Monday night.

—:—

ANOTHER NEW item is $2,800 for repair of the River Rd., damaged by a flood about two months ago.

The $64,852 reduction in the mayor's request was brought about by cutting the amount the city would need annually for the five-year improvement program.

The program he submitted Monday night would have required $213,000 annually over the five-year period. The present annual cost of the program is $149,000.

The mayor allowed to stand unchanged the $97,500 additional that would be required this year to hire more personnel and provide a general wage increase approximating 6 per cent for all employes.

His initial proposal called for hiring two more firemen, five additional policemen, eight street department workers and a "Meter Maid." Generally speaking, the additions would return the departments to the personnel levels at which they stood while the 1958 income tax was in effect.

LAST NIGHT'S revised plan calls for addition of three firemen—instead of two—but dropped the suggestion for adding a fifth "Meter Maid." Funds to continue the system of adult school crossing guards are provided for in the police department's budget, the mayor said.

The revised program submitted last night also calls for minor upward changes in the estimated costs of major rebuilding projects on St. Clair Ave., Anderson Blvd. and Avondale St.

The costs were pushed up slightly partly because the administration has discovered that the city borrowed $21,778 from the federal government shortly after World War II to finance preparation of plans for work on the three thoroughfares and several others, the mayor said.

The agreement with the federal government provided that all the planning funds must be repaid if the city goes ahead with any single street project, he explained.

Although the city expects to attempt to renegotiate the agreement with the federal government, the revised figures take into account the possibility of repaying the $21,778 loan, he explained.

THE CHANGE boosted from $294,000 to $320,000 the estimated cost of widening and concrete surfacing of St. Clair Ave. from Princeton Ave. to the city limits. Of the total, the city's share would be $184,640 — or $36,928 a year — and property-owners would be assessed approximately $10 a front foot, the mayor said.

The estimated cost of concrete surfacing of Avondale St. between Bank St. and Bradshaw Ave. has been pushed up from $40,000 to $50,000, the mayor said. The project also would include work on a faulty storm sewer which "blew up" in a torrential rain last summer and tore out about a block of brick paving, the mayor said.

The city would pay about $34,000 of the Avondale St. project, which would mean an assessment estimated at $8.40 a foot front for property-owners.

The Anderson Blvd. project's cost has been upped from $57,000 to $62,000, the mayor said. The city's share would be $36,000 and property-owners would pay about $5.26 a front foot. It calls for widening the street from 18 to 25 feet, with blacktop surfacing, curbing and drainage.

A FIVE-year program for blacktop resurfacing of streets is expected to cost $116,000 over 5 years. The city's share would be $67,000, or $13,411 a year, as it would pay the cost of intersections and a share of the balance.

The cost to property-owners, who would have to petition for the improvements, would be about $1 a square yard.

A program to install "blademix" blacktop on unsurfaced streets, also subject to property-owners' petitions, would cost about $96,180 over the 5 years. Property-owners would pay about 75 cents a front foot for the work, which would resemble the blacktop streets used in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships. The city's share, exclusive of labor, would be $17,432 over 5 years—or $3,486 annually. Labor costs already have been computed as part of street department expenses, the mayor said.

Other features in his program unchanged from the proposal Monday night are:

OILING ALL streets and alleys, $7,000 a year, paid entirely by the city; seal-coating blacktop streets, $9,800 a year, also paid entirely by the city; replacement of guardrails throughout the city, $58,000 over 5 years; new street department equipment totaling about $46,000; sewer cleaning equipment, $4,000; a radio system for the fire department, $250 a year; 1,600 feet of fire hose, $3,200; an incinerator department landfill, $30,000; preparation of a master plan, $30,000, and increasing insurance coverage, $2,500.

The mayor also renewed a request for a $20,000 fund to modernize and synchronize the city's traffic system, to allow smooth flow of autos, and $9,000 for general repair of City Hall, One major item is $1,500 to install new roofing and flashing, the mayor said.

In eliminating the Gardendale and Sunnyside trunk line sewer projects from the tax-financed improvement program, the administration expects they can be paid for out of sewage department revenue, the mayor said.

AFTER LISTING his revised program, the mayor commented that it would require "a tax of a minimum of six tenths of one per cent" for financing.

Warner responded that the final determination will depend upon whether the city uses a former estimate that it can expect $50,000 for each tenth of a per cent of tax or whether it establishes a rule-of-thumb of $40,000 per tenth, based on actual collections last year.

Using the alternative yardsticks, a tax of six tenths of one per cent would bring in $240,000 to $300,000 a year. Under the lesser estimate it would fall slightly short of providing the new funds the mayor requested. Under the $50,000 per tenth estimate, it would provide $300,000, or about $40,000 more than he asked.

Lawrence required 90 minutes to present his revised program. Then Warner said that Council probably could not reach a decision immediately because Councilman Samuel B. Webber and A. Stanley Kidder were absent.

WARNER SAID he will ask the two to familiarize themselves with the figures in order to join another discussion Monday night.

At the session last Monday, councilmen indicated they might adopt a program for 1959 and decide upon the amount of money required for it in time to consider a new income tax ordinance on first reading at a special meeting Monday night, March 23. No target date for the legislation was mentioned in last night's discussions.

Also attending were Councilmen William Y. Orr, Robert W. Sample Jr., George E. Willshaw, W. E. Kaiser and H. A. Tullis and Safety-Service Director Joseph F. Ross and Engineer George S. Bloomgren.

Census Bureau To Ask Consumer Income Data

Special questions on consumer income, educational attainment, literacy, and family characteristics will be asked in the Census Bureau's current population survey, according to Edgar Bryan, supervisor of the bureau's regional office at Pittsburgh, which will participate.

The special questions will be in addition to the regular employment and unemployment inquiries which are asked each month in the current population survey.

The supervisor emphasized that all information about individuals furnished to the Census Bureau is held in confidence under federal law. It is used to obtain summary figures such as totals, averages and percentages for various groups in the population.

the machines, the rental price will apply towards the cost.

The conditional contract called for the machines to be paid off in 10 installments with a tenth of the total price within 15 days after the machines were delivered and a tenth each year thereafter until they are paid for. The contract also added a 4 per cent interest rate. The conditional contract was sent to Prosecutor G. William Brokaw for an opinion. He explained the terms to the commissioners.

The total price of 14 machines is $25,522.

During the commissioners meeting Thursday, Hunston made a motion to submit the voting machine issue at the November election. The motion died for want of a second. He then refused to sign the contract.

Under the contract, the company will also furnish an instructor and two machines so that voters can become familiar with their operation before the May primary.

"I've been a Red Cross Nurse ever since the Service was founded, 50 years ago," says Miss Frederika Farley. "I've seen it grow from a handful of nurses to the nationwide service it is today. It makes me proud and happy to have been a part of this great tradition."

On Duty—for 50 years...

The stirring history of the Red Cross Nursing Service—this year celebrating its 50th Anniversary—is excitingly told in the personal story of Frederika Farley, veteran Red Cross Nurse.

"I've lived Red Cross Nursing," says Miss Farley, "ever since, as a young nurse, I was sent by Red Cross to the only American hospital in Russia, during World War I. Later, I spent 33 years as head of the New York Red Cross Chapter's Home Nursing Service.

"During those years there was tremendous progress in medical knowledge and medical care, and the Red Cross Nursing Service changed with the times, accepting ever greater responsibilities.

"There was always some new challenge. Wars—three times in 50 years. Disasters. Epidemics.

"In 1912, Red Cross inaugurated its public health nursing program as Rural Nursing, a year later expanding it to more heavily populated communities. Public health nursing proved to be one of the most beneficial programs Red Cross pioneered on a national scale.

"When the demands on our hospitals during World War II created a critical shortage of professional nurses, we started training Nurse's Aides—a wonderfully successful and valuable Red Cross program.

"And when Red Cross set up a Blood Program which now handles over 2,000,000 pints of life-saving blood a year, the services of volunteer nurses became indispensable.

"It has been an inspiration to me to be among the pioneers in this great nursing service. I wish you could all know, as I do, the wonderful work Red Cross does with your dollars."

Yes—it is your dollars that have made the continuously expanding public service of Red Cross Nursing possible. Your dollars have kept the service on duty every day for 50 years.

In day to day community life, as in the sudden demands of emergencies, Red Cross Nurses carry on the highest traditions of the nursing profession. They deserve—and need—the support of every one of us. Let's be sure they have it.

Join Red Cross—America's great volunteer task force.

Private Police Pay Increased

FOP Unit Sets Hike At 50 Cents Hourly

Rates for private police work were increased 50 cents an hour at a meeting of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 Friday night in the Diamond Alley lodge rooms.

The lodge approved a motion fixing the rate at $2.50 an hour with a minimum of 4 hours work, which would guarantee payment of $10 for the private work.

The private work covers the off-duty employment of police officers, such as athletic events and service for private organizations.

The previous rate was $2, also with a minimum of 4 hours' work, and was in effect for about 8 years.

The lodge also approved donations to the Red Cross and the Band and Orchestra Mothers.

Mike Winters, chairman, reported on arrangements for the annual Policemen's Ball on May 6 at the Elks ballroom.

Plans also were made to order new insignia patches for summer uniforms. Officers will begin wearing summer outfits on Memorial Day.

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Before Erickson Treatment

A Few Months Later

Thomas A. Melton Jr. of Hollidaysburg, Pennsylvania (above) shows he re-grew hair by the Erickson Home Treatment method.

Scalp Specialist Here Tomorrow; Will Show How To Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

Now is the time to carry out that long delayed resolution to "Do something about your hair."

Tomorrow only, March 15. in East Liverpool, Ohio. at the Travelers Hotel, Staff Director J. M. Botkins . . . representing the famous Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:30 p. m. Now in its seventh consecutive year, the Erickson organization makes regular visits to your city throughout the year.

CHECK YOURSELF
Make this simple test
( ) Excessive dandruff
( ) Itchy scalp
( ) Excessive oiliness
( ) Excessive dryness
( ) Too much hair in comb
( ) Too much hair fall in shampoo
( ) Hair thin at temples or crown
If you have checked even ONE of these items, make plans now to see Mr. J. M. BOTKINS.

Don't Put It Off

Now is the time to act while results of this simple test are fresh in your mind.

Don't be misled by the old wive's tales about no prevention for baldness being possible; baldness being hereditary; maturity being the age of baldness. Modern research has turned up methods of helping tens of thousands to prevent baldness—methods so simple that you can put them in practice at home.

Examination Free

You incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination. Your only obligation is to yourself. We'll tell you frankly if there's no chance of helping you. We do not accept helpless cases. Less than 3% of those who used the Erickson home treatment requested a refund.

Written Guarantee

You will be given a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within the first 30 days or your money will be refunded.

For your FREE hair and scalp examination, go to the Travelers Hotel between 1:00 and 8:30 p. m. Sunday only, March 15, and ask for the room number of Mr. J. M. Botkins. He does not make appointments, so come at your convenience. Examinations are all given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Private Police Pay Increased

FOP Unit Sets Hike At 50 Cents Hourly

Rates for private police work were increased 50 cents an hour at a meeting of Fraternal Order of Police Lodge 29 Friday night in the Diamond Alley lodge rooms.

The lodge approved a motion fixing the rate at $2.50 an hour with a minimum of 4 hours work, which would guarantee payment of $10 for the private work.

The private work covers the off-duty employment of police officers, such as athletic events and service for private organizations.

The previous rate was $2, also with a minimum of 4 hours' work, and was in effect for about 8 years.

The lodge also approved donations to the Red Cross and the Band and Orchestra Mothers.

Mike Winters, chairman, reported on arrangements for the annual Policemen's Ball on May 6 at the Elks ballroom.

Plans also were made to order new insignia patches for summer uniforms. Officers will begin wearing summer outfits on Memorial Day.

W. A. Devon, president, presided.

HE RE-GREW HAIR

Before Erickson Treatment

A Few Months Later

Thomas A. Melton Jr. of Hollidaysburg, Pennsylvania (above) shows he re-grew hair by the Erickson Home Treatment method.

Scalp Specialist Here Tomorrow; Will Show How To Save Hair and Prevent Baldness

Now is the time to carry out that long delayed resolution to "Do something about your hair."

Tomorrow only, March 15, in East Liverpool, Ohio, at the Travelers Hotel, Staff Director J. M. Botkins . . . representing the famous Erickson Hair & Scalp Specialists, will personally examine hair-worried men and women from 1:00 to 8:30 p. m. Now in its seventh consecutive year, the Erickson organization makes regular visits to your city throughout the year.

CHECK YOURSELF
Make this simple test
( ) Excessive dandruff
( ) Itchy scalp
( ) Excessive oiliness
( ) Excessive dryness
( ) Too much hair in comb
( ) Too much hair fall in shampoo
( ) Hair thin at temples or crown

If you have checked even ONE of these items, make plans now to see Mr. J. M. BOTKINS.

Don't Put It Off

Now is the time to act while results of this simple test are fresh in your mind.

Don't be misled by the old wive's tales about no prevention for baldness being possible; baldness being hereditary; maturity being the age of baldness. Modern research has turned up methods of helping tens of thousands to prevent baldness—methods so simple that you can put them in practice at home.

Examination Free

You incur absolutely no charge or obligation by coming in for an examination. Your only obligation is to yourself. We'll tell you frankly if there's no chance of helping you. We do not accept helpless cases. Less than 3% of those who used the Erickson home treatment requested a refund.

Written Guarantee

You will be given a written guarantee that you must be satisfied within the first 30 days or your money will be refunded.

For your FREE hair and scalp examination, go to the Travelers Hotel between 1:00 and 8:30 p. m. Sunday only, March 15, and ask for the room number of Mr. J. M. Botkins. He does not make appointments, so come at your convenience. Examinations are all given in private. You will not be embarrassed in any way.

Getting Acquainted With Hawaii

Naturally, all of us want to make Hawaii feel at home in the Union and will try to do so to the limit of our ability and imagination.

The first thing will be to get acquainted, and in this respect the Hawaiians will have a marked advantage. Everybody wants to visit them. They have well advertised attractions.

Their climate is, of course, thrice-blessed. It does not snow, and it does not get cold. Sometimes it blows, and sometimes it rains—but just enough to create some of the world's most gorgeous flowers and greenery. The women are beautiful, the men are good looking, and the music is languorous. There is no race prejudice, because the races are criss-crossed in such a complex way that no one dares to hate anyone else.

There is the surf pounding on the beaches, the hula is pulsating 'neath the royal palms and pineapples grow all around. One way and another, Hawaii will give the Union something it needs, now that almost everybody has learned about Florida and California — an exotic state. All of us will count the days until we can wear a lei and ride a surfboard. From now on, the pineapple will be a patriotic dish.

But will the Hawaiians want to get acquainted with the other states and their denizens? It is not an unfair question to ask, because there is no denying the fact they live off by themselves, whereas the rest of us have been accustomed to move freely from one state to another in our travels. A trip to Hawaii has a prize at the end of the journey. But how will Hawaiians feel about a trip to Ohio, for instance?

Would they like to see what it is like when we are having a blizzard, with the beautiful snow forming huge piles called "drifts"?

Would they like to see how we heat our houses and keep ourselves warm when the temperature drops to minus zero? Would they like to see a sleet storm?

Seriously, they probably would like to see an apple orchard in bloom, a sugar grove during a spring snowstorm, acres of hybrid corn starting to tassel, a dairy farm, some of our factories and a late September landscape.

They would like to see our schools, our colleges and some of our better looking stores. And they would like to see Ohio's good looking women and its handsome men, though if they stay put they will see a great many of them in the course of welcoming tourists on incoming planes and ships.

The idea is that we are in the Union together now and must learn to live with one another. Since first impressions are important, we'll promise not to arrive in Hawaii during the typhoon season if the Hawaiians will promise not to drop in on us during a winter storm.

Wait until after the middle of June, when it will be summer.

Nevertheless, The Auto Is Here To Stay

There will be, in all probability, at least one more crippling snowstorm before the roses bloom. Some of Ohio's heaviest snowfalls have occurred in April.

Before the grief that goes with snowfall has ceased for another year, an acknowledgement should be made. Most of the grief has been brought on us by the automobile. Before we depended on it to get where we wanted to go in a hurry, a snowstorm was just a detail of winter weather.

Occasionally, a railroad train was stalled if the snow was deep enough. But there was no general panic until the automobile came along with its spinning wheels, skidding proclivities and extended range of transportation.

The last was to prove the most troublesome. Before the automobile, no one planned to go any further than the range of a horse, counting the distance there and back. What was to become a half-hour spin in an automobile was an all-day trip in a horse and buggy and a stiff journey on horseback. No one went anywhere in much of a hurry in the horse era.

The range was not shrunk to any important extent by snow. This may surprise the generation that hasn't yet discovered how clever the old-timers were, but they had a trick of taking off wheels, and putting on runners when it snowed; a horse pulled one as easily as the other.

Life went on as usual. Schools stayed open. No one waited for the snow plow. It would have been against the general welfare to fool with snow in the streets, because the idea was to pack the snow into a slippery mat for bobsleds and sleigh. They made special ice caulks for horseshoes, by the way.

Another thing they did — and this was clever too — was to plow sidewalks. A sturdy horse, a driver and a wedge-shaped plow could clean off every sidewalk in a small town before time for lunch.

There was no air of emergency, no gulping with anxiety for fear the roads and streets would be snowed under, no cancelling of engagements and no squealing of spinning wheels — the 20th century shriek of frustration.

Snow used to be fun. Everybody talked about how it was good for the wheat, instead of how it was bad for automobiles. No doubt about it, the horseless carriage is here to stay, but there are snowy days when millions wonder why.

Meanwhile, Back At The Ranch

With the best intentions imaginable, the managers of the American National Exhibition in Moscow this coming summer are going to lead Ivan and Petrushka Nyet, the Joe and Susie Doakes of galloping socialism, down the garden path.

The exhibit will feature a ranch home of the type currently fashionable in U.S. suburbia, and unavoidably Ivan and Petrushka will think this is the way all of us capitalist beats seek shelter. That is, of course, the whole idea, because Russians as a whole never dreamed of anything so flossy as a ranch house. Not uncommonly, whole families of Russians live in a single room in city apartments and in rural houses that would be little more than tool sheds in the United States. Suburbia is still in the future in Russia.

But not all of us capitalist beasts live in ranch houses; that should be made clear to Russian visitors at the American National Exhibition. It would not be practical to show them all the other kinds of houses we have here, but there might be a few photographs and floor plans to give them the general idea.

For example, there is one kind of U.S. dwelling that might be called the original split-level job. It was split four ways—basement, first floor, second floor and attic. Sometimes the attic actually was a third floor, fixed up for occupancy.

The point to be made for Ivan and Petrushka is that millions of us made our start in the world in houses like that and many of us still like the arrangement. In fact, we think it may tell something about our national character that we find it agreeable to have the privacy that is one of the inalienable rights of homo Americanus.

There are even times when we think the four-way split level might become a fad again, as it did centuries ago when the early settlers tired of their one-floor quarters.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The female of the species is getting tougher. We have had an epidemic of bank stickups by grandmas. It's been followed by glamor doll "hoists." In a Western bank robbery the lady bandit was so easy on the eyes that the descriptions by the bank clerks and police read like something out of a style show. Capture was made by police boarding a bus and grabbing the most beautiful passenger. Possible description of a bank robbery any day now:

"Most stylish bank stickup in a season of smart jobs was executed by a bewitching blonde with sensational allure. The culprit wore a suit incorporating Paris trends in a pencil striped creation of navy wool and orlon.

"Her coat was of rich ottoman, with cardigan neckline, designed by Balenciaga. Her costume was accentuated by one of the new straw hats by Castillo, with a crown of pale printed pique. The doll carried a note, written on imported linen and a six-shooter of smart design, the creation of a top Parisian munitions house.

"WITH A DELIGHTFUL SMILE she handed the note 'I mean business. Hand over the dough' to the cashier who was so dazzled he gave her $5,000 in the newest bills wrapped in cellophane and bound by pink ribbons. On the wrapping were the lines: 'When as in silks my Julia goes, no bank a great resistance shows.'

"The dream girl bandit left by a side door. Button pressing was by Cashier No. 3. Gong by National Alarm Inc. Police whistles by Guards McDooley and Schwartz. The police wore black ties. The event concluded with fingerprinting luncheon. The charming bandit was placed in one of the elite hoosegow cells, entering on the arm of Warden Jones carrying keys of the Bastille period. He wore a plain sack suit with diamonds."

THE CRACK OF THE YEAR by George Gobel speaking of possible TV offers, "Twenty-five million here and 25 million there can run into money."

Three-dollar mutual ticket to replace $2 type, due to inflation, is being proposed. This can bring perils of inflation to lots of folks who have not been previously concerned. They knew inflation was affecting food, rent, clothing and general battle for survival but didn't realize it might hit last - minute switches and bets on a slow horse. (Seems it costs more to print a $2 ticket now and more to sweep it up.)

Minnie Minoso says Castro kept him from showing up on time for the baseball season at Tucson. He was sent to Venezuela as a Cuban good-will ambassador. He was fined $500. Management was lucky Minoso didn't report for training in a full beard.

Yale has two campus radio stations now broadcasting 1 p.m. to 2 a.m., to 250,000 over radius of 25 miles. (No jamming yet by Harvard?) The danger in this sort of thing is that a student may want to get a diploma based on fan mail instead of marks.

Odd Facts

The average American eats about 1,540 pounds of food in a year—this including about 151 pounds of meat, 315 pounds of vegetables, 397 eggs, 352 pounds of milk and cream.

A piece of human skin, about as large as a postage stamp, contains three million cells, one yard of blood vessels, four yards of nerves, 100 sweat glands, 15 oil glands, and 25 nerve ends.

The only state of the United States whose law is not based on the English Common Law is Louisiana, whose statutes are founded on the Napoleonic Code.

The Power Of Faith

By Howard Brodie

PASSION SUNDAY

Just below the Golden Gate in the wall of Jerusalem is the little Valley of Kidron. Across the stream that flows through the valley floor and partway up the gentle lower slope of the Mount of Olives lies the Garden of Gethsemane.

It was in the Garden of Gethsemane that Jesus, saddened in the knowledge that He was about to be betrayed, withdrew from His disciples to a flat, light-colored rocky outcropping and prayed, saying:

"Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done.

Berlin May Affect Steel Talks

By Victor Riesel

That man with the built-in crises, Nikita Khrushchev, may yet force Dwight D. Eisenhower to change the White House policy of neutrality in labor-industry feuds. To a handful of observers in and about the White House, this appears almost inevitable early this summer.

Victor Riesel

The President, who long ago ordered his staff and the Pentagon to stay out of strike crises, may nonetheless be forced to move into the steel field to prevent a shutdown at the very moment when Khrushchev threatens to shut off Berlin.

In the past few days, it has come as a shock to the four or five men who make policy for Big Steel and the big Steel Workers Union that their own critical timetable is paralleled by the Kremlin's action timetable as steadily as two rails on a track.

Contracts covering the 600,000 men in the critical steel industry expire June 30. Khrushchev has set May 27 as ultimatum time in Berlin.

ON MAY 21, the big steel negotiating delegates will gather in New York's Hotel Roosevelt for the opening mass talks which will run through the summer—and which many have said will be dramatically disrupted by a two month strike.

Just about that day, exactly six blocks east, big delegations to the United Nations will be talking heatedly about the Berlin cold war—in the ice-cake type building known as the U.N.

In Washington, there will be talk of American mobilization. At the Hotel Roosevelt there will most certainly be talk of another kind of mobilization—of pickets, of AFL-CIO Community Services strike relief kitchens and counseling aid.

There will be industry talk of standing fast against David McDonald's United Steelworkers' demands for a big cash package, for a new type of three month sabbatical vacation in the mills or a shorter work week, for special Saturday and Sunday weekend pay, for a new kind of medical care, for new handling of the cost-of-living hikes and for bigger pensions.

THE UNION will say that it cannot retreat from these demands.

You will hear union charges that they are being "cooperized." This will be a reference to a veteran industry negotiator of whom the public has yet heard little. He is Conrad Cooper, sophisticated, hard-bargaining, well-informed, executive vice president of U.S. Steel Corp. He will be the chief spokesman for a small committee speaking for some 11 large steel corporations.

There are informed insiders who are saying that the union will accept a seven to 10 cents an hour—a $3 to $4 a week—cash increase in addition to other benefits.

There are informed insiders who say that the industry will not meet this figure. They report that the industry will come to the bargaining rooms with no counter offer at first—but negotiate penny by penny.

No piggy bank matter, these pennies. Each penny increase per man per hour—or every 40 cents a week—will cost the industry 30 million dollars a year, according to Roger Blough, chairman of the board of U.S. Steel. Mr. McDonald, speaking for the men of the steel mills, retorts that each penny will cost nine million dollars a year. Either way that's a lot of coin.

INDUSTRY SOURCES make no secret of the fact that they will not pay anything like the union's demands. There is no doubt that the union's strike threat is serious. It has ordered its third and fourth echelon people to prepare for a stoppage.

However, deep in the carpeted corners of both sides' high commands there now is some talk of an effort to get together before the Berlin crisis cracks wide open—and settle the contracts without a walkout. But remember they fought it out in a seven week strike during "Korea" in '52.

Harry Truman moved then. Dwight Eisenhower may have to move now—for as steel goes, so goes the nation.

Why A Two-Term Limit?

By Raymond Moley

I can see no reason, except making publicity, why former President Truman and others are talking about repealing the 22nd Amendment to the Constitution, which limits a president to two terms. Perhaps such a discussion is wholly political and academic. But since memories are short, it may well be useful to review some of the reasons entertained by responsible people who, through the ponderous process of amendment, were able to get the limitation through Congress and the states.

THE REASONS for such a limitation are historical, psychological, and physical:

The Roman Republic, whose laws and traditions were admired for many centuries after the Caesars destroyed it, was zealous about preventing a chief of state from retaining his power too long.

It was provided that whenever a head of state should, because of war or other peril, become a dictator, how power should be limited strictly to the emergency. This fear of continued power no doubt was based upon the same consideration of the dangers of personal power held by the founders of the American republic.

It is true, as was argued in 1940 and 1941, that Washington did not give this danger as his reason for establishing the two-term tradition. But the fact is that he did retire after eight years, just as he relinquished his military power at the conclusion of Revolutionary hostilities earlier.

Jefferson was more specific. He deplored the failure of the Constitution to prohibit a third term and argued cogently for the limitation by custom and tradition. Jackson was equally positive, recommending in six of his eight messages a constitutional amendment limiting a president to one term of four or six years.

SUCH OPINIONS of men acquainted with the ways of power with human beings were based on what we now call psychological considerations. Power is a heady narcotic. The more power vested in a man, the more his mind will be closed to the healthy atmosphere of reality. He sees few who are either not subject to his will or who do not want to gain something by flattery.

Gradually he identifies his wishes with the will of the people.

Finally, he believes that whatever he says is true. Because of this human frailty, the principle of a government of laws, not man, was established and constitutions were made.

Napoleon and Hitler, ignoring the fact of weather and the advice of their intimates, destroyed themselves in Russia. The mania is a failure of judgment not unlike insanity.

Increasingly, the presidents of the United States have gathered more power to themselves. They have more to spend, more to command and supervise, more honors to bestow, more flunkies and more flatterers. Government burgeons beyond any dreams of the past.

THIS MEANS more pressure upon them. More drain on their physical being. Surely, the experience of Presidents Roosevelt and Eisenhower, with the limitations of their physical resources, should teach this lesson to all of us.

The increasing physical drain on presidents as the generations pass is revealed in some figures.

The presidents before Lincoln lived an average of 75 years. They survived the presidency an average of 12 years. Since Lincoln, the average age at death has dropped to 62. The years remaining after leaving office is now six. Meanwhile, as acturial tables tell us, the average for us all is years greater.

But behind the reality of a crumbling physique lies always a delusion that presidents are indispensable. The reality is that the job is indispensable to their own satisfactions and wishes.

Indispensability is what anyone may call it. Surely the man himself should not be the judge. That should be embodied in law. The 22nd Amendment is that law.

'Electronic Voting'

By Duane Croft

A Detailed Look At The Coyle Machine

COLUMBUS

Chances are that the 103rd General Assembly will bring the age of electronics to voting in Ohio.

The Democratic - controlled Senate during the week approved and sent to the House a bill to permit the use of the punch-card balloting system developed by Butler County Republican Chairman Martin A. Coyle.

Sponsorship of both the Senate measure and its House companion is shared by a Democrat and a Republican in each chamber and election officials of both political faiths are enthusiastic over the prospect of a relatively inexpensive means of mechanical voting.

SIMILAR legislation passed the House two years ago, when the Republicans were in charge, but got bogged down in the last-minute rush of the Senate's closing days. This time, the bills have a two-month head start.

"Inexpensive" is the key to the key to the attraction the Coyle machine holds for people interested in faster, more efficient voting.

Balloting machines have existed for some time, and no one argues with their advantages.

The conventional machines are fast and efficient. They permit fair notation of names on ballots just as paper ballots do and provide for write-ins. And they are as tamper-proof and mistake-proof as any voting system yet devised.

But they are expensive. Initial purchase price is in the neighborhood of $1,800 apiece and the machines are cumbersome to store and to transport to and from polling places. This adds up to a prohibitive cost for most communities.

THE COYLE SYSTEM offers a compromise. It requires more ballot handling and therefore slower processing than existing machines, but its cost is low enough to be within the reach of many areas that have not been able to afford the conventional machines.

Purchase price is put at $500 to $600. Weighing only 35 pounds each, two of them can be carried easily by a husky man. Measuring 8½ inches wide, 15½ inches deep and 21½ inches high, lots of them can be stored in a relatively small space.

Although the ballots must be sorted and checked at the precinct for write-ins, counting is done on automatic tabulating machines at a central location at the rate of 100 cards or an average of 1,000 votes a minute.

THE VOTES from an entire county could be tallied in a fraction of the time required in the hand-marked, paper-ballot system.

In addition, the county or city would not necessarily have to buy the tabulating machines. Ballots are designed for a number of standard electronic counters which could be rented — or even borrowed from civic - minded local companies which own them.

Proponents of the Coyle machine emphasize that another advantage over conventional machines is that the permanent ballots can be filed for rechecking.

(Can be filed for rechecking.)

The Coyle process works like this:

The voter is given a ballot similar to the present paper ballot except that it is stiff like a card and printed in smaller type.

In the voting booth, he inserts the card in the machine. If the card is out of position, a red light glows as on a tilted pinball machine. If the card is right, it is locked securely in position.

THE VOTER sees the card through a window that magnifies the type to the size used on paper ballots. He turns a knob until the name of the candidate he favors is before him and then pushes a button. A hole is punched beside the name.

If the voter makes a mistake, he folds the card, returns it to the precinct officials and gets another.

If he wants to write in the name of a candidate whose name is not printed on the ballot, he does so after he finishes his punch voting and removes the card from the machine. A special place for write-ins is provided.

When he is finished voting, he puts his ballots in a simple envelope to safeguard the secrecy of his decision and the envelope is dropped into the ballot box.

AFTER THE POLLS close, the two judges and two clerks (two additional judges are required under the present paper-ballot system) remove the ballots from the envelopes and sort them, recording the write-in votes.

Then two of the officials, one of each party, take the ballots to a central spot, where they are fed into the automatic tabulators and counted in a matter of minutes.

Here voting errors are detected. If, for instance, a voter were permitted to vote for four names in a list of candidates but punched five holes, the machine as required under the present law, would not count any of the votes. But it would mark them with the traditional "X." Those votes are cast in advance. Such ballots would be kept and counted as they are now after the polls close.

COYLE AND HIS supporters insist that the process is foolproof and that provision has been made for every contigency in voting.

They estimate that one counter could handle about 50 precincts. They argue that cities or counties which bought the tabulators could save additional money by using them for other than vote-counting purposes.

The bills now in the Assembly do not, of course, require use of the Coyle machines. They simply would allow it. Communities also would be permitted to buy, rent or borrow some of the machines to try them out before making a final decision.

The outlook is good that Ohio communities will be given the opportunity to investigate the Coyle system further. If so, they will be the first in the nation to get a crack at "electronic voting."

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Woodbine Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. opened its new $30,000 fire-proof plant at Pennsylvania Ave., East End.

Twenty-five members of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, attended the exemplification of the Legion of Honor degree at the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh.

Earl A. Wilson was elected secretary and Harvey S. Hobbs treasurer during a special meeting of the directors of the Chester Board of Trade.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — More than 150 Odd Fellows from district lodges attended a rally in the Temple on W. 6th St.

Mrs. Everett R. Chandler, president of the East Liverpool Federation of Women's Clubs, addressed members of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, at a meeting in Mary Patterson Memorial.

TEN YEARS AGO — David W. Skeen was re-elected president of the East Liverpool Civic Music Association.

Special services in observance of the Festival of Purim were conducted by the congregation of B'nai Jacob Synagogue.

Some 1,000 persons helped East Liverpool area Girl Scouts observe their 37th birthday.

The Conestoga Horse

Once king of the road, the Conestoga horse was perhaps the closest approach ever made to a true native American breed of draft horse.

Thousands of Conestogas plodded the high roads of the Colonies, hauling the towering, sway-backed wagons which gave them their name. They were mentioned in the animal report of the United States Commissioner of Agriculture as late as 1863. Today, the Department of Agriculture reports that the Conestoga horse no longer exists.

Never a true breed, with reasonably stable characteristics, the Conestoga horse was developed to meet a specific need.

Undoubtedly the most efficient freight hauler of its time, the Conestoga wagon was originated in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, by German settlers along the valley of Conestoga Creek. It probably was patterned on English-style farm wagons.

Superbly built, the Contestoga wagon's prime virtue lay in its light weight and immense strength, coupled with an efficient design that curved the wagon bed to keep cargo from shifting on the rugged roads.

European draft horses were excellent for pulling heavy loads relatively short distances over paved roads, but they proved unsuitable for the great distances and dreadful roads of the Colonies. The Conestoga Valley farmer's riding horse, which also pulled his buggy and worked in the fields, was too light and lacked the stamina for the job.

The longest game in major league, baseball was played between Brooklyn and Boston in 1920. The game ended in a 1-1 tie after 26 innings.

The only time that trading on the New York Stock Exchange was officially conducted after regular hours was October 26, 1943 — because of an air raid drill.

Getting Acquainted With Hawaii

Naturally, all of us want to make Hawaii feel at home in the Union and will try to do so to the limit of our ability and imagination.

The first thing will be to get acquainted, and in this respect the Hawaiians will have a marked advantage. Everybody wants to visit them. They have well advertised attractions.

Their climate is, of course, thrice-blessed. It does not snow, and it does not get cold. Sometimes it blows, and sometimes it rains—but just enough to create some of the world's most gorgeous flowers and greenery. The women are beautiful, the men are good looking, and the music is languorous. There is no race prejudice, because the races are crisscrossed in such a complex way that no one dares to hate anyone else.

There is the surf pounding on the beaches, the hula is pulsating 'neath the royal palms and pineapples grow all around. One way and another, Hawaii will give the Union something it needs, now that almost everybody has learned about Florida and California — an exotic state. All of us will count the days until we can wear a lei and ride a surfboard. From now on, the pineapple will be a patriotic dish.

But will the Hawaiians want to get acquainted with the other states and their denizens? It is not an unfair question to ask, because there is no denying the fact they live off by themselves, whereas the rest of us have been accustomed to move freely from one state to another in our travels. A trip to Hawaii has a prize at the end of the journey. But how will Hawaiians feel about a trip to Ohio, for instance?

Would they like to see what it is like when we are having a blizzard, with the beautiful snow forming huge piles called "drifts"?

Would they like to see how we heat our houses and keep ourselves warm when the temperature drops to minus zero? Would they like to see a sleet storm?

Seriously, they probably would like to see an apple orchard in bloom, a sugar grove during a spring snowstorm, acres of hybrid corn starting to tassel, a dairy farm, some of our factories and a late September landscape.

They would like to see our schools, our colleges and some of our better looking stores. And they would like to see Ohio's good looking women and its handsome men, though if they stay put they will see a great many of them in the course of welcoming tourists on incoming planes and ships.

The idea is that we are in the Union together now and must learn to live with one another. Since first impressions are important, we'll promise not to arrive in Hawaii during the typhoon season if the Hawaiians will promise not to drop in on us during a winter storm.

Wait until after the middle of June, when it will be summer.

Nevertheless, The Auto Is Here To Stay

There will be, in all probability, at least one more crippling snowstorm before the roses bloom. Some of Ohio's heaviest snowfalls have occurred in April.

Before the grief that goes with snowfall has ceased for another year, an acknowledgement should be made. Most of the grief has been brought on us by the automobile. Before we depended on it to get where we wanted to go in a hurry, a snowstorm was just a detail of winter weather.

Occasionally, a railroad train was stalled if the snow was deep enough. But there was no general panic until the automobile came along with its spinning wheels, skidding proclivities and extended range of transportation.

The last was to prove the most troublesome. Before the automobile, no one planned to go any further than the range of a horse, counting the distance there and back. What was to become a half-hour spin in an automobile was an all-day trip in a horse and buggy and a stiff journey on horseback. No one went anywhere in much of a hurry in the horse era.

The range was not shrunk to any important extent by snow. This may surprise the generation that hasn't yet discovered how clever the old-timers were, but they had a trick of taking off wheels, and putting on runners when it snowed; a horse pulled one as easily as the other.

Life went on as usual. Schools stayed open. No one waited for the snow plow. It would have been against the general welfare to fool with snow in the streets, because the idea was to pack the snow into a slippery mat for bobsleds and sleigh. They made special ice caulks for horseshoes, by the way.

Another thing they did — and this was clever too — was to plow sidewalks. A sturdy horse, a driver and a wedge-shaped plow could clean off every sidewalk in a small town before time for lunch.

There was no air of emergency, no gulping with anxiety for fear the roads and streets would be snowed under, no cancelling of engagements and no squealing of spinning wheels — the 20th century shriek of frustration.

Snow used to be fun. Everybody talked about how it was good for the wheat, instead of how it was bad for automobiles. No doubt about it, the horseless carriage is here to stay, but there are snowy days when millions wonder why.

Meanwhile, Back At The Ranch

With the best intentions imaginable, the managers of the American National Exhibition in Moscow this coming summer are going to lead Ivan and Petrushka Nyet, the Joe and Susie Doakes of galloping socialism, down the garden path.

The exhibit will feature a ranch home of the type currently fashionable in U.S. suburbia, and unavoidably Ivan and Petrushka will think this is the way all of us capitalist beats seek shelter. That is, of course, the whole idea, because Russians as a whole never dreamed of anything so flossy as a ranch house. Not uncommonly, whole families of Russians live in a single room in city apartments and in rural houses that would be little more than tool sheds in the United States. Suburbia is still in the future in Russia.

But not all of us capitalist beasts live in ranch houses; that should be made clear to Russian visitors at the American National Exhibition. It would not be practical to show them all the other kinds of houses we have here, but there might be a few photographs and floor plans to give them the general idea.

For example, there is one kind of U.S. dwelling that might be called the original split-level job. It was split four ways—basement, first floor, second floor and attic. Sometimes the attic actually was a third floor, fixed up for occupancy.

The point to be made for Ivan and Petrushka is that millions of us made our start in the world in houses like that and many of us still like the arrangement. In fact, we think it may tell something about our national character that we find it agreeable to have the privacy that is one of the inalienable rights of homo Americanus.

There are even times when we think the four-way split level might become a fad again, as it did centuries ago when the early settlers tired of their one-floor quarters.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

The female of the species is getting tougher. We have had an epidemic of bank stickups by grandmas. It's been followed by glamor doll "hoists." In a Western bank robbery the lady bandit was so easy on the eyes that the descriptions by the bank clerks and police read like something out of a style show. Capture was made by police boarding a bus and grabbing the most beautiful passenger. Possible description of a bank robbery any day now:

"Most stylish bank stickup in a season of smart jobs was executed by a bewitching blonde with sensational allure. The culprit wore a suit incorporating Paris trends in a pencil striped creation of navy wool and orlon.

"Her coat was of rich ottoman, with cardigan neckline, designed by Balenciaga. Her costume was accentuated by one of the new straw hats by Castillo, with a crown of pale printed pique. The doll carried a note, written on imported linen and a six-shooter of smart design, the creation of a top Parisian munitions house.

"WITH A DELIGHTFUL SMILE she handed the note 'I mean business. Hand over the dough' to the cashier who was so dazzled he gave her $5,000 in the newest bills wrapped in cellophane and bound by pink ribbons. On the wrapping were the lines: 'When as in silks my Julia goes, no bank a great resistance shows.'

"The dream girl bandit left by a side door. Button pressing was by Cashier No. 3. Gong by National Alarm Inc. Police whistles by Guards McDooley and Schwartz. The police wore black ties. The event concluded with fingerprinting luncheon. The charming bandit was placed in one of the elite hoosegow cells, entering on the arm of Warden Jones carrying keys of the Bastille period. He wore a plain sack suit with diamonds."

THE CRACK OF THE YEAR by George Gobel speaking of possible TV offers, "Twenty-five million here and 25 million there can run into money."

Three-dollar mutual ticket to replace $2 type, due to inflation, is being proposed. This can bring perils of inflation to lots of folks who have not been previously concerned. They knew inflation was affecting food, rent, clothing and general battle for survival but didn't realize it might hit last - minute switches and bets on a slow horse. (Seems it costs more to print a $2 ticket now and more to sweep it up.)

Minnie Minoso says Castro kept him from showing up on time for the baseball season at Tucson. He was sent to Venezuela as a Cuban good-will ambassador. He was fined $500. Management was lucky Minoso didn't report for training in a full beard.

Yale has two campus radio stations now broadcasting 1 p.m. to 2 a.m., to 250,000 over radius of 25 miles. (No jamming yet by Harvard?) The danger in this sort of thing is that a student may want to get a diploma based on fan mail instead of marks.

Odd Facts

The average American eats about 1,540 pounds of food in a year—this including about 151 pounds of meat, 315 pounds of vegetables, 397 eggs, 352 pounds of milk and cream.

A piece of human skin, about as large as a postage stamp, contains three million cells, one yard of blood vessels, four yards of nerves, 100 sweat glands, 15 oil glands, and 25 nerve ends.

The only state of the United States whose law is not based on the English Common Law is Louisiana, whose statutes are founded on the Napoleonic Code.

The Democratic - controlled Senate during the week approved and sent to the House a bill to permit the use of the punch-card balloting system developed by Butler County Republican Chairman Martin A. Coyle.

Sponsorship of both the Senate measure and its House companion is shared by a Democrat and a Republican in each chamber and election officials of both political faiths are enthusiastic over the prospect of a relatively inexpensive means of mechanical voting.

SIMILAR legislation passed the House two years ago, when the Republicans were in charge, but got bogged down in the last-minute rush of the Senate's closing days. This time, the bills have a two-month head start.

"Inexpensive" is the key to the key to the attraction the Coyle machine holds for people interested in faster, more efficient voting.

Balloting machines have existed for some time, and no one argues with their advantages.

The conventional machines are fast and efficient. They permit fair notation of names on ballots just as paper ballots do and provide for write-ins. And they are as tamper-proof and mistake-proof as any voting system yet devised.

But they are expensive. Initial purchase price is in the neighborhood of $1,800 apiece and the machines are cumbersome to store and to transport to and from polling places. This adds up to a prohibitive cost for most communities.

THE COYLE SYSTEM offers a compromise. It requires more ballot handling and therefore slower processing than existing machines, but its cost is low enough to be within the reach of many areas that have not been able to afford the conventional machines.

Purchase price is put at $500 to $600. Weighing only 35 pounds each, two of them can be carried easily by a husky man. Measuring 8½ inches wide, 15½ inches deep and 21½ inches high, lots of them can be stored in a relatively small space.

Although the ballots must be sorted and checked at the precinct for write-ins, counting is done on automatic tabulating machines at a central location at the rate of 100 cards or an average of 1,000 votes a minute.

THE VOTES from an entire county could be tallied in a fraction of the time required in the hand-marked, paper-ballot system.

In addition, the county or city would not necessarily have to buy the tabulating machines. Ballots are designed for a number of standard electronic counters which could be rented — or even borrowed from civic - minded local companies which own them.

Proponents of the Coyle machine emphasize that another advantage over conventional machines is that the permanent ballots can be f for rechecking.

(Can be filed for rechecking

The Coyle process works this:

The voter is given a ballot s ilar to the present paper ballot cept that it is stiff like a c and printed in smaller type.

In the voting booth, he ins the card in the machine. If card is out of position, a red li glows as on a tilted pinball chine. If the card is right, it locked securely in position.

THE VOTER sees the c through a window that magni the type to the size used on pa ballots. He turns a knob until name of the candidate he fav is before him and then pushes button. A hole is punched bes the name.

If the voter makes a mistake, folds the card, returns it to precinct officials and gets anoth

If he wants to write in the na of a candidate whose name is printed on the ballot, he does after he finishes his punch vot and removes the card from machine. A special place for wri ins is provided.

When he is finished voting, puts his ballots in a simple velope to safeguard the secrecy his decision and the envelope dropped into the ballot box.

AFTER THE POLLS close, two judges and two clerks (two ditional judges are required unc the present paper-ballot syste remove the ballots from the velopes and sort them, recordi the write-in votes.

Then two of the officials, one each party, take the ballots to central spot, where they are into the automatic tabulators a counted in a matter of minutes

Here voting errors are detect If, for instance, a voter were p mitted to vote for four names a list of candidates but punch five holes, the machine as requir under the present law, would count any of the votes. But would mark them with the tra tional "X." Those votes are c in advance. Such ballots would kept and counted as they are after the polls close.

COYLE AND HIS supporters sist that the process is foolpr and that provision has been ma for every contigency in voting.

They estimate that one count could handle about 50 precinc They argue that cities or counti which bought the tabulators co save additional money by usi them for other than vote-counti purposes.

The bills now in the Assemb do not, of course, require use the Coyle machines. They simp would allow it. Communities al would be permitted to buy, re or borrow some of the machines try them out before making a fin decision.

The outlook is good that Oh communities will be given the o portunity to investigate the Coy system further. If so, they will the first in the nation to get crack at "electronic voting."

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO — The Woodbine Laundry & Dry Cleaning Co. opened its new $30,000 fire-proof plant at Pennsylvania Ave., East End.

Twenty-five members of Harding Chapter, Order of DeMolay, attended the exemplification of the Legion of Honor degree at the William Penn Hotel, Pittsburgh.

Earl A. Wilson was elected secretary and Harvey S. Hobbs treasurer during a special meeting of the directors of the Chester Board of Trade.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — More than 150 Odd Fellows from district lodges attended a rally in the Temple on W. 6th St.

Mrs. Everett R. Chandler, presi dent of the East Liverpool Federa tion of Women's Clubs, addressed members of the Rebecca Griscom Chapter, Daughters of the Ameri can Revolution, at a meeting in Mary Patterson Memorial.

TEN YEARS AGO — David W. Skeen was re-elected president of the East Liverpool Civic Music Association.

Special services in observance of the Festival of Purim were conducted by the congregation of B'nai Jacob Synagogue.

Some 1,000 persons helped East Liverpool area Girl Scouts observe their 37th birthday.

The Conestoga Horse

Once king of the road, the Conestoga horse was perhaps the closest approach ever made to a true native American breed of draft horse.

Thousands of Conestogas plodded the high roads of the Colonies, hauling the towering, sway-backed wagons which gave them their name. They were mentioned in the animal report of the United States Commissioner of Agriculture as late as 1863. Today, the Department of Agriculture reports that the Conestoga horse no longer exists.

Never a true breed, with reasonably stable characteristics, the Conestoga horse was developed to meet a specific need.

Undoubtedly the most efficient freight hauler of its time, the Conestoga wagon was originated in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, by German settlers along the valley of Conestoga Creek. It probably was patterned on English-style farm wagons.

Superbly built, the Contestoga wagon's prime virtue lay in its light weight and immense strength, coupled with an efficient design that curved the wagon bed to keep cargo from shifting on the rugged roads.

European draft horses were excellent for pulling heavy loads relatively short distances over paved roads, but they proved unsuitable for the great distances and dreadful roads of the Colonies. The Conestoga Valley farmer's riding horse, which also pulled his buggy and worked in the fields, was too light and lacked the stamina for the job.

The longest game in major league baseball was played between Brooklyn and Boston in 1920. The game ended in a 1-1 tie after 26 innings.

The only time that trading on the New York Stock Exchange was officially conducted after regular hours was October 26, 1943 — because of an air raid drill.

WORSHIP WITH US!

HUMANITY CALLING

By Major William Murtaugh of The Salvation Army

WELFARE AGENCIES WORKING TOGETHER FOR THE COMMON GOOD

The modern trend in all areas of human endeavor is toward the clinical approach in an effort to properly diagnose the general condition of an individual or a group, and to apply such treatment as would seem likely to remedy a given situation.

Persons engaged in health and welfare work are confronted with many problems arising out of our human ills. No one agency has "all the answers", resources or facilities, but the personnel of those engaged in such endeavors are usually dedicated people who sense the worth of the individual.

In many communities there exists a Council of Social Agencies, and a Welfare Exchange for the convenience and information of all public and private agencies performing welfare work. When there is no such Central council, as on our local level, we do our utmost to confer and to cooperate with each other for the benefit of the people whom we serve.

Every taxpayer and contributor to a private agency is interested in human welfare, but certainly has no desire to assist the "shiftless' in his self-indulgence or life of ease.

The Salvation Army is grateful for the splendid cooperation evident among public and private agencies in this area.

WORSHIP WITH US!

HUMANITY CALLING

By Major William Murtaugh of The Salvation Army

WELFARE AGENCIES WORKING TOGETHER FOR THE COMMON GOOD

The modern trend in all areas of human endeavor is toward the clinical approach in an effort to properly diagnose the general condition of an individual or a group, and to apply such treatment as would seem likely to remedy a given situation.

Persons engaged in health and welfare work are confronted with many problems arising out of our human ills. No one agency has "all the answers", resources or facilities, but the personnel of those engaged in such endeavors are usually dedicated people who sense the worth of the individual.

In many communities there exists a Council of Social Agencies, and a Welfare Exchange for the convenience and information of all public and private agencies performing welfare work. When there is no such Central council, as on our local level, we do our utmost to confer and to cooperate with each other for the benefit of the people whom we serve.

Every taxpayer and contributor to a private agency is interested in human welfare, but certainly has no desire to assist the "shiftless' in his self-indulgence or life of ease.

The Salvation Army is grateful for the splendid cooperation evident among public and private agencies in this area.

Act Of Heroism Unlocks Door To Key Word For Missionary

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The missionary had spent many months among the Meo people of Indo-China, trying to interpret the scriptures to them in their own language. But he had yet to find the word or phrase that adequately described the key Christian concept of salvation.

True, he knew the word "pang" meant to save and, for want of a better one, he had been using it. But, "pang" was a fairly common Meo word that somehow failed to put across the deeper meanings of salvation.

Then one day a Meo woman fell from a bridge into a swollen stream. The missionary, jumped in and pulled her out.

"Ah," said a watching Meo, "you 'tse' her."

"You mean I 'pang' her, don't you?" asked the missionary.

"Oh, no," said the Meo. "You 'tse' her. That means you saved her by putting yourself in the same danger."

"What better way is there of describing how Jesus died to save mankind?" says Dr. Eugene A. Nida, secretary for translation of the American Bible Society. "Just that one word made a big difference in attitude of the Meo people toward Christianity."

The Meo missionary is only one of many devoted workers around the world engaged in the immensely difficult task of translating and interpreting the scriptures in obscure languages.

"One might think that the more primitive the people, the simpler their language would be," says Dr. Nida. "That is not true.

"For instance, the Nuer language, spoken in the Sudan, has 14 distinct basic vowel sounds.

One of the most difficult jobs that confront translators is that of entering a language area cold. Where do you start? Dr. Nida explains:

"Pay close attention to the first words they say to you. Chances are those words are a greeting. But be careful. There may be separate greetings for men and women, or even for older men or married women.

"Get them to examine your equipment and talk about it. Pretty soon you'll get the phrase 'What is this?' Then you try the phrase on some of their things. Pretty soon you'll have a good vocabulary of their nouns.

"Then try to get their expression for 'What's he doing.' You can do this by doing something odd yourself. It's almost a certainty that someone will ask 'What is he doing?' Then, you can ask the same question of them."

An every - member canvass will be completed Sunday afternoon. The committee is comprised of elders and trustees. A goal of $400 a week in pledges has been set. The present total of pledges is $246 a week.

Mrs. Margaret Morris will direct the youth program and the pastor will conduct the fellowship hour for teen - agers and adults at 6:30 p. m.

The pastor will begin a series of Easter sermons at the 7:30 p. m. service on a sub-topic of the morning theme, entitled "Manly Views of the Cross." The first in the series will be a dramatic presentation in the first person, on "Peter." Donald Moore will assist the pastor for the song service and the preliminary part of the service. Special music will be presented.

The Adult Choir will rehearse Wednesday at 6:30. At 7:30, Rev. Bowman will continue his Easter series of sermons, speaking on "Cause of the Cross," a first person portrayal of Pontius Pilate.

College In Maryland To Honor First Lady

WASHINGTON (AP) — St. Joseph College of Emmitsburg, Md., today awards an honorary doctor of laws degree to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

President Eisenhower was to accompany his wife to Emmitsburg. They planned to drive back to Washington after the ceremony.

Mrs. Eisenhower has received one other honorary degree. Colorado Womens College in Denver awarded it to her in 1946.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	14	1-9
Monday	Mark	2	1-12
Tuesday	Mark	3	1-5
Wednesday	Mark	5	25-34
Thursday	Mark	5	35-43
Friday	Mark	7	31-37
Saturday	Mark	10	46-52

How often, when Dad would finish reading the Bible, he would hold the Book gently in his hands and look out the window. . . .

I used to wonder what he saw—what vision against the setting sun!

And once I blurted the tremendous question: "Daddy, can you see God?"

He kept on gazing off into space, but a smile crossed his lips.

"No, son, a man doesn't see God! He feels God. And then he looks out his window and sees the world in a different light."

I grew up to discover what he meant. His Bible—his Church—his convictions have become mine. And when I look at the world . . . it's through Dad's window.

One day my son will grow up . . .

Act Of Heroism Unlocks Door To Key Word For Missionary

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The missionary had spent many months among the Meo people of Indo-China, trying to interpret the scriptures to them in their own language. But he had yet to find the word or phrase that adequately described the key Christian concept of salvation.

True, he knew the word "pang" meant to save and, for want of a better one, he had been using it. But, "pang" was a fairly common Meo word that somehow failed to put across the deeper meanings of salvation.

Then one day a Meo woman fell from a bridge into a swollen stream. The missionary, jumped in and pulled her out.

"Ah," said a watching Meo, "you 'tse' her."

"You mean I 'pang' her, don't you?" asked the missionary.

"Oh, no," said the Meo. "You 'tse' her. That means you saved her by putting yourself in the same danger."

"What better way is there of describing how Jesus died to save mankind?" says Dr. Eugene A. Nida, secretary for translation of the American Bible Society. "Just that one word made a big difference in attitude of the Meo people toward Christianity."

The Meo missionary is only one of many devoted workers around the world engaged in the immensely difficult task of translating and interpreting the scriptures in obscure languages.

"One might think that the more primitive the people, the simpler their language would be," says Dr. Nida. "That is not true.

"For instance, the Nuer language, spoken in the Sudan, has 14 distinct basic vowel sounds.

One of the most difficult jobs that confront translators is that of entering a language area cold. Where do you start? Dr. Nida explains:

"Pay close attention to the first words they say to you. Chances are those words are a greeting. But be careful. There may be separate greetings for men and women, or even for older men or married women.

"Get them to examine your equipment and talk about it. Pretty soon you'll get the phrase 'What is this?' Then you try the phrase on some of their things. Pretty soon you'll have a good vocabulary of their nouns.

"Then try to get their expression for 'What's he doing.' You can do this by doing something odd yourself. It's almost a certainty that someone will ask 'What is he doing?' Then, you can ask the same question of them."

An every - member canvass will be completed Sunday afternoon. The committee is comprised of elders and trustees. A goal of $400 a week in pledges has been set. The present total of pledges is $246 a week.

Mrs. Margaret Morris will direct the youth program and the pastor will conduct the fellowship hour for teen - agers and adults at 6:30 p. m.

The pastor will begin a series of Easter sermons at the 7:30 p. m. service on a sub-topic of the morning theme, entitled "Manly Views of the Cross." The first in the series will be a dramatic presentation in the first person, on "Peter." Donald Moore will assist the pastor for the song service and the preliminary part of the service. Special music will be presented.

The Junior Choir will practice Thursday at 6:30 p. m., followed by an Easter sunrise service rehearsal.

Lenten Season Waited By Orthodox Catholics

The Rev. Milorad Dobrota, pastor of the St. George Serbian Orthodox Church at Midland, today reminded that the Lenten season for those of the Orthodox faith begins Monday.

Confessions of high school and Sunday School students will be heard Friday, March 20, at 6:30 a. m. The groups will receive Holy Communion during the Divine Liturgy Saturday morning, March 21, at 9 a. m. Preparation for this Holy Sacrament for the children will be made with strict fasting beginning on Wednesday and continuing through Friday. Confessions of adults will be heard Friday, March 20, at 9 p. m.

The regular confession schedule during the Lenten season will be held every Saturday from 7 to 9 p. m. and on Sunday from 9 to 9:30 a. m.

Topic Of Final Sermon Listed By City Minister

"Fellow Workmen" will be the topic of John Pommert at the 10:45 a. m. Communion service Sunday at the Second Church of Christ. Mrs. Pommert will sing. "Farewell" will be the topic of his final sermon at the 7:30 p.m. service.

The Pommerts will leave Monday for Paintsville, Ky., where he will assume the pastorate of the First Christian Church.

Sunday School will meet at 9:45. Junior Youth will meet at 6 and the Senior Youth will convene at 8:30.

The Bible study meeting will be Wednesday at 7:30 p. m.

College In Maryland To Honor First Lady

WASHINGTON (AP) — St. Joseph College of Emmitsburg, Md., today awards an honorary doctor of laws degree to Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

President Eisenhower was to accompany his wife to Emmitsburg. They planned to drive back to Washington after the ceremony.

Mrs. Eisenhower has received one other honorary degree. Colorado Womens College in Denver awarded it to her in 1946.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	John	14	1-9
Monday	Mark	2	1-12
Tuesday	Mark	3	1-5
Wednesday	Mark	5	25-34
Thursday	Mark	8	35-43
Friday	Mark	7	31-37
Saturday	Mark	10	46-52

How often, when Dad would finish reading the Bible, he would hold the Book gently in his hands and look out the window. . . .

I used to wonder what he saw—what vision against the setting sun!

And once I blurted the tremendous question: "Daddy, can you see God?"

He kept on gazing off into space, but a smile crossed his lips.

"No, son, a man doesn't see God! He feels God. And then he looks out his window and sees the world in a different light."

I grew up to discover what he meant. His Bible—his Church—his convictions have become mine. And when I look at the world . . . it's through Dad's window.

One day my son will grow up . . .

Salem Faces Unbeaten Akron Central In Regional Finals

Tourneys To Pick 8 State Finalists

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio picks its eight qualifiers for the state high school basketball championships in regional finals tonight.

And if the action is as unpredictable as Friday night's results, anything can happen as the 16 survivors of a starting field of 1,013 schools square off on the hardwoods.

Still on hand were Cleveland East Tech and Northwestern of Wayne County, last year's Class AA and Class A champions, but a flock of highly-rated talent was sidelined in the semi-final firing.

Ousted in Class A were such stalwarts as New Boston and Convoy-Union, the former bowing after 22 straight victories, and the latter after 27. Midvale and Pickerington, each beaten but once, also fell, as did Newton Falls-Braceville with a 25-2 record.

Xenia's 1942 champions, and Springfield's state title winners of 1925 and 1950, were sidelined in Class AA, as was Sandusky St. Mary, the 1936 Class A king now playing in Class AA.

Northwestern is the only ex-champion left in Class A, but Middletown, East Tech and Columbus East—which have accounted for nine of the last 15 state titles—are among the Class AA survivors.

Two unbeaten teams are left in each division—a far cry from last year when all four Class AA and three of the four Class A teams reached the state tourney with clean records.

East Tech with 22-0, and Akron Central with 20-0, are the Class AA pair of clean teams, while Racine (26-0) and Salem Local of Urbana (26-0) are unsullied in Class A.

The big upsets in Class A were Lynnwood-Jacksontown's 53-51 win over unbeaten New Boston at Athens, and Edgerton's 69-67 double-overtime conquest over Convoy-Union at Lima. Those losses left only Northwestern (1) and Salem Local (6) of the top 10 in the final Associated Press poll.

In Class AA East Tech (1), Salem (5) and Akron Central (6) are still around from the poll leaders—but Salem and Akron Central meet tonight in the Kent regional.

Middletown,, seven - time state champ, continued to roll as the Middies edged once-beaten Xenia at Cincinnati 76-67. Cincinnati St. Xavier, the cinderella team of the tourney with a 16-7 record, ousted Springfield 62-53 to earn a finals berth against the rebuilt but always-potent Middies.

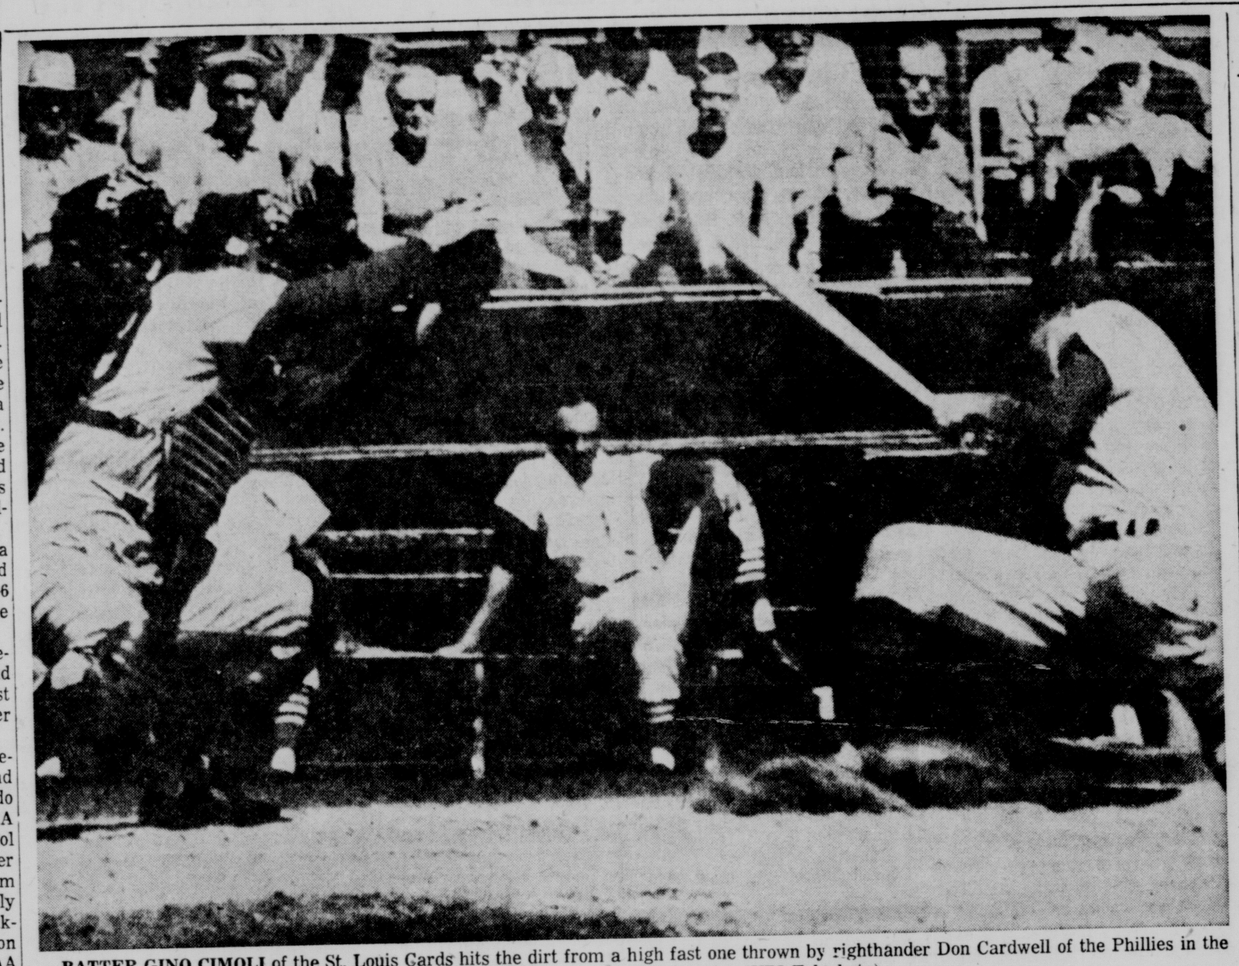

The Middies have compiled a 20-4 record, but can't be counted out. Back in 1947 they had a 19-6 mark as they zoomed to the state championship.

East Tech goes against Cleveland St. Joseph (20-3) tonight, and Toledo Scott (19-4) goes against Columbus East (22-3) in the other regional Class AA finals.

Tradition appears against Cleveland St. Joseph, Toledo Scott and Cincinnati St. Xavier. No Toledo team has ever won the Class AA crown, and no parochial school has ever triumphed. The other game appears a tossup, as Salem boats a 23-1 record, losing only to Cleveland East Tech, while Akron Central is unbeaten. Akron schools have won the Class AA crown three times, while Salem is coached by Johnny Cabas who piloted the Columbiana Clippers to the Class A laurels in 1947.

Old Washington, with a 28-1 record, meets Northwestern in tonight's eye-catching Class A affair at Canton. Northwestern, at 24-2, must win to move towards its second title, while Old Washington could become the first team to take the crown after being defeated in district play. Maysville of South Zanesville defeated Old Washington in the Marietta playoffs, but the losers got a second chance under an unprecedented qualifying plan.

Coaches of tonight's winners meet at the Ohio Union, on the Ohio State University campus, at 11 a.m. Sunday to draw state tournament opponents and pick up ticket allotments for the March 20-21 finals.

Banks May Grab Second MVP Title

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Banks, an MVP with an HR bat, could become the first National League player to win the award in consecutive seasons.

The Chicago Cubs shortstop was the '58 most valuable player on the strength of 47 home runs, 129 RBI and 379 total bases which brought him the NL slugging crown.

Mickey Mantle (1956-57) is one of two New York Yankees to win the AL MVP award two straight years. Catcher Yogi Berra did it in 1954-55. Other AL repeaters were slugger Jimmy Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics (1932-33) and the great left-hander of the Detroit Tigers, Hal Newhouser (1944-45).

Never much of a spring hitter until last year, Ernie signaled what could be another big year when he belted a pair of three-run homers Friday as the Cubs outslugged the Giants 16-12 in an exhibition game at Mesa, Ariz.

Mantle and four other Yanks—Norm Siebern, Bobby Richardson, Bill Skowron and Elston Howard—homered as New York defeated Detroit 14-8 at Lakeland.

A three-run inside-the-park shot by Pirate Bill Virdon was wasted as Kansas City turned back Pittsburgh 8-3 at Fort Myers.

Baltimore beat Cincinnati 6-2 at Tampa with Gene Woodling homering for the Orioles and Ed Bailey for the Reds.

Pitching was the key at Bradenton where Early Wynn and two Chicago rookies, Rudolph Arias and Claude Raymond, combined to two-hit the Milwaukee Braves 7-1 for the White Sox.

Don Blasingame delivered a two-run double with two out in the eighth inning to bring in the decisive runs in a 5-3 St. Lous victory over Philadelphia at St. Petersburg.

Twin Bills Set In NIT Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The 22nd edition of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament continues today with doubleheaders on both the matinee and evening programs at Madison Square Garden and Bradley still the team to beat.

The Peoria Braves (23-3) go into action tonight as seven-point favorites against sharpshooting Butler (19-8). This will be a quarter-final game, as will the other half of the twin bill—St. Bonaventure (20-2) against St. John's (17-6). The latter is a pick-'em affair.

During the afternoon the first round was to be completed.

Manhattan (15-5) was a three-point favorite over Providence (18-5) and New York University (12-7) rated five points over Denver (14-9).

Bradley played in the Garden earlier this year and put an abrupt end to St. John's winning streak of eight games. But, even more important, the Braves had a decision against big Oscar Robertson and his Cincinnati club to their credit.

Butler is a smooth-working outfit, which has proved to be a little weak on defense. The team gets fine rebounding jobs from Johnny Jones and Ken Pennington, who also toss in points along with Billy Scott.

Bailey Drives In Pair But Redlegs Lose, 6-2

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Ed Bailey will have to show he has his hitting touch again if he expects to catch a lot of games for Cincinnati's Reds this season.

The prospects, however, seem good. Bailey accounted for both Redleg runs Friday in an exhibition game against Baltimore's Orioles—singling in one marker and banging his second Grapefruit League home run.

But the Reds lost, 6-2.

The sturdy 27-year-old citizen of Strawberry Plains, Tenn., has steadily slipped at the plate since his .300 hitting season in 1956.

But he has hit safely six times in 17 Grapefruit League trips this spring.

There's another catcher in camp, ambitious Dutch Dotterer who is just as good a backstop as Bailey, but no great shakes as a hitter.

Bailey has worked hard at training camp sessions here. He said, "I'd like to catch at least 125 games this season."

And he still looms big in the plans of manager Mayo Smith. Smith said recently, "if we could get another starting pitcher and if Gus Bell and Ed Bailey have the year I know they can, we'll be real tough."

The solution may be to bring Dotterer up from the minors anyway to spell Bailey — especially in the hot hard days of mid-season.

Smith said, "So far, I like what I've seen of Dutch. He's a fine receiver, handles pitchers well, can throw with the best and can hit a ball downtown when he connects."

Bailey, with the Reds since 1954—except for a brief disappearance into the minors in '55—had his best season in 1956 when he belted 28 homers, drove in 75 runs, appeared in 118 games and won the tag of sophomore of the year.

Knicks Upset By Syracuse

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Attention in the National Basketball Assn.'s preliminary playoffs moves to the Western division tonight with vastly improved Syracuse holding a one-game edge over New York in the East.

The third-place Detroit Pistons go against the second-place Minneapolis Lakers at St. Paul in the opener of the best-of-three Western semifinals to determine a challenger to the division champion St. Louis Hawks.

If the result is anything like the opener in the East, the Pistons are ready to spring a surprise.

The New York Knickerbockers, after bagging nine of 12 regular season games from Syracuse, were five-point favorites Friday night. Instead, the Nationals outplayed them all the way—winding up with a 129-123 victory in a game that set a playoff record for total points by two teams.

Dolph Schayes with 35 points and rookie Hal Greer with 16 points led the Nationals. They can wrap up the series and a shot at Eastern champion Boston in a best-of-seven final by defeating New York in Syracuse Sunday afternoon. The game will be televised nationally (NBC), at 2:30 p.m., EST.

After tonight's opener, Detroit and Minneapolis head for Detroit and play the second game of the Western semifinals Sunday afternoon. If a third game is needed, it will be played at Minneapolis Wednesday night.

If a third game is needed in the East, it will be at New York Monday night.

Canadiens' Star Isn't Worrying About Point Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — If Dickie Moore is worrying about his dwindling margin as leader in the National Hockey League's sizzling scoring race, he isn't showing it.

With the schedule's end only five games away, Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers is only three points behind the Montreal Canadiens' star winger. Andy's six-point spurt in his last two games also has popped him into second place, one point ahead of Montreal's Jean Beliveau.

"What's the use of worrying?" said Moore today. "Maybe the pressure is on me, maybe it's on Bathgate. All I know is I'm not losing any sleep over it."

Dickie has scored 38 goals and 48 assists for 86 points. Bathgate has 39-44 for 83 and Beliveau 39-43—82. Moore won the NHL title last year with 84 points on 36 goals and 48 assists.

O'Brien Says 67 Feet Maximum In Shot Put

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World record holder Parry O'Brien says 67 feet is the maximum possible distance in the shot put.

The two-time Olympic champion and world record holder at 63 feet 2 inches explains it this way:

"Within the confines of a 7-foot circle nobody, no matter how big, can put the shot more than 67 feet. The circle limits the operating area, and no matter how huge a man may be or how strong, as he gets bigger his operating space becomes smaller."

Pensacola Golf Leader Has 'Double Incentive'

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The half-way leader in the $15,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament, Paul Harney, has a double incentive for a good showing here.

One is the money. The other is the chance of playing in his first Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga.

The lean distance-hitter from Worcester, Mass., blazed a 7-under par 65 Friday over the 6,500-yard course for a 36-hole total of 134.

Two strokes behind was Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., with 69-67—136.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., had 137s. Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., had a 138.

Seven amateurs and 64 pros qualified for the final two round. The cutoff point was 68. Among those still in is defending champion Doug Ford with 78-68—146.

Victims of the cutoff included George Bayer and Tommy Jacobs at 149; Gardner Dickinson, John McMullin, Bob Watson, Ed Oliver and Dick Mayer at 150; Gene Littler 151; Al Besselink, Julius Boros, Al Ferree and Dick Knight 152.

Harney, one of the top players in golf for two years, still is aiming for his first Masters. The Masters, on the basis of a point system during the winter tour of PGA tournaments, invites two players who are not otherwise eligible for or invited to the Augusta event.

Going into the Pensacola Open, McMullin was leading in this point system with 105 and Harney was second with 82½.

With McMullin out of contention here and only the St. Petersburg, Fla., meet and Azalea Open at Wilmington, N. C., remaining before the Masters, Harney has a good chance to put himself in position to be invited.

Bee-Gees With 61 At Halfway Mark Lead Swim Meet

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Bowling Green led with 61 points at the halfway mark of the Mid-American Conference swimming meet today in its quest for a third straight title.

Miami, with 58½ points, provided the main competition for the defending champions. Ohio University was third with 44 points, followed by Western Michigan with 30½ and Kent State with 20.

Bill Mulliken of Miami, who broke the conference record in the 1,500-meter freestyle Thursday, gave another record-breaking performance Friday night. He swam the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:06.3, which broke the record of 1:10.9 set by Jim Thompson of Bowling Green in the 1958 meet.

Hank Reest of Bowling Green set a record in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 2:08.8, compared with the previous record of 2:15.7 set by Ray Martin of Bowling Green last year.

Tennessee A&I-Pacific Quint In NAIA Final

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It will be defending champion Tennessee A. & I. versus Pacific Lutheran tonight in the finals of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament.

The battle for the 21st championship is bound to be a thriller if it fits the pattern of Friday night's struggle in which Tennessee A & I. emerged the victor, 64-62, over Southwest Texas State.

Tennessee pulled that one out in the final 14 seconds, and will face Pacific Lutheran tonight after a consolation game for third place between Southwest Texas and Fort Hays (Kan.) State, Lutheran's semifinal victim 80-71.

The Tigers from Nashville were two minutes away from defeat when their comeback against the Texas Bobcats began to jell. The screaming, standing crowd of 7,500 sensed an upset.

The clock read 2:02 to go when John Barnhill hit an outside layup for a 62-61 lead, the Tennesseans' first of the game. Rudy Davalos of Southwest drew a foul and tied the count at 62-all.

With 1:26 left, A. & I. started passing the ball around for one telling shot. Dick Barnett got it on a rebound.

Lutheran and Fort Hays traded leads three times and tied the game up in five more instances before the Tacoma, Wash., club went out in front to stay shortly before intermission.

Chuck Curtis, Jim Van Beek and Roger Iverson, all playing their fourth tournament here, were too much for the hot and cold Kansans. Curtis was high scorer with 31 points.

Evansville, Ind. Wins NCAA Small College Tourney

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—This Southern Indiana basketball hotbed still was hopping today.

The Evansville College Aces are the newly crowned NCAA small college basketball champions and a hometown product of the team is the tourney's outstanding player.

The Aces thrilled 8,651 fans Friday night by trimming Southwest Missouri of Springfield 83-67 for the title. The winners' ball-hawking guard, senior Al Ahlering, was acclaimed the meet's most valuable player.

The North Carolina Aggies took third place, whipping Los Angeles 101-84 with Joe Cotton topping six double-figure shooters with 17 points. Bill Heynen, with 22 points led Los Angeles.

Evansville sped to a 44-38 halftime margin and Southwest's Bears never could whittle it down. Ed Smallwood of Evansville headed the scoring with 24 points.

Southwest's Jack Israel was the Bears' big gun with 23 points.

West Virginia Racing Group Waits On Pending Legislation

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Racing Commission had a little more than an informal discussion here yesterday before Chairman Malcom Lowe of Parkersburg announced the three-member group would wait on pending legislation.

Lowe, who met at Shenandoah Downs here with William D. Polan of Martinsburg and James E. McClure of Wheeling, said a bill passed by the House of Delegates was sent back to the State Senate yesterday, and that's the measure the commission is interested in.

The bill would revise the law governing licensing of tracks and granting of racing dates. The commission will wait, Lowe said, to see if the governor vetoes the bill. If the measure is enacted, then the commission will ask the attorney general's office for an opinion on the constitutionality of the law.

Lowe said once the racing bill is disposed of, he will call a meeting of the commission to act on dates and officials for the state's four race tracks. Tentative dates already have been set for all four.

The old Charles Town track would not be affected by new legislation because it has not been leased for operations. But dates tentatively set for Wheeling Downs and Waterford Park in the Northern Panhandle would be affected.

Shenandoah Downs, the state's newest track, is scheduled to open here May 1 for night flat racing.

World Record Holder Covers Mile In 3:58.9

BRISBANE (AP) — Australia's Herb Elliott, holder of the mile world record, ran a 3:58.9 mile today in the old Centenary Athletic Championships at New Lang Park. This compares to his world mark of 3:54.5.

Elliott, who recently returned from a visit to the United States and Canada, went the first quarter in 59 seconds, the half-mile in 2:01 and the three-quarters in 3:03.

Merv Lincoln took the lead the second time around the 440-yard oval, but Elliott stayed on his heels and passed him halfway around on the final circuit.

Chicago Keglers Roll Into Second Spot In ABC Play

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Every member of Chicago's Old Fitzgerald team needed to strike out in the final frame to overtake the Detroit Pfeiffers as the leaders of the American Bowling Congress Tournament Friday night. The best the quintet could muster was one double and the Fitzgeralds were relegated to second place with their 3203 series.

The Pfeiffers continued their domination of the tournament with a record-breaking 3243 series.

The Fitzgeralds became the only team in the first 28 days of the tournament to roll three 1000 games. Their skein included lines of 1027, 1086 and 1089.

Tony Lindemann and George Howard of the Detroit Stroh's collaborated for 1308 and fifth place in the doubles, the only other major development of the day. Lindemann carried the load with 695 as Howard chipped in 613.

Bahama Defeats Canadian Champ In Easy Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)—With a decisive victory over Canadian champion Wilfie Greaves to his credit, Yama Bahama became real ambitious today.

The classy boxer from the Bahamas now wants shots at Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight champion from Nigeria, and former world middleweight rulers Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer.

Bahama looked like he belonged with the top ten middleweights in winning the unanimous ten-round decision at the Garden Friday night. The bout was broadcast and televised nationally.

Greaves was a perfect foil for the sharpshooting, fisherman-fighter from Bimini.

Wilfie, 160¼ pounds, kept wading in and Yama, 153, kept popping him with stinging left jabs.

Referee Art Mercante had Bahama in front, 6-4 in rounds. The two judges made Yama's margin larger. Artie Aidello made it 7-3 and Leo Birnbaum, 8-2. The AP card had Yama ahead, 7-3. Greaves was penalized the sixth round for low blows.

Two unbeaten teams are left in each division—a far cry from last year when all four Class AA and three of the four Class A teams reached the state tourney with clean records.

East Tech with 22-0, and Akron Central with 20-0, are the Class AA pair of clean teams, while Racine (26-0) and Salem Local of Urbana (26-0) are unsullied in Class A.

The big upsets in Class A were Lynnwood-Jacksontown's 53-51 win over unbeaten New Boston at Athens, and Edgerton's 69-67 double-overtime conquest over Convoy-Union at Lima. Those losses left only Northwestern (1) and Salem Local (6) of the top 10 in the final Associated Press poll.

In Class AA East Tech (1), Salem (5) and Akron Central (6) are still around from the poll leaders—but Salem and Akron Central meet tonight in the Kent regional.

Middletown,, seven - time state champ, continued to roll as the Middies edged once-beaten Xenia at Cincinnati 76-67. Cincinnati St. Xavier, the cinderella team of the tourney with a 16-7 record, ousted Springfield 62-53 to earn a finals berth against the rebuilt but always-potent Middies.

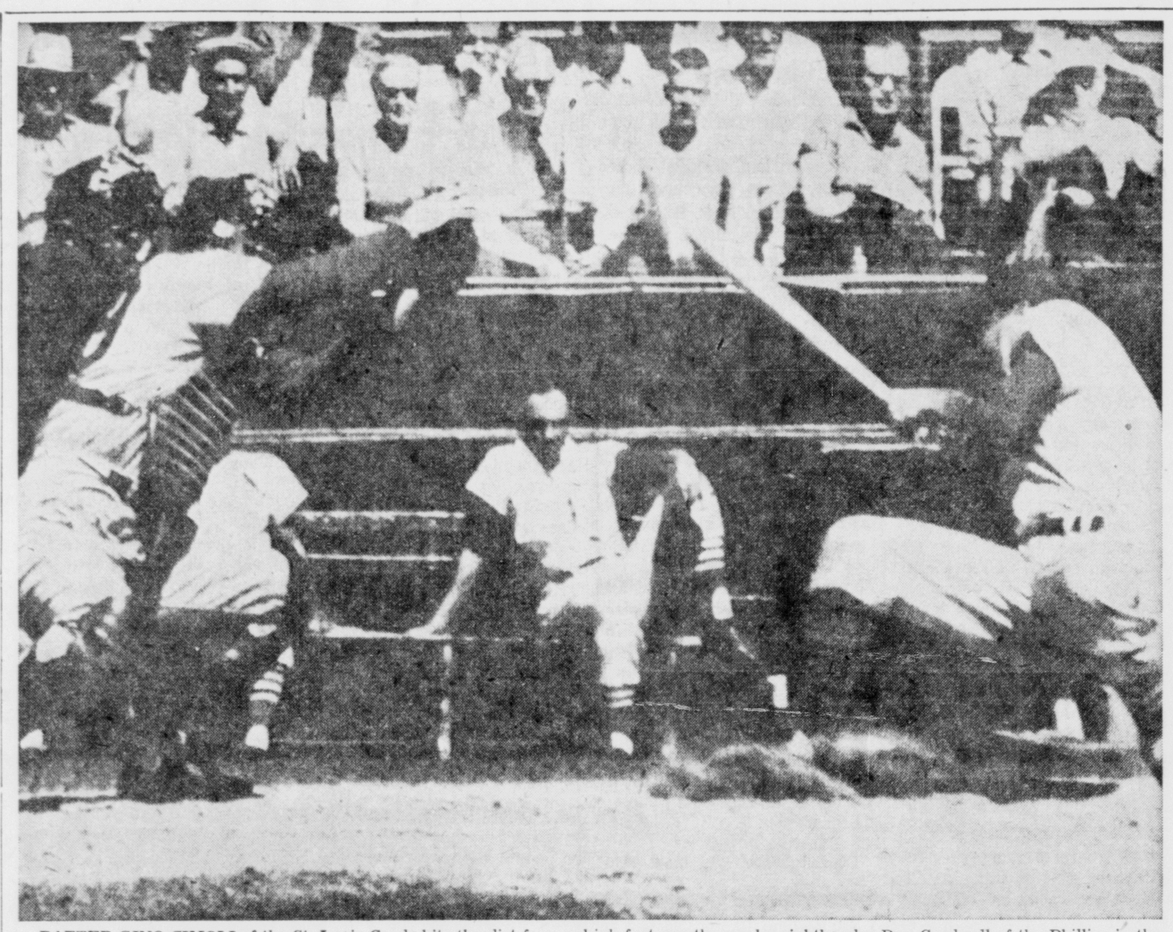

The Middies have compiled a 20-4 record, but can't be counted out. Back in 1947 they had a 19-6 mark as they zoomed to the state championship.

East Tech goes against Cleveland St. Joseph (20-3) tonight, and Toledo Scott (19-4) goes against Columbus East (22-3) in the other regional Class AA finals.

Tradition appears against Cleveland St. Joseph, Toledo Scott and Cincinnati St. Xavier. No Toledo team has ever won the Class AA crown, and no parochial school has ever triumphed. The other game appears a tossup, as Salem boats a 23-1 record, losing only to Cleveland East Tech, while Akron Central is unbeaten. Akron schools have won the Class AA crown three times, while Salem is coached by Johnny Cabas who piloted the Columbiana Clippers to the Class A laurels in 1947.

Old Washington, with a 28-1 record, meets Northwestern in tonight's eye-catching Class A affair at Canton. Northwestern, at 24-2, must win to move towards its second title, while Old Washington could become the first team to take the crown after being defeated in district play. Maysville of South Zanesville defeated Old Washington in the Marietta playoffs, but the losers got a second chance under an unprecedented qualifying plan.

Coaches of tonight's winners meet at the Ohio Union, on the Ohio State University campus, at 11 a.m. Sunday to draw state tournament opponents and pick up ticket allotments for the March 20-21 finals.

Banks May Grab Second MVP Title

By JIM KENSIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ernie Banks, an MVP with an HR bat, could become the first National League player to win the award in consecutive seasons.

The Chicago Cubs shortstop was the '58 most valuable player on the strength of 47 home runs, 129 RBI and 379 total bases which brought him the NL slugging crown.

Mickey Mantle (1956-57) is one of two New York Yankees to win the AL MVP award two straight years. Catcher Yogi Berra did it in 1954-55. Other AL repeaters were slugger Jimmy Foxx of the Philadelphia Athletics (1932-33) and the great left-hander of the Detroit Tigers, Hal Newhouser (1944-45).

Never much of a spring hitter until last year, Ernie signaled what could be another big year when he belted a pair of three-run homers Friday as the Cubs outslugged the Giants 16-12 in an exhibition game at Mesa, Ariz.

Mantle and four other Yanks—Norm Siebern, Bobby Richardson, Bill Skowron and Elston Howard—homered as New York defeated Detroit 14-8 at Lakeland.

A three-run inside-the-park shot by Pirate Bill Virdon was wasted as Kansas City turned back Pittsburgh 8-3 at Fort Myers.

Baltimore beat Cincinnati 6-2 at Tampa with Gene Woodling homering for the Orioles and Ed Bailey for the Reds.

Pitching was the key at Bradenton where Early Wynn and two Chicago rookies, Rudolph Arias and Claude Raymond, combined to two-hit the Milwaukee Braves 7-1 for the White Sox.

Don Blasingame delivered a two-run double with two out in the eighth inning to bring in the decisive runs in a 5-3 St. Lous victory over Philadelphia at St. Petersburg.

Canadiens' Star Isn't Worrying About Point Lead

MONTREAL (AP) — If Dickie Moore is worrying about his dwindling margin as leader in the National Hockey League's sizzling scoring race, he isn't showing it.

With the schedule's end only five games away, Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers is only three points behind the Montreal Canadiens' star winger. Andy's six-point spurt in his last two games also has popped him into second place, one point ahead of Montreal's Jean Beliveau.

"What's the use of worrying?" said Moore today. "Maybe the pressure is on me, maybe it's on Bathgate. All I know is I'm not losing any sleep over it."

Dickie has scored 38 goals and 48 assists for 86 points. Bathgate has 39-44 for 83 and Beliveau 39-43—82. Moore won the NHL title last year with 84 points on 36 goals and 48 assists.

O'Brien Says 67 Feet Maximum In Shot Put

LOS ANGELES (AP) — World record holder Parry O'Brien says 67 feet is the maximum possible distance in the shot put.

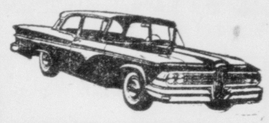

The two-time Olympic champion and world record holder at 63 feet 2 inches explains it this way:

"Within the confines of a 7-foot circle nobody, no matter how big, can put the shot more than 67 feet. The circle limits the operating area, and no matter how huge a man may be or how strong, as he gets bigger his operating space becomes smaller."

Pensacola Golf Leader Has 'Double Incentive'

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — The half-way leader in the $15,000 Pensacola Open Golf Tournament, Paul Harney, has a double incentive for a good showing here.

One is the money. The other is the chance of playing in his first Masters Tournament at Augusta, Ga.

The lean distance-hitter from Worcester, Mass., blazed a 7-under par 65 Friday over the 6,500-yard course for a 36-hole total of 134.

Two strokes behind was Chandler Harper of Portsmouth, Va., with 69-67—136.

Art Wall Jr. of Pocono Manor, Pa., and Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., had 137s. Pete Cooper of Lakeland, Fla., had a 138.

Seven amateurs and 64 pros qualified for the final two round. The cutoff point was 68. Among those still in is defending champion Doug Ford with 78-68—146.

Victims of the cutoff included George Bayer and Tommy Jacobs at 149; Gardner Dickinson, John McMullin, Bob Watson, Ed Oliver and Dick Mayer at 150; Gene Littler 151; Al Besselink, Julius Boros, Al Ferree and Dick Knight 152.

Harney, one of the top players in golf for two years, still is aiming for his first Masters. The Masters, on the basis of a point system during the winter tour of PGA tournaments, invites two players who are not otherwise eligible for or invited to the Augusta event.

Going into the Pensacola Open, McMullin was leading in this point system with 105 and Harney was second with 82½.

With McMullin out of contention here and only the St. Petersburg, Fla., meet and Azalea Open at Wilmington, N. C., remaining before the Masters, Harney has a good chance to put himself in position to be invited.

West Virginia Racing Group Waits On Pending Legislation

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. (AP) — The West Virginia Racing Commission had a little more than an informal discussion here yesterday before Chairman Malcom Lowe of Parkersburg announced the three-member group would wait on pending legislation.

Lowe, who met at Shenandoah Downs here with William D. Polan of Martinsburg and James E. McClure of Wheeling, said a bill passed by the House of Delegates was sent back to the State Senate yesterday, and that's the measure the commission is interested in.

The bill would revise the law governing licensing of tracks and granting of racing dates. The commission will wait, Lowe said, to see if the governor vetoes the bill. If the measure is enacted, then the commission will ask the attorney general's office for an opinion on the constitutionality of the law.

Lowe said once the racing bill is disposed of, he will call a meeting of the commission to act on dates and officials for the state's four race tracks. Tentative dates already have been set for all four.

The old Charles Town track would not be affected by new legislation because it has not been leased for operations. But dates tentatively set for Wheeling Downs and Waterford Park in the Northern Panhandle would be affected.

Shenandoah Downs, the state's newest track, is scheduled to open here May 1 for night flat racing.

Bahama Defeats Canadian Champ In Easy Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)—With a decisive victory over Canadian champion Wilfie Greaves to his credit, Yama Bahama became real ambitious today.

The classy boxer from the Bahamas now wants shots at Dick Tiger, the British Empire middleweight champion from Nigeria, and former world middleweight rulers Carmen Basilio and Gene Fullmer.

Bahama looked like he belonged with the top ten middleweights in winning the unanimous ten-round decision at the Garden Friday night. The bout was broadcast and televised nationally.

Greaves was a perfect foil for the sharpshooting, fisherman-fighter from Bimini.

Wilfie, 160¼ pounds, kept wading in and Yama, 153, kept popping him with stinging left jabs.

Referee Art Mercante had Bahama in front, 6-4 in rounds. The two judges made Yama's margin larger. Artie Aidello made it 7-3 and Leo Birnbaum, 8-2. The AP card had Yama ahead, 7-3. Greaves was penalized the sixth round for low blows.

Twin Bills Set In NIT Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The 22nd edition of the National Invitation Basketball Tournament continues today with doubleheaders on both the matinee and evening programs at Madison Square Garden and Bradley still the team to beat.

The Peoria Braves (23-3) go into action tonight as seven-point favorites against sharpshooting Butler (19-8). This will be a quarter-final game, as will the other half of the twin bill—St. Bonaventure (20-2) against St. John's (17-6). The latter is a pick-'em affair.

During the afternoon the first round was to be completed.

Manhattan (15-5) was a three-point favorite over Providence (18-5) and New York University (12-7) rated five points over Denver (14-9).

Bradley played in the Garden earlier this year and put an abrupt end to St. John's winning streak of eight games. But, even more important, the Braves had a decision against big Oscar Robertson and his Cincinnati club to their credit.

Butler is a smooth-working outfit, which has proved to be a little weak on defense. The team gets fine rebounding jobs from Johnny Jones and Ken Pennington, who also toss in points along with Billy Scott.

Bee-Gees With 61 At Halfway Mark Lead Swim Meet

KENT, Ohio (AP) — Bowling Green led with 61 points at the halfway mark of the Mid-American Conference swimming meet today in its quest for a third straight title.

Miami, with 58½ points, provided the main competition for the defending champions. Ohio University was third with 44 points, followed by Western Michigan with 30½ and Kent State with 20.

Bill Mulliken of Miami, who broke the conference record in the 1,500-meter freestyle Thursday, gave another record-breaking performance Friday night. He swam the 100-yard breast stroke in 1:06.3, which broke the record of 1:10.9 set by Jim Thompson of Bowling Green in the 1958 meet.

Hank Reest of Bowling Green set a record in the 200-yard freestyle with a time of 2:08.8, compared with the previous record of 2:15.7 set by Ray Martin of Bowling Green last year.

World Record Holder Covers Mile In 3:58.9

BRISBANE (AP) — Australia's Herb Elliott, holder of the mile world record, ran a 3:58.9 mile today in the old Centenary Athletic Championships at New Lang Park. This compares to his world mark of 3:54.5.

Elliott, who recently returned from a visit to the United States and Canada, went the first quarter in 59 seconds, the half-mile in 2:01 and the three-quarters in 3:03.

Merv Lincoln took the lead the second time around the 440-yard oval, but Elliott stayed on his heels and passed him halfway around on the final circuit.

Bailey Drives In Pair But Redlegs Lose, 6-2

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Ed Bailey will have to show he has his hitting touch again if he expects to catch a lot of games for Cincinnati's Reds this season.

The prospects, however, seem good. Bailey accounted for both Redleg runs Friday in an exhibition game against Baltimore's Orioles—singling in one marker and banging his second Grapefruit League home run.

But the Reds lost, 6-2.

The sturdy 27-year-old citizen of Strawberry Plains, Tenn., has steadily slipped at the plate since his .300 hitting season in 1956.

But he has hit safely six times in 17 Grapefruit League trips this spring.

There's another catcher in camp, ambitious Dutch Dotterer who is just as good a backstop as Bailey, but no great shakes as a hitter.

Bailey has worked hard at training camp sessions here. He said, "I'd like to catch at least 125 games this season."

And he still looms big in the plans of manager Mayo Smith. Smith said recently, "if we could get another starting pitcher and if Gus Bell and Ed Bailey have the year I know they can, we'll be real tough."

The solution may be to bring Dotterer up from the minors anyway to spell Bailey — especially in the hot hard days of mid-season.

Smith said, "So far, I like what I've seen of Dutch. He's a fine receiver, handles pitchers well, can throw with the best and can hit a ball downtown when he connects."

Bailey, with the Reds since 1954—except for a brief disappearance into the minors in '55—had his best season in 1956 when he belted 28 homers, drove in 75 runs, appeared in 118 games and won the tag of sophomore of the year.

Tennessee A&I-Pacific Quint In NAIA Final

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It will be defending champion Tennessee A. & I. versus Pacific Lutheran tonight in the finals of the National Intercollegiate Basketball Tournament.

The battle for the 21st championship is bound to be a thriller if it fits the pattern of Friday night's struggle in which Tennessee A & I. emerged the victor, 64-62, over Southwest Texas State.

Tennessee pulled that one out in the final 14 seconds, and will face Pacific Lutheran tonight after a consolation game for third place between Southwest Texas and Fort Hays (Kan.) State, Lutheran's semifinal victim 80-71.

The Tigers from Nashville were two minutes away from defeat when their comeback against the Texas Bobcats began to jell. The screaming, standing crowd of 7,500 sensed an upset.

The clock read 2:02 to go when John Barnhill hit an outside layup for a 62-61 lead, the Tennesseans' first of the game. Rudy Davalos of Southwest drew a foul and tied the count at 62-all.

With 1:26 left, A. & I. started passing the ball around for one telling shot. Dick Barnett got it on a rebound.

Lutheran and Fort Hays traded leads three times and tied the game up in five more instances before the Tacoma, Wash., club went out in front to stay shortly before intermission.

Chuck Curtis, Jim Van Beek and Roger Iverson, all playing their fourth tournament here, were too much for the hot and cold Kansans. Curtis was high scorer with 31 points.

Chicago Keglers Roll Into Second Spot In ABC Play

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Every member of Chicago's Old Fitzgerald team needed to strike out in the final frame to overtake the Detroit Pfeiffers as the leaders of the American Bowling Congress Tournament Friday night. The best the quintet could muster was one double and the Fitzgeralds were relegated to second place with their 3203 series.

The Pfeiffers continued their domination of the tournament with a record-breaking 3243 series.

The Fitzgeralds became the only team in the first 28 days of the tournament to roll three 1000 games. Their skein included lines of 1027, 1086 and 1089.

Tony Lindemann and George Howard of the Detroit Stroh's collaborated for 1308 and fifth place in the doubles, the only other major development of the day. Lindemann carried the load with 695 as Howard chipped in 613.

David Jenkins of Colorado Springs won the 1957 and 1958 world's figure skating titles. He was a bronze medalist in the 1956 Olympics.

Knicks Upset By Syracuse

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Attention in the National Basketball Assn.'s preliminary playoffs moves to the Western division tonight with vastly improved Syracuse holding a one-game edge over New York in the East.

The third-place Detroit Pistons go against the second-place Minneapolis Lakers at St. Paul in the opener of the best-of-three Western semifinals to determine a challenger to the division champion St. Louis Hawks.

If the result is anything like the opener in the East, the Pistons are ready to spring a surprise.

The New York Knickerbockers, after bagging nine of 12 regular season games from Syracuse, were five-point favorites Friday night. Instead, the Nationals outplayed them all the way—winding up with a 129-123 victory in a game that set a playoff record for total points by two teams.

Dolph Schayes with 35 points and rookie Hal Greer with 16 points led the Nationals. They can wrap up the series and a shot at Eastern champion Boston in a best-of-seven final by defeating New York in Syracuse Sunday afternoon. The game will be televised nationally (NBC), at 2:30 p.m., EST.

After tonight's opener, Detroit and Minneapolis head for Detroit and play the second game of the Western semifinals Sunday afternoon. If a third game is needed, it will be played at Minneapolis Wednesday night.

If a third game is needed in the East, it will be at New York Monday night.

Evansville, Ind. Wins NCAA Small College Tourney

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—This Southern Indiana basketball hotbed still was hopping today.

The Evansville College Aces are the newly crowned NCAA small college basketball champions and a hometown product of the team is the tourney's outstanding player.

The Aces thrilled 8,651 fans Friday night by trimming Southwest Missouri of Springfield 83-67 for the title. The winners' ball-hawking guard, senior Al Ahlering, was acclaimed the meet's most valuable player.

The North Carolina Aggies took third place, whipping Los Angeles 101-84 with Joe Cotton topping six double-figure shooters with 17 points. Bill Heynen, with 22 points led Los Angeles.

Evansville sped to a 44-38 halftime margin and Southwest's Bears never could whittle it down. Ed Smallwood of Evansville headed the scoring with 24 points.

Southwest's Jack Israel was the Bears' big gun with 23 points.

Kentucky Toppled, 76-61; West Virginia, Cincy Win

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's defending champions are out but first-ranked Kansas State and three other of the nation's top 10 teams are still in the running for the NCAA major college basketball championship.

Kentucky, seeking its fifth national crown and ranked second nationally, was unexpectedly eliminated by Louisville at Evanston, Ill., Friday night, 76-61.

The defeat of Adolph Rupp's Wildcats by a team that had dropped 10 of 27 games was by far the most astounding of the results of four regional tournaments. Kentucky went into the fray with a 23-2 mark.

Navy, which gained stature by beating North Carolina in a preliminary round last Tuesday, was defeated by lightly regarded Boston University 62-55 in overtime at Charlotte, N. C.

Cincinnati, fifth ranked, Michigan State, No. 7, and West Virginia, No. 10, just managed to squeeze into tonight's regional finals. In contrast, Kansas State, St. Mary's, Calif. and California won in a breeze.

The results of Friday night's games produced this lineup for tonight:

At Charlotte—West Virginia vs. Boston University.

At Evanston — Louisville vs. Michigan State.

At Lawrence, Kan.—Cincinnati vs. Kansas State.

At San Francisco—California vs. St. Mary's.

Cincinnati, with All-America Oscar Robertson carrying the burden, edged big, slow-moving but stubborn Texas Christian 77-73. Robertson got 34 points, slightly above his pacesetting average of 33.2 as the nation's leading scorer.

West Virginia, getting 36 points from All-America Jerry West — 21 in the last nine minutes—came from 18 points back midway of the second half for a 95-92 decision over St. Josephs of Philadelphia.

Michigan State, the rugged Big Ten champ, had a scare thrown into it by Marquette before winning 74-69. The Spartans blew a 15-point lead but pulled it out in the closing minutes on three baskets by Bob Anderegg. Anderegg topped the scorers with 23 points.

Kansas State, Big Eight champion, rolled to a 102-70 victory over DePaul for its 21st successive triumph and a season's mark of 25-1. All-America Bob Boozer got only 16 points, far below his 25-plus average, but Wally Frank came through with 23—far more than usual.

Neither game of the Far West Regional produced the unexpected. St. Mary's overpowered Idaho State 80-71, and California, the nation's No. 1 defensive team, romped to its 13th straight victory, downing Utah, best of the Skyline Conference, 71-53.

Sophomore Tom Meschery and senior Laroy Doss were St. Mary's big guns. Meschery, hitting on six long shots in eight attempts, was the show in the first half and Doss took over in the second. Meschery ended up with 19 points and Doss with 21.

Utah gave California a struggle in the early minutes of the second half, but then the Golden Bears tightened their famous defense and that was all for the Utes.

Evansville won the NCAA small college title by beating Southwest Missouri 83-67 at Evansville, Ind.

Defending champion Tennessee A&I and Pacific Lutheran gained the finals of the NAIA at Kansas City. The highly touted Negro team from Tennessee had a close call, coming from behind to nip Southwest Texas 64-62, and Pacific Luthern beat Fort Hays, Kan. State 80-71. The finals will be played tonight.

Weirton's Victor; Princeton's Upset

By DICK LEONARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We just got lucky and I guess the pressure of being the No. 1 team in the state finally got them," Beckley Coach Jerome Van Meter said today in reference to the 75-74 basketball upset over proud Princeton.

It was the biggest shocker so far in this 46th annual tourney grind as the survivors go down to the wire tonight in the battling for coveted berths in the finals at Huntington next Friday and Saturday.

One Class AAA and one Class A berth were decided last night.

South Charleston nipped Huntington, 71-68, in AAA action while Piedmont beat Rowlesburg, 73-65, in the Class A Area 2 playoff.

All other finalists in the three-division, 12 - team affair at Huntington will be determined tonight.

Van Meter, who has coached Beckley to six state high school basketball titles since 1946, said the victory over Princeton last night "was about as good as any I ever had to do with."

The victory came despite a brilliant 45 - point performance by Princeton's fabulous Rod Thorn and despite the fact that Beckley's No. 1 scorer - Ned Ragland - sat out the game with an ankle injury. Ragland had averaged around 18 points a game.

"I honestly feel it's a shame it had to happen to Thorn," Van Meter explained. "I still think they have the No. 1 team in the state. We just caught them and single - shot them. You can do that in a tournament."

The 58 - year - old Beckley mentor said his team tried to stop Thorn, but just couldn't.

"We tried to do the best we could — cause he can beat you," Van Meter declared.

The outcome gave Beckley an 18-4 record as compared to 20-2 for Princeton, rated as the prime favorite to win the tourney.

Beckley, down 61-57 at the three-quarter mark, went ahead to stay at 75-74 on a fielder by Sam Cohen with 45 seconds left. The Tigers elected to hold onto the ball for just one shot. Thorn missed on a jumper in the last three seconds and that killed the Tigers. Bill Barnard led Beckley with 24 points while Glen Smith added 14.

Beckley now plays DuPont (18-5) tonight in the Region 3 finals.

Elsewhere in Class AAA competition, Weirton licked Clarksburg Washington Irving, 72-68, in Region 1 at Moundsville. Mike Tomasovich with 16 points and Willie Tucker with 18 were high for the Red Riders. Gary Frost netted 17 for the losers.

Weirton, which plays Moundsville in the finals, drubbed the Trojans at home during the season, 87-56.

Richwood laid it on Martinsburg, 86-70, and Fairmont West squeaked past Elkins, 69-68, in overtime in the Region 2 proceedings at Morgantown. Bob Clemens was high for Richwood with 28 points while Martinsburg's Olen Haynes had 16.

Fairmont, tied 62-62 with Elkins at the end of regulation time, got the winning points on a pair of free throws by Joe Tristini. Tristini topped the Polar Bears with 19 tallies while Joe McAndree garnered 24 for Elkins.

South Charleston's Black Eagles had too much balance for Corky Layman and his Huntington crew. Layman sparked a comeback surge that just fell short with a 12-point effort in the last period. The little guy, one of the brightest cage stars of the campaign, finished with 24 markers.

The Eagles, hotter than a $2 pistol at the foul line, canned 28 of 38 free throws as against 14 of 20 by Huntington to offset the 27-21 field goal deficit.

Jay Dietz led the Eagles with 18 points while Carl Ward, Buzzy Harrison and Bill Londeree chipped in with 16 each.

There was a quartet of AA regional games played. Point Pleasant thumped New Martinsville, 69-37, and Clay - Battelle edged Follansbee, 43-41, in Region 1 at Parkersburg.

Weston licked Gassaway, 57-53, and Parsons got past Keyser, 77-73, in overtime at Weston.

Tonight's schedule:

Class AAA

Reg. 1 at Moundsville - Weirton (17-5) vs. Moundsville (12-10).

Reg. 2 at Morgantown - Richwood (18-4) vs. Fairmont West (18-4).

Reg. 3 at Fayetteville - DuPont (18-5) vs. Beckley (18-4).

Reg. 4 South Charleston champion.

Class AA

Reg. 1 at Parkersburg - Pt. Pleasant (14-10) vs. Clay-Battelle (17-5).

Reg. 2 at Weston - Parsons (20-1) vs. Weston (18-6).

Reg. 3 at Princeton - Northfork-Elkhorn (22-1) vs. Peterstown (17-6).

Reg. 4 at St. Albans-Lookout (17-6) vs. Matewan (23-1).

Class A

Area 1 at Fairmont - Sherrard (19-5) vs. Fairview (18-6).

Area 3 at Hinton - White Sulphur Springs (19-6) vs. Athens (18-7).

Area 4 at Shady Spring - Ansted (23-0) vs. Williamson Liberty (20-4).

DID YOU EVER GET FEELING that you couldn't get out of the way of your own feet? New York's Kenny Sears and Syracuse' Larry Costello (6) both went after the ball during their game Friday night at New York, but Sears found a sneaker staring him in the face. Things were not much better for the Knicks the rest of the night. They lost to Syracuse, 129-123, in the first round of the NBA playoffs. (UPI Telephoto)

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dennis B. Starn, boilerman third class on the Navy destroyer USS O'Brien, and son of Fred W. Starn, Berea, Ohio, died Friday on a hospital ship from effects of alcohol poisoning.

Auditor Refuses Fox Bounty After Ruling Of 'Illegal'

LISBON — Auditor Kenneth Bell has decided not to pay a fox bounty because Prosecutor G. William Brokaw ruled that reimbursement of hunters for killing the varmints would be illegal.

Columbiana County commissioners failed to appropriate funds for the bounty at their organization meeting Jan. 5, later claiming they lacked advice.

The prosecutor said meanwhile that "the law is clear and unambiguous that fox bounty funds must be set up at the organization meeting and that such a resolution shall govern the ensuing year."

The prosecutor said that in view of the above and in a specific answer to Bell, it is his opinion that the county auditor may not legally pay a fox bounty to anyone this current year.

Bell said that under these conditions, he would not pay a fox bounty even after the county commissioners had appropriated $900 for this purpose at a later meeting.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office in the Courthouse has been taking the fox feet since the first of the year but no payments have been made so far, the auditor said.

Killed In Collision

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Jo Ann Mooney, 26, was killed Friday in an auto collision on U. S. 22 near the Hamilton County line. The State Highway Patrol said she was apparently a passenger in a car that pulled out of a private driveway into the path of another car.

ASPCA Head Dies

BRONXVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Warren W. McSpadden, 55, general manager of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, died Friday. He joined the ASPCA as director of education in 1940. He previously was on the faculty of Teacher's College, Columbia University.

Editors Told U.S. Had Every Right To Invite Castro

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Department has told the American Society of Newspaper Editors that it "had every right to invite" Dr. Fidel Castro, Cuban prime minister, to the United States.

George W. Healy Jr., president of the ASNE and editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune, released Friday the text of a wire approving the invitation from R. R. Rubottom Jr., assistant secretary of state for inter-american affairs. Healy said he received the wire from Rubottom March 7.

Healy released the telegram after Charles J. Lewin, editor of the New Bedford (Mass.) Standard-Times, had protested that the invitation to Castro — to attend the ASNE April 17 convention in Washington — "is an insult to many member editors."

Contrary to some reports, Rubottom said in his wire, the State Department "has never objected to ASNE inviting Dr. Castro. ASNE had every right to invite Dr. Castro as he had every right to accept."

Brides Seeking Jobless Pay In New York State

NEW YORK (AP) — The State Employment Division reports it has been deluged with calls from brides seeking unemployment insurance.

The calls came after the Court of Appeals handed down a decision in a 1956 case granting unemployment benefits to a woman who quit her job as a clerk to marry and move to another part of the state.

The courts held that since she quit her job for a good cause, to be near her husband, and she began looking for a new job when she arrived at her new home, she was entitled to benefits.

The division says it is explaining this to the women who call in, telling them they must have remained actively in the labor market to qualify. Women who marry men in the same city or quit their jobs to become housewives aren't eligible, the agency said.

U.S. Meets Canada In World Hockey Event

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia (AP) —The United States, still hopeful of gaining the world ice hockey championship, meets undefeated Canada tonight in a vital game for both teams.

The Canadians, having won their three games, must defeat the Americans and win their final match against the Czechs Sunday to clinch the title. The U.S. team upset the Czechs 4-2 Friday night to make its won-lost record 3-1. The Americans, who close out their schedule, need a victory to stay in contention.

Russia, with two victories in three starts, plays winless Finland in an earlier game tonight.

Red Sox Beat Indians, 8-5

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Gene Stephens hit a two-run homer which sparked the Boston Red Sox to an 8-5 exhibition game win over the Cleveland Indians Friday night before 7,538 spectators.

Ted Williams, playing here for the first time since 1941, grounded out twice and walked before retiring for a pinch-runner in the sixth inning.

It was Williams first exhibition start of 1959 and the colorful Sox slugger was given a rousing reception by his home town fans each time he came to bat.

Trailing 5-2 in the sixth inning, the Red Sox scored four runs off Johnny Briggs, Cleveland's losing pitcher. Stephens drove in the winning run during the rally.

Rocky Colavito's hot bat continued to serve the Indians. He drove in two runs with a double and a homer, his third in six exhibition games.

Tom Borland, a rookie southpaw, was credited with the Boston victory.

Gary Bell started for the Tribe and retired the first 10 batters before former Indian Vic Wertz belted a double. With two out Jackie Jensen tripled, scoring Wertz, and Stephens sent Jensen home with a double.

Dick Stigman took over in the seventh for Cleveland after Boston collected two more runs off Briggs. Stigman hurled scoreless ball the rest of the way.

The Indians play the Red Sox here again tonight and Sunday afternoon.

Tallest member of North Dakota's freshman basketball team is 6-foot-6 Dave Hanson, a 210-pounder from Thief River Falls, Minn.

Surgeon Says Boy To Be OK After Heart Operation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The surgeon who opened a closed valve in the heart of 11-year-old Michael Hayes said today the boy is going to be "all right" and that the operation was a success.

Michael, a fifth grader from the Lawrence County community of Willow Wood, underwent a 3½-hour operation at Children's Hospital here Friday to correct the defective heart valve.

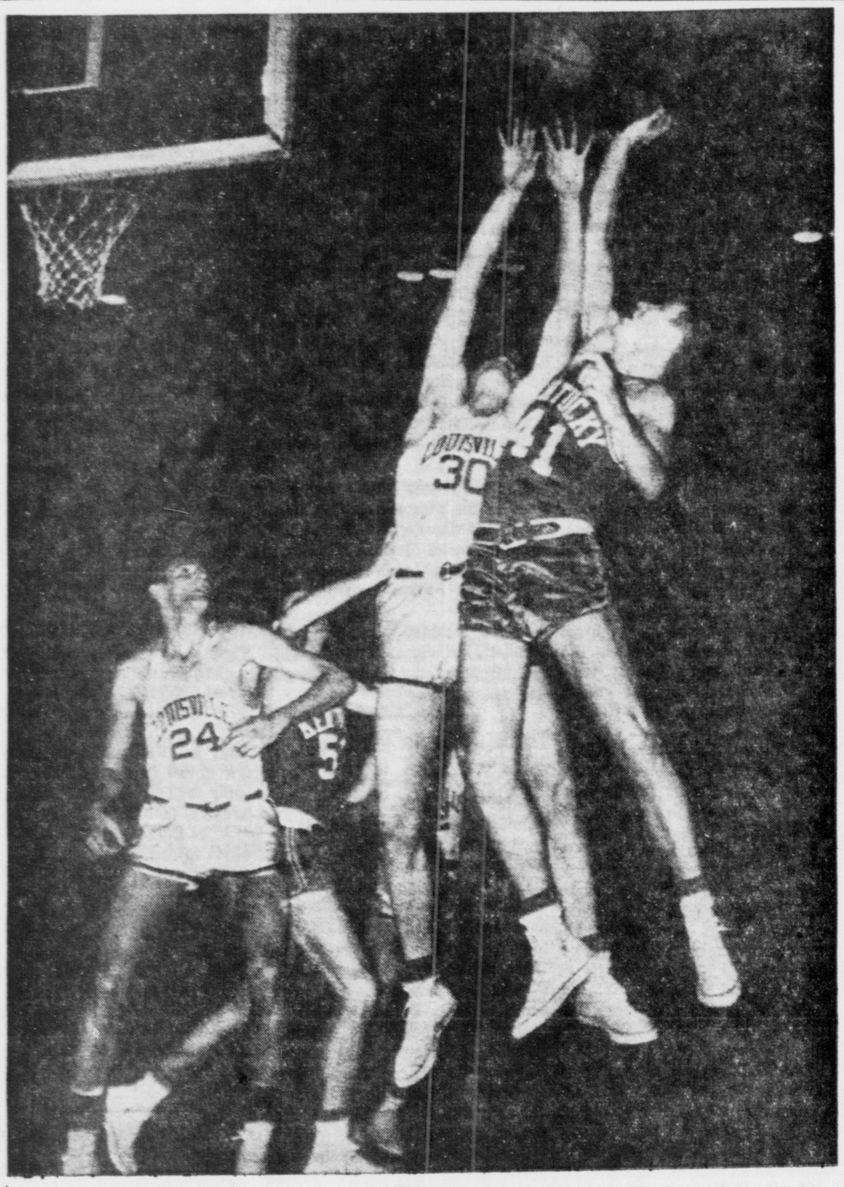

Cheering him on are eight Marines, regulars and reservists, from Huntington, W. Va., who donated some of the 25 pints of blood which were needed for transfusions. Friends and relatives supplied the rest.

Michael was "holding his own" in the hospital's intensive care ward early today while nurses kept a close watch on him. He was reported in fair condition.

Kentucky Toppled, 76-61; West Virginia, Cincy Win

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Kentucky's defending champions are out but first-ranked Kansas State and three other of the nation's top 10 teams are still in the running for the NCAA major college basketball championship.

Kentucky, seeking its fifth national crown and ranked second nationally, was unexpectedly eliminated by Louisville at Evanston, Ill., Friday night, 76-61.

The defeat of Adolph Rupp's Wildcats by a team that had dropped 10 of 27 games was by far the most astounding of the results of four regional tournaments. Kentucky went into the fray with a 23-2 mark.

Navy, which gained stature by beating North Carolina in a preliminary round last Tuesday, was defeated by lightly regarded Boston University 62-55 in overtime at Charlotte, N. C.

Cincinnati, fifth ranked, Michigan State, No. 7, and West Virginia, No. 10, just managed to squeeze into tonight's regional finals. In contrast, Kansas State, St. Mary's, Calif. and California won in a breeze.

The results of Friday night's games produced this lineup for tonight:

At Charlotte—West Virginia vs. Boston University.

At Evanston — Louisville vs. Michigan State.

At Lawrence, Kan.—Cincinnati vs. Kansas State.

At San Francisco—California vs. St. Mary's.

Cincinnati, with All-America Oscar Robertson carrying the burden, edged big, slow-moving but stubborn Texas Christian 77-73. Robertson got 34 points, slightly above his pacesetting average of 33.2 as the nation's leading scorer.

West Virginia, getting 36 points from All-America Jerry West — 21 in the last nine minutes—came from 18 points back midway of the second half for a 95-92 decision over St. Josephs of Philadelphia.

Michigan State, the rugged Big Ten champ, had a scare thrown into it by Marquette before winning 74-69. The Spartans blew a 15-point lead but pulled it out in the closing minutes on three baskets by Bob Anderegg. Anderegg topped the scorers with 23 points.

Kansas State, Big Eight champion, rolled to a 102-70 victory over DePaul for its 21st successive triumph and a season's mark of 25-1. All-America Bob Boozer got only 16 points, far below his 25-plus average, but Wally Frank came through with 23—far more than usual.

Neither game of the Far West Regional produced the unexpected. St. Mary's overpowered Idaho State 80-71, and California, the nation's No. 1 defensive team, romped to its 13th straight victory, downing Utah, best of the Skyline Conference, 71-53.

Sophomore Tom Meschery and senior Laroy Doss were St. Mary's big guns. Meschery, hitting on six long shots in eight attempts, was the show in the first half and Doss took over in the second. Meschery ended up with 19 points and Doss with 21.

Utah gave California a struggle in the early minutes of the second half, but then the Golden Bears tightened their famous defense and that was all for the Utes.

Evansville won the NCAA small college title by beating Southwest Missouri 83-67 at Evansville, Ind.

Defending champion Tennessee A&I and Pacific Lutheran gained the finals of the NAIA at Kansas City. The highly touted Negro team from Tennessee had a close call, coming from behind to nip Southwest Texas 64-62, and Pacific Luthern beat Fort Hays, Kan. State 80-71. The finals will be played tonight.

Weirton's Victor; Princeton's Upset

By DICK LEONARD
Associated Press Sports Writer

"We just got lucky and I guess the pressure of being the No. 1 team in the state finally got them," Beckley Coach Jerome Van Meter said today in reference to the 75-74 basketball upset over proud Princeton.

It was the biggest shocker so far in this 46th annual tourney grind as the survivors go down to the wire tonight in the battling for coveted berths in the finals at Huntington next Friday and Saturday.

One Class AAA and one Class A berth were decided last night.

South Charleston nipped Huntington, 71-68, in AAA action while Piedmont beat Rowlesburg, 73-65, in the Class A Area 2 playoff.

All other finalists in the three-division, 12 - team affair at Huntington will be determined tonight.

Van Meter, who has coached Beckley to six state high school basketball titles since 1946, said the victory over Princeton last night "was about as good as any I ever had to do with."

The victory came despite a brilliant 45 - point performance by Princeton's fabulous Rod Thorn and despite the fact that Beckley's No. 1 scorer - Ned Ragland - sat out the game with an ankle injury. Ragland had averaged around 18 points a game.

"I honestly feel it's a shame it had to happen to Thorn," Van Meter explained. "I still think they have the No. 1 team in the state. We just caught them and single - shot them. You can do that in a tournament."

The 58 - year - old Beckley mentor said his team tried to stop Thorn, but just couldn't.

"We tried to do the best we could — cause he can beat you," Van Meter declared.

The outcome gave Beckley an 18-4 record as compared to 20-2 for Princeton, rated as the prime favorite to win the tourney.

Beckley, down 61-57 at the three-quarter mark, went ahead to stay at 75-74 on a fielder by Sam Cohen with 45 seconds left. The Tigers elected to hold onto the ball for just one shot. Thorn missed on a jumper in the last three seconds and that killed the Tigers. Bill Barnard led Beckley with 24 points while Glen Smith added 14.

Beckley now plays DuPont (18-5) tonight in the Region 3 finals.

Elsewhere in Class AAA competition, Weirton licked Clarksburg Washington Irving, 72-68, in Region 1 at Moundsville. Mike Tomasovich with 16 points and Willie Tucker with 18 were high for the Red Riders. Gary Frost netted 17 for the losers.

Weirton, which plays Moundsville in the finals, drubbed the Trojans at home during the season, 87-56.

Richwood laid it on Martinsburg, 86-70, and Fairmont West squeaked past Elkins, 69-68, in overtime in the Region 2 proceedings at Morgantown. Bob Clemens was high for Richwood with 28 points while Martinsburg's Olen Haynes had 16.

Fairmont, tied 62-62 with Elkins at the end of regulation time, got the winning points on a pair of free throws by Joe Tristini. Tristini topped the Polar Bears with 19 tallies while Joe McAndree garnered 24 for Elkins.

South Charleston's Black Eagles had too much balance for Corky Layman and his Huntington crew. Layman sparked a comeback surge that just fell short with a 12-point effort in the last period. The little guy, one of the brightest cage stars of the campaign, finished with 24 markers.

The Eagles, hotter than a $2 pistol at the foul line, canned 28 of 38 free throws as against 14 of 20 by Huntington to offset the 27-21 field goal deficit.

Jay Dietz led the Eagles with 18 points while Carl Ward, Buzzy Harrison and Bill Londeree chipped in with 16 each.

There was a quartet of AA regional games played. Point Pleasant thumped New Martinsville, 69-37, and Clay - Battelle edged Follansbee, 43-41, in Region 1 at Parkersburg.

Weston licked Gassaway, 57-53, and Parsons got past Keyser, 77-73, in overtime at Weston.

Tonight's schedule:

Class AAA

Reg. 1 at Moundsville - Weirton (17-5) vs. Moundsville (12-10).

Reg. 2 at Morgantown - Richwood (18-4) vs. Fairmont West (18-4).

Reg. 3 at Fayetteville - DuPont (18-5) vs. Beckley (18-4).

Reg. 4 South Charleston champion.

Class AA

Reg. 1 at Parkersburg - Pt. Pleasant (14-10) vs. Clay-Battelle (17-5).

Reg. 2 at Weston - Parsons (20-1) vs. Weston (18-6).

Reg. 3 at Princeton - Northfork-Elkhorn (22-1) vs. Peterstown (17-6).

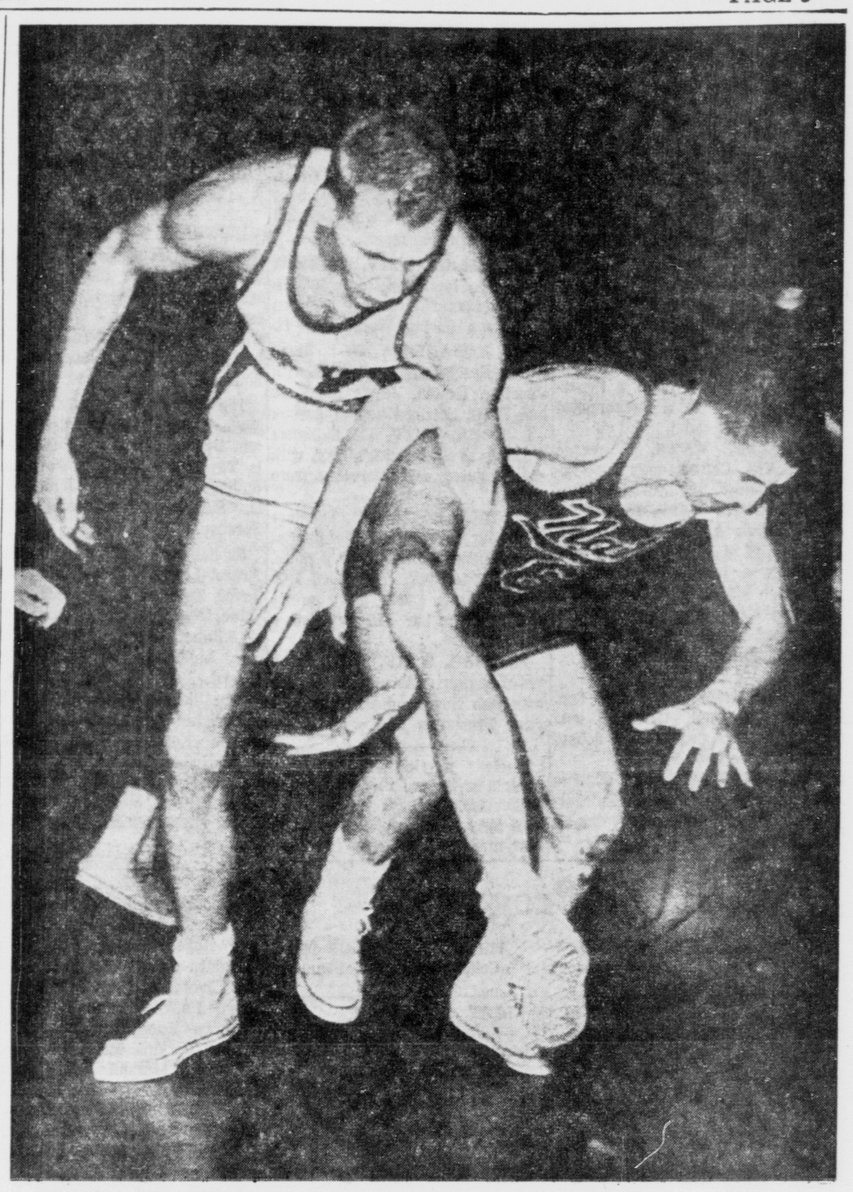

Reg. 4 at St. Albans-Lookout (17-6) vs. Matewan (23-1).

Class A

Area 1 at Fairmont - Sherrard (19-5) vs. Fairview (18-6).

Area 3 at Hinton - White Sulphur Springs (19-6) vs. Athens (18-7).

Area 4 at Shady Spring - Ansted (23-0) vs. Williamson Liberty (20-4).

DID YOU EVER GET FEELING that you couldn't get out of the way of your own feet? New York's Kenny Sears and Syracuse' Larry Costello (6) both went after the ball during their game Friday night at New York, but Sears found a sneaker staring him in the face. Things were not much better for the Knicks the rest of the night. They lost to Syracuse, 129-123, in the first round of the NBA playoffs. (UPI Telephoto)

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dennis B. Starn, boilerman third class on the Navy destroyer USS O'Brien, and son of Fred W. Starn, Berea, Ohio, died Friday on a hospital ship from effects of alcohol poisoning.

Auditor Refuses Fox Bounty After Ruling Of 'Illegal'

LISBON — Auditor Kenneth Bell has decided not to pay a fox bounty because Prosecutor G. William Brokaw ruled that reimbursement of hunters for killing the varmints would be illegal.

Columbiana County commissioners failed to appropriate funds for the bounty at their organization meeting Jan. 5, later claiming they lacked advice.

The prosecutor said meanwhile that "the law is clear and unambiguous that fox bounty funds must be set up at the organization meeting and that such a resolution shall govern the ensuing year."

The prosecutor said that in view of the above and in a specific answer to Bell, it is his opinion that the county auditor may not legally pay a fox bounty to anyone this current year.

Bell said that under these conditions, he would not pay a fox bounty even after the county commissioners had appropriated $900 for this purpose at a later meeting.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan's office in the Courthouse has been taking the fox feet since the first of the year but no payments have been made so far, the auditor said.

Killed In Collision

LEBANON, Ohio (AP)—Mrs. Jo Ann Mooney, 26, was killed Friday in an auto collision on U. S. 22 near the Hamilton County line. The State Highway Patrol said she was apparently a passenger in a car that pulled out of a private driveway into the path of another car.

Casino Gets Back $9,000 From Hot Dicer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A gambling casino has gotten back $9,000 of the $35,000 a Californian won during a hot run of dice at the crap table.

Jack Callie of Beverly Hills, the lucky shooter, started with $10 and during his fantastic streak everyone who could crowd up to the table was betting along with him. In two hours the house was reported to have lost $112,000.

A spokesman for the Casino said Callie came back the next night and dropped $9,000 before deciding his luck had run out. He is president of the Beverly Hills Bridge Club.

St. Stephen's To Fete Its Basketball Players

The St. Stephen's Episcopal Church basketball team will be honored at a banquet Thursday at the church. Parents of players will be the guests.

Merrill Hall, athletic director of East Liverpool High School, will be speaker. Carl "Pop" Warner, general secretary of the YMCA, will be toastmaster.

Jackets will be presented to the players and trophies will be given to the church.

Pacifists On Parade As Missile Is Shown

DENVER (AP) — Pacifists paraded quietly in the background Friday night as a gleaming white Titan intercontinental ballistic missile was unveiled in Civic Center, facing the Colorado Capitol.

The missile is a gift to the city from the Martin Co., which is producing Titans at its southwest Denver plant. The unarmed weapon will remain on display during Colorado's Centennial Year.

Hays Says Ike Will Be Lucky If He Gets $3 Billion In Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) said today President Eisenhower will be lucky if he gets three billion dollars from Congress out of the nearly four billions he wants for foreign aid.

Hays, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee who has voted for the overseas program in the past, spoke as congressmen eyed for economies the program sent them by the President Friday.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (Mont), the assistant Democratic leader, also suggested a three billion dollar figure—300 millions less than the administration got last year after a stiff fight. Eisenhower proposed $3,929,995,000 for the year starting July 1.

Eisenhower said America's own existence depends on not slackening its aid to others in a Communist-threatened world. If the United States does not use part of its wealth to help others, he said, it could become "the richest nation in the graveyard of history."

The Eisenhower message failed to make much of a case in the eyes of Rep. Otto E. Passman (D-La), chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee which will handle aid funds.

Passman, who calls himself "a leading foreign aid budget-cutter," said U.S. money has if anything tended to push other countries toward the Communist camp and has been spent amid "fantastic, disgraceful waste and profiteering."

Confusion Cause

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Carbon monoxide causes mental confusion before aspyxiation, says Dr. Geoffrey T. Mann, Virginia's chief medical examiner. He says this is one of the reasons why so many persons fail to escape in home fires.

Showers Due With 48 High

Snow Accumulation To Melt By Weekend

Melting of the accumulation of snow, including 1½ inches that fell about late Friday night, was accelerating today as temperatures soared to an expected 44 to 48 degrees.

Showers are expected tonight with the first mild spell since the abnormal March snowstorm and the Ohio weatherman said the climb in the mercury will be accompanied by gusty winds.

The relatively warm weather will last through tonight but it will turn colder Sunday. Tonight's low range will be 36 to 40 degrees — the first night period above freezing since Tuesday.

Dam 8 at Newell said the fresh snow started about 10:30 last night and soon had roads in the usual winter condition — slippery. The snow ended about midnight, leaving about 3 inches on the ground with that remaining from Wednesday's storm.

The highway conditions were compounded as the temperature reached the freezing mark, creating ice of the slush from yesterday's melting.

Seventeen crews from the State Highway Department garage at Leetonia worked last night from 10:30 to about 7:30 a. m. today spreading ashes as the new accumulation quickly slickened the highways. Each crew consists of two men and a truck.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported the roads were clearing in the forenoon.

John Neill Jr., superintendent of the county highway department at Lisbon, said all his crews were on the job this morning and he said he hoped to have the roads cleared by noon.

Charles Kology, chairman of the Chester Council street committee, reported today that the street department had workers out cindering from 10 Friday night until 3 this morning.

5 With Reserve Unit Receive Promotions

Four East Liverpool men and one from Wellsville, members of Co. A. of the 778th Tank Batalion, have been promoted to privates first class.

They are Paul Braslawsce, James A. Moss, Robert D. White, and Frank J. Wolfe of East Liverpool, and Robert K. Yost of Wellsville.

The company will hold its multiple drill Sunday beginning at 8 a. m. at the Poplar Ln. Armory. Classes for the day will be "Tank Platoon In Attack," instructed by Sfc. Stanley Cooper and Sfc. Richard Peterson, and "Tank Platoon Defense," conducted by Sfc. Vincent Ferlaino and Sfc. John Chavis.

Lt. Col. Charles W. Bennington, commander, will visit the unit. Lt. John E. Markanton is company commander.

Council At Wellsville To Act On Flood Matter

Legislation to vacate portions of streets needed for a pondage area at the lower end of town and a resolution authorizing letting of a contract to repair damage to the floodwall electrical system will be acted on by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night at 8.

The pondage area is required to handle the backflow of water through the pumps during floods. The city will vacate portions of 21st and 22nd Sts. and an unnamed alley between Avondale St. and Danbury Ave. The Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh has options on all land in the area needed for the pondage.

The electrical system was damaged last fall when a bulldozer cut a line.

2 Girls Advance By Winning Bee At No. 16 School

Two girls took top honors Friday in a spelldown at No. 16 School, near Wellsville, to advance in the Columbiana County school system competition.

By winning, they qualified for the district eliminations at Salineville March 20.

Miss Kathy Maylone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Maylone, won first place in the fifth and sixth grade divisions, and Miss Kathy Tice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tice, won first place in the seventh and eighth grade class.

Jimmy Falconer won second place in the fifth and sixth grade class. Sue Serafy was named alternate. Second place in the other class went to Linda Wellington, with Donna Parker named alternate.

Judges included Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, Jerry Russell and Mrs. Dorothy Price. Russell was pronouncer.

Nominations Planned By Salineville's PTA

SALINEVILLE — A nominating committee was appointed at a meeting of the Salineville Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at the high school.

The committee, to prepare a slate for election at the next meeting April 9, includes Miss Edna Kirk, Mrs. Esther Yohst, Donald Lewis, Mrs. Louise Johnson and Mrs. Evelyn Smith.

About 45 attended the meeting, at which Fr. Homer Oliver of St. Patrick's Catholic Church spoke on education. The attendance banner was won by the third grade, taught by Miss Kirk.

Discussion was held on the purchase of slag for the grade school playground. Mrs. James Whelan, president, was in charge.

Gov. Underwood Signs Gas Increase Tax Bill

CHARLESTON (AP) — An act of the Legislature to increase West Virginia's gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon effective April 1 has been signed by Gov. Underwood.

The 4½ million dollars in added highway revenue that is expected to result from the increase is earmarked for matching available federal funds in the next fiscal year for construction of the Inter-state Highway System.

The act also increases the portion of gasoline tax receipts that is reserved for rural roads. Under the exiting six cent tax, 1.2 cents on each gallon is earmarked for secondary roads. When the increase goes into effect, two cents out of each seven will be for secondary roads.

Clinic Slated Tuesday At West Point School

LISBON — A pre-school clinic will be held at the West Point School Tuesday morning, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Twenty-one attended the clinic at the Elkton School Friday with 16 receiving immunizations and 13 vaccinations.

Dr. Palmer was assisted by Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, and Mrs. Virginia Torrence, Beaver Local School nurse.

Church Service Set

The Rev. W. L. Hafley will preach at the 10:45 a. m. worship Sunday at the Sheridan African Methodist Episcopal Church. Sunday School will meet at 9:45 with Mrs. Wilanna Smith superintendent.

Court Upsets Mayor's Penalty For Truckers

LISBON — Three Columbiana County truckers won a Common Pleas Court reversal Thursday of their conviction in Leetonia mayor's court on charges of overload. They had appealed.

Judge Joel H. Sharp found that Mayor Ralph Kennedy should have allowed Solomon Horn and Chester Hannah of Lisbon and Harold Barthalow of Columbiana to withdraw their waivers of a jury trial.

The judge ordered the mayor to accept withdrawal of their waivers and then conduct a preliminary hearing and either discharge them or hold them for Common Pleas Court.

They were convicted March 11, 1958, after arrest by the State Highway Patrol on Route 154. They are drivers for the ABC Mining Co. of Lisbon.

3 From Area To Attend District Kaycee Event

Three area members will attend the district meeting of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the Youngstown K. of C. Home.

They are F. R. O'Hanlon, navigator of the Cardinal Mercier Assembly, and W. J. Bamer, district secretary, both of East Liverpool, and Fred Baldassare of Wellsville, district marshal.

Arrangements will be completed for an honor guard in connection with the dedication of the St. Columba Cathedral in Youngstown April 12.

Plans will also be completed for the district fourth degree initiation April 26 at the Pick Ohio Hotel in Youngstown.

J. E. Johnston of East Liverpool, master of the district, will preside.

50 Attend Inspection Of West Point Grange

WEST POINT — Fifty members attended the West Point Grange inspection held Friday evening at the grange hall. Jack Pozenel, deputy master, was the inspecting officer and Mrs. Brigetta Pozenel, juvenile deputy, inspected the juvenile division.

Herman Reuter of Lisbon, soil conservationist, showed a conservation film and entertainment included singing, selections by a men's quartet, quiz and a reading.

Youth Night will be observed March 27 and a public chicken supper will be held April 1.

Casino Gets Back $9,000 From Hot Dicer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A gambling casino has gotten back $9,000 of the $35,000 a Californian won during a hot run of dice at the crap table.

Jack Callie of Beverly Hills, the lucky shooter, started with $10 and during his fantastic streak everyone who could crowd up to the table was betting along with him. In two hours the house was reported to have lost $112,000.

A spokesman for the Casino said Callie came back the next night and dropped $9,000 before deciding his luck had run out. He is president of the Beverly Hills Bridge Club.

St. Stephen's To Fete Its Basketball Players

The St. Stephen's Episcopal Church basketball team will be honored at a banquet Thursday at the church. Parents of players will be the guests.

Merrill Hall, athletic director of East Liverpool High School, will be speaker. Carl "Pop" Warner, general secretary of the YMCA, will be toastmaster.

Jackets will be presented to the players and trophies will be given to the church.

Pacifists On Parade As Missile Is Shown

DENVER (AP) — Pacifists paraded quietly in the background Friday night as a gleaming white Titan intercontinental ballistic missile was unveiled in Civic Center, facing the Colorado Capitol.

The missile is a gift to the city from the Martin Co., which is producing Titans at its southwest Denver plant. The unarmed weapon will remain on display during Colorado's Centennial Year.

Hays Says Ike Will Be Lucky If He Gets $3 Billion In Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) said today President Eisenhower will be lucky if he gets three billion dollars from Congress out of the nearly four billions he wants for foreign aid.

Hays, a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee who has voted for the overseas program in the past, spoke as congressmen eyed for economies the program sent them by the President Friday.

Sen. Mike Mansfield (Mont), the assistant Democratic leader, also suggested a three billion dollar figure—300 millions less than the administration got last year after a stiff fight. Eisenhower proposed $3,929,995,000 for the year starting July 1.

Eisenhower said America's own existence depends on not slackening its aid to others in a Communist-threatened world. If the United States does not use part of its wealth to help others, he said, it could become "the richest nation in the graveyard of history."

The Eisenhower message failed to make much of a case in the eyes of Rep. Otto E. Passman (D-La), chairman of the House Appropriations subcommittee which will handle aid funds.

Passman, who calls himself "a leading foreign aid budget-cutter," said U.S. money has if anything tended to push other countries toward the Communist camp and has been spent amid "fantastic, disgraceful waste and profiteering."

Confusion Cause

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Carbon monoxide causes mental confusion before aspyxiation, says Dr. Geoffrey T. Mann, Virginia's chief medical examiner. He says this is one of the reasons why so many persons fail to escape in home fires.

Showers Due With 48 High

Snow Accumulation To Melt By Weekend

Melting of the accumulation of snow, including 1½ inches that fell about late Friday night, was accelerating today as temperatures soared to an expected 44 to 48 degrees.

Showers are expected tonight with the first mild spell since the abnormal March snowstorm and the Ohio weatherman said the climb in the mercury will be accompanied by gusty winds.

The relatively warm weather will last through tonight but it will turn colder Sunday. Tonight's low range will be 36 to 40 degrees — the first night period above freezing since Tuesday.

Dam 8 at Newell said the fresh snow started about 10:30 last night and soon had roads in the usual winter condition — slippery. The snow ended about midnight, leaving about 3 inches on the ground with that remaining from Wednesday's storm.

The highway conditions were compounded as the temperature reached the freezing mark, creating ice of the slush from yesterday's melting.

Seventeen crews from the State Highway Department garage at Leetonia worked last night from 10:30 to about 7:30 a. m. today spreading ashes as the new accumulation quickly slickened the highways. Each crew consists of two men and a truck.

The Lisbon State Highway Patrol reported the roads were clearing in the forenoon.

John Neill Jr., superintendent of the county highway department at Lisbon, said all his crews were on the job this morning and he said he hoped to have the roads cleared by noon.

Charles Kology, chairman of the Chester Council street committee, reported today that the street department had workers out cindering from 10 Friday night until 3 this morning.

5 With Reserve Unit Receive Promotions

They are Paul Braslawsce, James A. Moss, Robert D. White, and Frank J. Wolfe of East Liverpool, and Robert K. Yost of Wellsville.

The company will hold its multiple drill Sunday beginning at 8 a. m. at the Poplar Ln. Armory. Classes for the day will be "Tank Platoon In Attack," instructed by Sfc. Stanley Cooper and Sfc. Richard Peterson, and "Tank Platoon Defense," conducted by Sfc. Vincent Ferlaino and Sfc. John Chavis.

Lt. Col. Charles W. Bennington, commander, will visit the unit. Lt. John E. Markanton is company commander.

Council At Wellsville To Act On Flood Matter

Legislation to vacate portions of streets needed for a pondage area at the lower end of town and a resolution authorizing letting of a contract to repair damage to the floodwall electrical system will be acted on by Wellsville City Council Tuesday night at 8.

The pondage area is required to handle the backflow of water through the pumps during floods. The city will vacate portions of 21st and 22nd Sts. and an unnamed alley between Avondale St. and Danbury Ave. The Corps of Engineers at Pittsburgh has options on all land in the area needed for the pondage.

The electrical system was damaged last fall when a bulldozer cut a line.

2 Girls Advance By Winning Bee At No. 16 School

Two girls took top honors Friday in a spelldown at No. 16 School, near Wellsville, to advance in the Columbiana County school system competition.

By winning, they qualified for the district eliminations at Salineville March 20.

Miss Kathy Maylone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Maylone, won first place in the fifth and sixth grade divisions, and Miss Kathy Tice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Tice, won first place in the seventh and eighth grade class.

Jimmy Falconer won second place in the fifth and sixth grade class. Sue Serafy was named alternate. Second place in the other class went to Linda Wellington, with Donna Parker named alternate.

Judges included Mrs. Freda Schubert, principal, Jerry Russell and Mrs. Dorothy Price. Russell was pronouncer.

Nominations Planned By Salineville's PTA

SALINEVILLE — A nominating committee was appointed at a meeting of the Salineville Parent-Teacher Association Thursday night at the high school.

The committee, to prepare a slate for election at the next meeting April 9, includes Miss Edna Kirk, Mrs. Esther Yohst, Donald Lewis, Mrs. Louise Johnson and Mrs. Evelyn Smith.

About 45 attended the meeting, at which Fr. Homer Oliver of St. Patrick's Catholic Church spoke on education. The attendance banner was won by the third grade, taught by Miss Kirk.

Discussion was held on the purchase of slag for the grade school playground. Mrs. James Whelan, president, was in charge.

Gov. Underwood Signs Gas Increase Tax Bill

CHARLESTON (AP) — An act of the Legislature to increase West Virginia's gasoline tax from six to seven cents a gallon effective April 1 has been signed by Gov. Underwood.

The 4½ million dollars in added highway revenue that is expected to result from the increase is earmarked for matching available federal funds in the next fiscal year for construction of the Inter-state Highway System.

The act also increases the portion of gasoline tax receipts that is reserved for rural roads. Under the exiting six cent tax, 1.2 cents on each gallon is earmarked for secondary roads. When the increase goes into effect, two cents out of each seven will be for secondary roads.

Clinic Slated Tuesday At West Point School

LISBON — A pre-school clinic will be held at the West Point School Tuesday morning, according to Dr. C. S. Palmer, county health commissioner.

Twenty-one attended the clinic at the Elkton School Friday with 16 receiving immunizations and 13 vaccinations.

Dr. Palmer was assisted by Mrs. Violet Peterson, county health nurse, and Mrs. Virginia Torrence, Beaver Local School nurse.

Church Service Set

The Rev. W. L. Hafley will preach at the 10:45 a. m. worship Sunday at the Sheridan African Methodist Episcopal Church. Sunday School will meet at 9:45 with Mrs. Wilanna Smith superintendent.

Court Upsets Mayor's Penalty For Truckers

LISBON — Three Columbiana County truckers won a Common Pleas Court reversal Thursday of their conviction in Leetonia mayor's court on charges of overload. They had appealed.

Judge Joel H. Sharp found that Mayor Ralph Kennedy should have allowed Solomon Horn and Chester Hannah of Lisbon and Harold Barthalow of Columbiana to withdraw their waivers of a jury trial.

The judge ordered the mayor to accept withdrawal of their waivers and then conduct a preliminary hearing and either discharge them or hold them for Common Pleas Court.

They were convicted March 11, 1958, after arrest by the State Highway Patrol on Route 154. They are drivers for the ABC Mining Co. of Lisbon.

3 From Area To Attend District Kaycee Event

Three area members will attend the district meeting of the Fourth Degree Knights of Columbus Sunday at 2:30 p. m. in the Youngstown K. of C. Home.

They are F. R. O'Hanlon, navigator of the Cardinal Mercier Assembly, and W. J. Bamer, district secretary, both of East Liverpool, and Fred Baldassare of Wellsville, district marshal.

Arrangements will be completed for an honor guard in connection with the dedication of the St. Columba Cathedral in Youngstown April 12.

Plans will also be completed for the district fourth degree initiation April 26 at the Pick Ohio Hotel in Youngstown.

J. E. Johnston of East Liverpool, master of the district, will preside.

50 Attend Inspection Of West Point Grange

WEST POINT — Fifty members attended the West Point Grange inspection held Friday evening at the grange hall. Jack Pozenel, deputy master, was the inspecting officer and Mrs. Brigetta Pozenel, juvenile deputy, inspected the juvenile division.

Herman Reuter of Lisbon, soil conservationist, showed a conservation film and entertainment included singing, selections by a men's quartet, quiz and a reading.

Youth Night will be observed March 27 and a public chicken supper will be held April 1.

The Practice Of Quietness

Some human beings are thrilling. Let me tell you about an inspiration - packed personality. Recently I had a speaking engagement in Savannah. I was glad to be there because it gave me some time to spend with one of the most remarkable human beings I have ever met, a truly inspiring and good friend, Harry Moore. Now, you may never have heard of Harry Moore, but everyone in Savannah knows him. He is the pastor of a Methodist Church there. It is a beautiful church and he built it up to its present status. He comes from a family that knows about building up churches — his father is another great pastor, the Methodist bishop of Atlanta, Arthur J. Moore.

Dr. Peale

TALKING WITH Harry Moore is fun. I'd class him as one of the best tellers of stories south of the Mason and Dixon line. And, believe me, that's no small achievement. Not only is Harry fun, he's interested in just about everything.

"Norman," he asked me, "have you seen any good shows up in New York lately?"

"No," I said, "I'm too busy. I don't get around to shows very often, I'm sorry to say."

He shook his head in mild reproof. "I don't know what's the matter with you. Why, I'm coming up to New York just to see some shows."

"See?" I thought, "See?" For the Rev. Harry Moore is blind and has been blind for some years. But he never seems to think about it and his friends find it easy to forget that he can't see, just as he seems to forget.

I've known Harry Moore for a long time. And I knew him when in his late thirties, he came to New York and heard the tragic news that he would never see again.

AFTER THE specialist told him that he would be blind, he went back to his hotel room on an upper floor. The overwhelming thoughts came to him about all the things he would never see again — the faces of his wife and children, sunsets and sunrises, mountains and valleys.

At that time he still had enough sight left to see from his hotel window down to the street far below. He knew enough mathematics to compute about how long it would take a body to fall from that window ledge to the sidewalk. In 60 seconds he could be through with all of it. He opened the window and grasped the ledge. Then he sank to his knees and asked the Lord to help him.

Just then his father entered the room, came over and put his arm around him. That dangerous moment passed. And, as Harry voiced it later, "In my Dad's supporting love I learned the true meaning of fatherhood."

The next Sunday, still in New York, he came to my church. He came early, before anyone else was there. He sank into the seat, put his head forward on one of the pews, and yielded himself to the spiritual quietness of that empty house of God.

"I never knew before what it was to pray in such depth," he told me later. "But all of a sudden in the holy silence I felt myself get victory." It didn't come all at once, but Harry Moore touched the hand of God and received power. Today he is a great and happy soul and a tremendously effective church leader.

Every troubled soul would do well to heed that Biblical invitation, "Come away by yourselves to a lonely (quiet) place, and rest a while." Many churches and synagogues are open day and night for meditation and prayer. Try the practice of quietness with a spiritual content and see what it can do for you.

NAACP Plans Campaign For Voting Signup

A "register - to - vote" campaign was launched by the East Liverpool branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People at a meeting Thursday night in the Civic League Hall on Beleek St.

Six workers were named to transport residents to the Election Board beginning next week, while committee heads for chapter activities also were selected.

Named for the vote drive are Oliver Lee Spencer, Alonzo Spencer, Joe Lomba, Clyde Christian, Catherine Williams and Dorothy E. Peters.

Committee chairmen are:

Mrs. Roberta Chavis, membership; Mrs. Peters, publicity; Lomba, finance; Byron Carter, community relations; Alonzo Spencer, political action; Oliver Spencer, legal redress; Earl Taylor, labor and industrial relations.

Mrs. Matlean Singleton, education; Mrs. Ann Pack and Mrs. Mariam Lincoln, youth work; John Chavis, fair employment practices, Mrs. Annie Mae Jones, program; Christian, housing; Kenneth Johnson, hospital work, Orin Smith Jr., church work; Mrs. Catherine Williams, entertainment, J. W. Early, chaplain, and the Rev. W. L. Hafley, chairman of the executive board.

In other business conducted by Caesar A. Peters, president, Carter was endorsed as a Republican nominee for councilman - at-large of Wellsville.

The group also voted to send Peters and Rev. Hafley to a Freedom Fund dinner in Columbus April 25. Twenty new memberships were received. Refreshments were served by a social committee.

Midland Catholic Students' Holiday Set Wednesday

A holiday will be allowed pupils of the Midland Presentation Parochial School Wednesday when the new bishop of the Pittsburgh Diocese, the Most Rev. John J. Wright, S.T.D., will be installed at St. Paul's Cathedral in Pittsburgh.

Parishioners of the Presentation Church have been invited to a reception for the new bishop March 22 from 3 to 9 p. m. at Duquesne University.

Pension Sunday will be observed at the 6 a. m., 7:30, 10:30 and noon Masses tomorrow. Christian Mothers will receive Holy Communion at the 7:30 Mass. Fr. Gerard Kelly of Mt. Gallitzin Academy at Baden will speak at the Lenten service Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The fourth in a series of marriage courses will be conducted Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the school. Stations of the Cross will be heard Friday at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Fr. Robert P. Garland, an assistant pastor, announced that lay teachers for the next term are needed to teach in the Presentation School. Men or women interested may contact the principal, Sister Margaretta, at MI 3-2730.

Gunman Gets $9,200

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Two gunmen sat in the Louisville Road Tavern drinking for 25 minutes Friday afternoon and then held up the place and escaped with $9,200. They met the owner, Frank Demeter, when he returned from a bank and took the $7,200 he had gotten to cash payroll checks and $2,000 from a kitchen safe. The robbers escaped after locking Demeter, a bartender and a customer in a restroom.

Girl Scouts Present Colors At Meeting Of Midland PTA

Girl Scout Troop 252 presented the colors, commemorating National Girl Scout Week, at the meeting of the 4th St. Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon in the Midland school. Mrs. Edward Cilli, president, presiding. The following girls, Debbie Vignovich, Lynn Gruber, Ruth Ann Frable, Becky Craik and Christine Cilli, took part. Mrs. William Marcum is leader of the troop.

Mrs. William Black read the opening prayer and Miss Despena Gagianas, music teacher at the school, led in the group singing of "America."

The guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Katich, discussed "You are What You Eat."

Members voted to give $10 to the County Scholarship Fund after Mrs. Jack Haggerty, first vice president of the Beaver County PTA Council and chairman of the scholarship committee, gave an explanation of the project.

The three Midland PTA units, 7th, 4th and 1st St., will sponsor an operetta, "Hansel and Gretel," April 24, by the 4th St. Choir, under the direction of Miss Gagianas and with a cast of 81. William Lohr, teacher, will assist Miss Gagianas. The operetta will be given at the Midland High School auditorium with admission 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. Proceeds will go to the Midland Dental Clinic.

The PTA's will dispense with their April meetings as this musical event will be considered their usual joint meeting for the month.

Carol Reed and Sue Kovalesky, members of the Midland High School "Busi-C," Girl's Commercial Club, displayed leather purses being sold to raise funds for their annual trip. Mrs. John Shovlin III, teacher at the high school and club sponsor, will accept orders, as will members of the club.

The nominating committee, to present a slate of officers to be elected and seated at the next meeting May 14, includes Mrs. Black, chairman, Mrs. Harry Alston and Mrs. Robert Fetterman.

Mrs. Haggerty will be the installing officer. A tea will be served and the three sixth grade homeroom mothers will be the hostesses.

Both Sides Still Far Apart In 2-Week Electrical Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The strike against Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. reached the two-week mark today with both union and company still far apart on key issues, a federal mediator reports.

H. J. Montoney is mediating the joint negotiations which resumed Friday for the first time since the strike began. He said both sides "budged a little" in their positions during the 12½-hour meeting, but "so far we're not down to the main issues."

Another session is scheduled (for 1 p. m.) today.

Some 1,300 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Locals 1466 and 832, went on strike against the utility at midnight, Feb. 28, when their old contract expired.

The union is seeking a 6 per cent general wage increase plus a 10-cent hourly boost for top linemen. The latter is a major stumbling block against contract agreements, and was involved in the union's reason for turning down a new wage offer proposed by the company Friday.

Union spokesmen said the wage rejection was based on the company's continued refusal to consider extra pay for linemen.

The company's new offer was for a 4½ per cent increase for all workers. That's one per cent more than it offered before the strike. The firm also proposed additional pay increases in 10 job classifications.

William Hamler, business agent for Local 1466, says there are 247 job classifications within the company.

Supervisory personnel have been operating the utility's installations during the strike, keeping power flowing to customers in 23 central and southern Ohio counties.

Midland Kaycee Youth Entered In Oratorical Contest

John Petrush, a 11th grade student at Lincoln High School, will represent Midland Circle 611, Columbian Squires, at an oratorical contest Sunday at the Chartiers Council at Crafton.

He was a winner of a contest conducted Tuesday evening in the Midland Knights of Columbus Hall. He spoke on "Why Being a Squire Makes Me a Better, Practical Catholic."

Petrush will compete with about nine boys from Crafton, McKeesport, Duquesne, Coraopolis, McKees Rocks and Pittsburgh.

The state contest will be held April 5, and the winner will speak at the state K. of C. convention at Philadelphia later. The contests are being sponsored by the state circle of Columbian Squires.

New counselors just named are Ernest Torres, Paul Farnan and Dennis Haggerty. Present committee chairmen were retained for the next three months.

A physical program with Mike Hornich, as chairman, will be held March 23. George Huha, adult counselor, will be supervisor.

The Charles A. Lindbergh Park in Little Falls, Minn., is maintained as a memorial to Lindy's father, U. S. Congressman Charles A. Lindbergh.

Pioneers Near Halfway In Trek To Alaska

COUTTS, Alta. (AP) — A group of Michigan pioneers neared the halfway mark today in their motorized trek to new homes in Alaska.

The group of 37 planned to celebrate completion of the first half of their 4,300-mile journey to Homer, near Anchorage. They intend to homestead 160-acre tracts of farmland on the Kenia Peninsula.

They left the Detroit area 10 days ago and were delayed by mechanical trouble, snow storms and the greetings of towns along the way. The group left Shelby, Mont., Friday and halted briefly at this Canadian border point to clear customs and immigration.

Color Slides Screened For Lions Club Meeting

Color slides of his trip to the Orient, including scenes in China and Japan, were screened by Dale D. Thompson at the meeting of the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Richard Walker, program chairman, introduced Thompson. Don Baxter, president, presided.

Dr. John A. Fraser will show films of his trip to northern Europe and Switzerland at next Friday's meeting.

Editor Named President Of U.S. Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scholarly editor who says the 1900 concept of capitalism is very foreign to the capitalism of today is taking over as head of one of the world's largest organization of businessmen.

He's Erwin D. Canham, elected Friday as president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Canham is best known as editor of the Christian Science Monitor and as a radio and TV commentator.

For the Chamber, which ordinarily picks career businessmen, industrialists or financiers as its top officer, Canham is the first newspaperman in the big organization's line of 32 presidents. He succeeds St. Louis banker William McDonald, who now becomes board chairman.

"The 1900 concept of capitalism is a thing very foreign to the capitalism of today," Canham told reporters after his election.

"Business," he said, "has accepted a deep responsibility and accountability to its customers, its civic neighbors, its workers and its stockholder.

"Economic power has been shifting in this country. It is moving still in the direction of a balance—and economic balance is as necessary to economic freedom as the political balance of power is to political freedom."

2 Taken Before Court In Non-Support Cases

LISBON — Two men were arraigned Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on charges of failing to provide for their minor children.

Douglas Reynolds, 32, of Chester was bound over to the April Grand Jury under $1,500 bond and James Lee Tyson, 27, of Toledo was given six months in the County Jail. Judge Tobin said both were "habitual offenders" on the charge.

Chester Students To Conduct Ballot On Queen For Carnival

Beginning April 1 and ending at noon April 17, a "penny-a-vote" election will be conducted to choose the king and queen for the Chester High School carnival April 18.

"Apple Blossom Time" will be the theme of the event being sponsored by the Student Council. Proceeds will help buy a new trophy case for the school. A minstrel, to be directed by Tony Bernardi, is being planned as the feature.

Glen Stanley, council president, appointed committees.

They include Reed Calcott, Jerry Linger, Sharon Roberts, Robert White, William Hobbs, Wayne Berry, Cynthia Pinney, Nancy Gillespie, Dave Brookes and Jane Hoyt, organization.

Darlene Walker, Rita Rossy, Patricia Pinney, Pamela Rockwell, Kenda Roberts, and Bill Parsons, decorations Jerry Linger, finance, and Ralph Rossy and Ed Jordan, publicity.

Council Waits Sewer Enabling Legislation

The first enabling legislation for construction of a sanitary sewer in Beechwood will be introduced at City Council's meeting Monday night at 8.

The sewer will run along Beechwood St., Camp Alley, Center St., Division Alley, Reynolds St., Buxton Alley, Haywood St., Vernia St. and Broad St.

Council also will consider an ordinance establishing a position of assistant clerk - stenographer in the sewage department and fixing the pay at $245 monthly.

A resolution also will be submitted authorizing payment of a claim of Ralph Holmes of R. D. 2 for $33.18 for damages to his car when struck by a fire truck. Dec. 20.

A holiday will be allowed pupils of the Midland Presentation Parochial School Wednesday when the new bishop of the Pittsburgh Diocese, the Most Rev. John J. Wright, S.T.D., will be installed at St. Paul's Cathedral in Pittsburgh.

Parishioners of the Presentation Church have been invited to a reception for the new bishop March 22 from 3 to 9 p. m. at Duquesne University.

Pension Sunday will be observed at the 6 a. m., 7:30, 10:30 and noon Masses tomorrow. Christian Mothers will receive Holy Communion at the 7:30 Mass. Fr. Gerard Kelly of Mt. Gallitzin Academy at Baden will speak at the Lenten service Sunday at 7:30 p. m.

The fourth in a series of marriage courses will be conducted Wednesday at 8 p. m. at the school. Stations of the Cross will be heard Friday at 2:30 and 7:30 p. m.

Fr. Robert P. Garland, an assistant pastor, announced that lay teachers for the next term are needed to teach in the Presentation School. Men or women interested may contact the principal, Sister Margaretta, at MI 3-2730.

Gunman Gets $9,200

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Two gunmen sat in the Louisville Road Tavern drinking for 25 minutes Friday afternoon and then held up the place and escaped with $9,200. They met the owner, Frank Demeter, when he returned from a bank and took the $7,200 he had gotten to cash payroll checks and $2,000 from a kitchen safe. The robbers escaped after locking Demeter, a bartender and a customer in a restroom.

Girl Scouts Present Colors At Meeting Of Midland PTA

Girl Scout Troop 252 presented the colors, commemorating National Girl Scout Week, at the meeting of the 4th St. Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon in the Midland school. Mrs. Edward Cilli, president, presiding. The following girls, Debbie Vignovich, Lynn Gruber, Ruth Ann Frable, Becky Craik and Christine Cilli, took part. Mrs. William Marcum is leader of the troop.

Mrs. William Black read the opening prayer and Miss Despena Gagianas, music teacher at the school, led in the group singing of "America."

The guest speaker, Mrs. Robert Katich, discussed "You are What You Eat."

Members voted to give $10 to the County Scholarship Fund after Mrs. Jack Haggerty, first vice president of the Beaver County PTA Council and chairman of the scholarship committee, gave an explanation of the project.

The three Midland PTA units, 7th, 4th and 1st St., will sponsor an operetta, "Hansel and Gretel," April 24, by the 4th St. Choir, under the direction of Miss Gagianas and with a cast of 81. William Lohr, teacher, will assist Miss Gagianas. The operetta will be given at the Midland High School auditorium with admission 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for children. Proceeds will go to the Midland Dental Clinic.

The PTA's will dispense with their April meetings as this musical event will be considered their usual joint meeting for the month.

Carol Reed and Sue Kovalesky, members of the Midland High School "Busi-C," Girl's Commercial Club, displayed leather purses being sold to raise funds for their annual trip. Mrs. John Shovlin III, teacher at the high school and club sponsor, will accept orders, as will members of the club.

The nominating committee, to present a slate of officers to be elected and seated at the next meeting May 14, includes Mrs. Black, chairman, Mrs. Harry Alston and Mrs. Robert Fetterman.

Mrs. Haggerty will be the installing officer. A tea will be served and the three sixth grade homeroom mothers will be the hostesses.

Both Sides Still Far Apart In 2-Week Electrical Strike

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The strike against Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co. reached the two-week mark today with both union and company still far apart on key issues, a federal mediator reports.

H. J. Montoney is mediating the joint negotiations which resumed Friday for the first time since the strike began. He said both sides "budged a little" in their positions during the 12½-hour meeting, but "so far we're not down to the main issues."

Another session is scheduled (for 1 p. m.) today.

Some 1,300 members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Locals 1466 and 832, went on strike against the utility at midnight, Feb. 28, when their old contract expired.

The union is seeking a 6 per cent general wage increase plus a 10-cent hourly boost for top linemen. The latter is a major stumbling block against contract agreements, and was involved in the union's reason for turning down a new wage offer proposed by the company Friday.

Union spokesmen said the wage rejection was based on the company's continued refusal to consider extra pay for linemen.

The company's new offer was for a 4½ per cent increase for all workers. That's one per cent more than it offered before the strike. The firm also proposed additional pay increases in 10 job classifications.

William Hamler, business agent for Local 1466, says there are 247 job classifications within the company.

Supervisory personnel have been operating the utility's installations during the strike, keeping power flowing to customers in 23 central and southern Ohio counties.

Midland Kaycee Youth Entered In Oratorical Contest

John Petrush, a 11th grade student at Lincoln High School, will represent Midland Circle 611, Columbian Squires, at an oratorical contest Sunday at the Chartiers Council at Crafton.

He was a winner of a contest conducted Tuesday evening in the Midland Knights of Columbus Hall. He spoke on "Why Being a Squire Makes Me a Better, Practical Catholic."

Petrush will compete with about nine boys from Crafton, McKeesport, Duquesne, Coraopolis, McKees Rocks and Pittsburgh.

The state contest will be held April 5, and the winner will speak at the state K. of C. convention at Philadelphia later. The contests are being sponsored by the state circle of Columbian Squires.

New counselors just named are Ernest Torres, Paul Farnan and Dennis Haggerty. Present committee chairmen were retained for the next three months.

A physical program with Mike Hornich, as chairman, will be held March 23. George Huha, adult counselor, will be supervisor.

Pioneers Near Halfway In Trek To Alaska

COUTTS, Alta. (AP) — A group of Michigan pioneers neared the halfway mark today in their motorized trek to new homes in Alaska.

The group of 37 planned to celebrate completion of the first half of their 4,300-mile journey to Homer, near Anchorage. They intend to homestead 160-acre tracts of farmland on the Kenia Peninsula.

They left the Detroit area 10 days ago and were delayed by mechanical trouble, snow storms and the greetings of towns along the way. The group left Shelby, Mont., Friday and halted briefly at this Canadian border point to clear customs and immigration.

Color Slides Screened For Lions Club Meeting

Color slides of his trip to the Orient, including scenes in China and Japan, were screened by Dale D. Thompson at the meeting of the Lions Club Friday noon at the Travelers Hotel.

Richard Walker, program chairman, introduced Thompson. Don Baxter, president, presided.

Dr. John A. Fraser will show films of his trip to northern Europe and Switzerland at next Friday's meeting.

Editor Named President Of U.S. Chamber

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scholarly editor who says the 1900 concept of capitalism is very foreign to the capitalism of today is taking over as head of one of the world's largest organization of businessmen.

He's Erwin D. Canham, elected Friday as president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce. Canham is best known as editor of the Christian Science Monitor and as a radio and TV commentator.

For the Chamber, which ordinarily picks career businessmen, industrialists or financiers as its top officer, Canham is the first newspaperman in the big organization's line of 32 presidents. He succeeds St. Louis banker William McDonald, who now becomes board chairman.

"The 1900 concept of capitalism is a thing very foreign to the capitalism of today," Canham told reporters after his election.

"Business," he said, "has accepted a deep responsibility and accountability to its customers, its civic neighbors, its workers and its stockholder.

"Economic power has been shifting in this country. It is moving still in the direction of a balance—and economic balance is as necessary to economic freedom as the political balance of power is to political freedom."

2 Taken Before Court In Non-Support Cases

LISBON — Two men were arraigned Thursday before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin on charges of failing to provide for their minor children.

Douglas Reynolds, 32, of Chester was bound over to the April Grand Jury under $1,500 bond and James Lee Tyson, 27, of Toledo was given six months in the County Jail. Judge Tobin said both were "habitual offenders" on the charge.

Chester Students To Conduct Ballot On Queen For Carnival

Beginning April 1 and ending at noon April 17, a "penny-a-vote" election will be conducted to choose the king and queen for the Chester High School carnival April 18.

"Apple Blossom Time" will be the theme of the event being sponsored by the Student Council. Proceeds will help buy a new trophy case for the school. A minstrel, to be directed by Tony Bernardi, is being planned as the feature.

Candidates nominated for king and queen by each of the four classes include Patricia Pinney and Dave Brookes, seniors; Judy Laughlin and Bill Mayhew, juniors; Joyce Wilson and Gary Pugh, sophomores, and Waneta West and Albert Lyons, freshmen.

Glen Stanley, council president, appointed committees.

They include Reed Calcott, Jerry Linger, Sharon Roberts, Robert White, William Hobbs, Wayne Berry, Cynthia Pinney, Nancy Gillespie, Dave Brookes and Jane Hoyt, organization.

Darlene Walker, Rita Rossy, Patricia Pinney, Pamela Rockwell, Kenda Roberts, and Bill Parsons, decorations Jerry Linger, finance, and Ralph Rossy and Ed Jordan, publicity.

Council Waits Sewer Enabling Legislation

The first enabling legislation for construction of a sanitary sewer in Beechwood will be introduced at City Council's meeting Monday night at 8.

The sewer will run along Beechwood St., Camp Alley, Center St., Division Alley, Reynolds St., Buxton Alley, Haywood St., Vernia St. and Broad St.

Council also will consider an ordinance establishing a position of assistant clerk - stenographer in the sewage department and fixing the pay at $245 monthly.

A resolution also will be submitted authorizing payment of a claim of Ralph Holmes of R. D. 2 for $33.18 for damages to his car when struck by a fire truck. Dec. 20.

Bringing Up A Family

Parents Should Check On Homework

A young father of five children, four in the elementary grades, said to me, "I've just looked over the series of arithmetic books our children have.

By Garry Meyers

It is supposed to be the latest and best text book in use. "It is full of drill exercises in the fundament al operations — addition, subtraction, multiplication and division. Many of these are assigned as homework but the busy teachers rarely check on this work for accuracy. It looks as if this is usually mere busy work which results in careless and inaccurate practice."

"You are right," I replied. "And with the wide popular demand for pressing down on youngsters at school to work harder, this practice will grow."

A TEACHER often with large classes, doesn't have the time to check on the accuracy of homework drill handed in at school. She kids herself into thinking she is keeping her pupils profitably employed.

As I have often said in this column, drill on fundamental operations in arithmetic is desirable, but mere repetition is not good drill. It can cause the child to repeat errors as well as correct associations.

Good drill in adding, subtracting, spelling and the like, is correct repetition. It is essential to effective learning to avoid mistakes and inaccurate repetitions.

A teacher would do well to assign only mechanical number work to be done at home which she will have time to check for accuracy. It is better to have the child bring to school one sum he has done without an error than to bring fifty with some mistakes among them.

AS I TOLD that young father, parents can do something about this. Take time at home to check on the mechanical number work your child does there. Make him do over the items he has done wrong and take to school a paper free of error.

Let the teacher know you are doing this and ask her to make the child's assignments reasonable in length.

My bulletin, "Home Helps in Arithmetic," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Regulate your driving speed according to road and weather conditions. Extra caution must be used when icy spots prevail.

Often, after a winter storm has passed or even in early spring, icy spots remain in sheltered places. The Chicago Motor Club warns that motorists should be prepared to encounter slippery sections of road under viaducts, on bridges, and in other shaded spots.

If you should skid on ice, don't slam on the brakes. Turn your front wheels in the direction your rear wheels are skidding. This will tend to keep the rear end of the car from whipping around as you ease the brakes on and off to stop.

Concert By Rise Stevens Waited Here Monday

A capacity audience is expected when the East Liverpool Civic Music Association presents the celebrated singing star Rise Stevens Monday night in its third and final concert of the current series.

The program will begin at 8:15 in Westgate Auditorium.

Association officials, pointing out that many members of civic music groups in district communities will be coming here for the concert, suggested today that local members plan to arrive early to help eliminate any last-minute congestion.

Rise Stevens holds a unique position in the entertainment world, as star of the Metropolitan Opera, concerts, television, movies and records.

She also is that rare phenomenon—an American-born singer with an international reputation and following, whether through her starring appearances at Milan's famed LaScala Opera House, at the Paris Grand Opera, Vienna State Opera and the Glyndebourne Music Festival, or through operatic and concert guest-appearances in Athens, Prague, Cairo, Buenos Aires, and other cities.

This country's leading music critics have referred to her portrayals of "Carmen," "Der Rosenkavalier," "Delilah" or any of her other 40 operatic roles as "superb," "dazzling," "thrilling" and "a personal triumph," and the international press has equaled this acclaim.

The Italian press has described her as "the perfect actress with the brilliant voice," while the Greeks had even stronger words: "She is a goddess returned to us after thousands of years."

Miss Stevens is equally honored and beloved in other fields of the entertainment world.

She is regularly heard and seen by millions through her television and radio appearances and she is known to additional millions through her starring roles in movies and through numerous recordings which have made her one of the all-time best-selling artists in the classical field.

As a foremost critic wrote recently: "Rise Stevens is at the top of her career."

IBOP Asks NLRB Vote For Porcelain Concern

A petition asking an election to determine a bargaining agent for employes of the Porcelain Products, Inc., of Carey has been filed with the National Labor Relations Board by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The date for the election will be set after a survey is made by John Vincek, field examiner for the NLRB regional office in Cleveland.

The IBOP said the petition was filed by Clyde Jones, eighth vice president, after the union claimed a canvass showed 70 per cent of the employes favored the brotherhood as their collective bargaining representative.

A subsidiary of the A. B. Chance Co., the firm manufactures a high grade of porcelain products and now employs about 100. At peak production, it employs approximately 150 workers.

Allied Leaders Fear France On Retaining Fleet

PARIS (AP) — Allied leaders feared today France's determination to retain command of her Mediterranean Fleet even in time of war might weaken the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

President De Gaulle's show of independence was regarded as a bid for a stronger role in NATO military commands and to get more support for France's fight against the Algerian rebels.

The immediate impact of the French move was more phychological than military. There was apprehension it could give the impression—especially to the Soviets—of a sharp division among the Allies.

The French navy totals about 400,000 tons. Reliable sources said only a third of the fleet had been earmarked to come under NATO command in time of war.

French sources contended the government's decision to retain command would in no way alter the military effectiveness of NATO, either in peace or war.

One NATO source warned, however, such unilateral action — if followed by other countries—could severely damage the alliance.

Escapees Captured

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—After a short hour of freedom, two London Prison Farm escapees were nabbed by police Friday. Farm Superintendent R. B. Eckle said Lloyd J. Knixley, 24, and Clinton B. Hensley, 28, fled from a work detail at the farm, but were captured about six miles from the farm.

Student Gives Trumpet Selections At Recital

Stanley E. Hindmarch, a senior in the Ohio State University School of Music, participated in a graduate recital at Hughes Hall Wednesday afternoon.

He presented two trumpet selections, "Choral" (Pierre - Max Dubois) and "Concerto for Trumpet" (Giannini). He also took part in a brass quartet.

Attending the recital from this area were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hindmarch of Gardendale, his sister, Miss Donna Hindmarch and Mrs. Lyle Kocher and Miss Barbara Domski.

Killed In Accident

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Charles Hipscher, 64, of Smithfield was killed Friday when the car in which he was riding crashed into a parked truck on Ohio 150 near Rayland. His companion, Charles Reasbeck, 40, was admitted to Martins Ferry Hospital. The State Highway Patrol said it had not determined which of the men was driving.

Tolls Bill Passed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A bill to reimpose traffic tolls on the Ohio River bridge connecting Huntington, W. Va., and Chesapeake, Ohio, was passed by the West Virginia State Senate Friday and sent on to the House for concurrence on amendments. The bill provides that no tolls shall be collected until after construction of a new Ohio River toll bridge near Huntington. A bond issue to finance the latter would be retired through toll revenue to be collected on the existing bridge.

Legion Auxiliary Picks Wellsville 'State' Delegate

The auxiliary of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 selected a Wellsville High School junior to attend the 13th annual Buckeye Girls State when it met Wednesday night in the post home.

Miss Peggy Jean Excell will attend the session June 20-28 at Capital University in Columbus. Miss Becky Gatho was named alternate. They were selected for their scholastic standing in school and their interest in American history.

The program included a talk on "The McCarran- Walter Immigration Act" by Mrs. Isabel Hart of Wellsville, national auxiliary security chairman. A skit on proper use of the American flag was presented by Mrs. Sarah Rose and Mrs. Kathryn Hughes.

Two Garfield elementary school pupils, Joyce Westlake, and Cathy Powell, presented a "George Washington Minuet." Cathy sang "Stand By America," and Joyce "Safely By His Guided Hand." An instrumental duet was presented by Patty Newton and Ronnie Dickinson.

Mrs. Dolores Excell, president, presided for business. Members signed Easter cards to be sent to veterans in hospitals. It was agreed to hold a card party every two weeks. Lunch was served by Mrs. Margaret McAdoo and Mrs. Helen Secrest.

Boy Falls 100 Feet But Expected To Live

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Richard Greer, 12, fell onto the rocks of rugged Feather River canyon from a 100-foot cliff Friday but he is expected to survive despite multiple fractures.

Richard and a friend, Robert Seveille, 13, both of nearby Oregon City, rode their bikes from school to the rim of Table Mountain. Richard fell the equivalent of 10 stories while they were playing. Robert rode for help.

It took a sheriff's posse 90 minutes to rescue the boy, who had fallen on a ledge. His mother, Mrs. Woodrow Greer, watched anxiously from the top of the cliff.

Acute Virus Infection Strikes Peggy Lee

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—An acute virus infection has stricken Peggy Lee.

The singer's physician ordered her to cancel her engagements. She will not be able to fulfill her part in the Dinah Shore television program Sunday night. Gary Crosby will take her place.

Ohio May Be Broke Soon, Director Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Is Ohio's state government going broke?

According to State Finance Director James Maloon, it's very possible Ohio could become financially embarrassed in the next two or three months, in trying to meet its debts.

Maloon told fellow members of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's cabinet Friday that there may be a "fiscal crisis very soon" and "another and more serious situation in August."

But it might be possible to head off the problem with Liquor Department funds, he told the cabinet meeting. The department plans to hike prices at state liquor stores 25 to 50 cents a fifth, starting April 1.

Sunday School Cagers Honored With Banquet

The Sunday School basketball team of the First United Presbyterian Church was honored at a dinner Friday night by the Young People's Department.

Two trophies were presented — one as Y-Church league tournament runners-up and the other the Intercollegiate award.

Brief talks were given by the coaches, Bill Thornberry and Jack Connell. Harmon Chaney, superintendent, also spoke on behalf of the Sunday School.

Team members are: Joe Lowe, Leonard Oliver, David Oliver, Steve Neville, Bruce McCoy, Bob Bloor, William Bigelow, Brady Clutter and Alex Davison.

Entertainment included movies screened by Jerry Croft and a piano solo by Steve Neville.

Civil War Vet Gets Supply Of Oxygen

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP)—John Salling, 112-year-old Civil War veteran, is receiving a constant supply of bottled oxygen today in his battle with pneumonia at a private Kingsport hospital.

Salling, who will be 113 May 15, is one of two surviving veterans of the War Between the States. He lives near Slant, Va., and entered the hospital Thursday.

President Given Another Term In VFW Auxiliary

Mrs. Lillie Boggs was retained as president of the auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 at its election at the Wellsville post's home Thursday night.

Others re - elected were Mrs. Willa Parker of Irondale, treasurer; Mrs. Naomi McCuen of Irondale, conductress, and Mrs. Lucille Daniels of Wellsville, guard.

Mrs. Clara Snyder of Wellsville was elected senior vice president; Mrs. Louise Carter of East Liverpool, junior vice president; Mrs. Rosie Dorsey of Wellsville, chaplain; Mrs. Mary Tucker, No. 2 trustee, both of Wellsville, and Mrs. Mable Dorsey of East Liverpool, No. 3 trustee.

The president announced the reappointment of Mrs. Alice Carter as patriotic instructor and Mrs. Kathryn Carpenter as secretary, both of Wellsville.

Mrs. Idella Smith, Mrs. Virginia Douglass and Mrs. Mable Dorsey, all of East Liverpool, were appointed as color bearers. Installation of officers will be held April 11 in conjunction with the post officers.

The group voted to send a donation to the national cancer fund and $5 to the Ohio cottages fund. A social meeting will be held March 25 and a public fish fry March 27.

Subdivisions Will Get Tax Funds In 10 Days

Columbiana County subdivisions and school districts can look for an advance settlement on real estate taxes within the next 10 days, Auditor Kenneth Bell said today.

Bell plans to make a 60 per cent advance distribution, probably next Friday, from the taxes now being collected by the treasurer for first half of 1958.

Deadline for the paying these taxes is today, after which a penalty will be added.

Ohioan Pleads Innocent To Tax Evasion Charge

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Frank E. Pfaff of Madison pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court Friday to charges of evading $12,495 in income taxes for 1952 and 1953.

Pfaff, 53, a former Bryan sewer and water line contractor, moved to Madison recently.

Richard Colasurd, assistant U.S. district attorney, said Pfaff filed a joint return for himself and his wife, declaring their income was $1,800 in 1952 and $4,802 in 1953. Actually, said Colasurd, their income was $23,595 in 1952 and $25,472 in 1953.

The tax on these incomes would total $12,776. Colasurd said Pfaff paid no taxes in 1952 and $281 in 1953.

"You are right," I replied. "And with the wide popular demand for pressing down on youngsters at school to work harder, this practice will grow."

—:—

A TEACHER often with large classes, doesn't have the time to check on the accuracy of homework drill handed in at school. She kids herself into thinking she is keeping her pupils profitably employed.

As I have often said in this column, drill on fundamental operations in arithmetic is desirable, but mere repetition is not good drill. It can cause the child to repeat errors as well as correct associations.

Good drill in adding, subtracting, spelling and the like, is correct repetition. It is essential to effective learning to avoid mistakes and inaccurate repetitions.

A teacher would do well to assign only mechanical number work to be done at home which she will have time to check for accuracy. It is better to have the child bring to school one sum he has done without an error than to bring fifty with some mistakes among them.

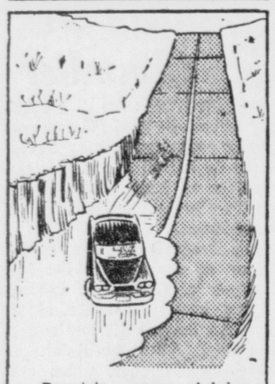

—:—

AS I TOLD that young father, parents can do something about this. Take time at home to check on the mechanical number work your child does there. Make him do over the items he has done wrong and take to school a paper free of error.

Let the teacher know you are doing this and ask her to make the child's assignments reasonable in length.

My bulletin, "Home Helps in Arithmetic," may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper.

SAFE DRIVING TIP

Regulate your driving speed according to road and weather conditions. Extra caution must be used when icy spots prevail.

Often, after a winter storm has passed or even in early spring, icy spots remain in sheltered places. The Chicago Motor Club warns that motorists should be prepared to encounter slippery sections of road under viaducts, on bridges, and in other shaded spots.

If you should skid on ice, don't slam on the brakes. Turn your front wheels in the direction your rear wheels are skidding. This will tend to keep the rear end of the car from whipping around as you ease the brakes on and off to stop.

Concert By Rise Stevens Waited Here Monday

A capacity audience is expected when the East Liverpool Civic Music Association presents the celebrated singing star Rise Stevens Monday night in its third and final concert of the current series.

The program will begin at 8:15 in Westgate Auditorium.

Association officials, pointing out that many members of civic music groups in district communities will be coming here for the concert, suggested today that local members plan to arrive early to help eliminate any last-minute congestion.

Rise Stevens holds a unique position in the entertainment world, as star of the Metropolitan Opera, concerts, television, movies and records.

She also is that rare phenomenon—an American-born singer with an international reputation and following, whether through her starring appearances at Milan's famed LaScala Opera House, at the Paris Grand Opera, Vienna State Opera and the Glyndebourne Music Festival, or through operatic and concert guest-appearances in Athens, Prague, Cairo, Buenos Aires, and other cities.

This country's leading music critics have referred to her portrayals of "Carmen," "Der Rosenkavalier," "Delilah" or any of her other 40 operatic roles as "superb," "dazzling," "thrilling" and "a personal triumph," and the international press has equaled this acclaim.

The Italian press has described her as "the perfect actress with the brilliant voice," while the Greeks had even stronger words: "She is a goddess returned to us after thousands of years."

RISE STEVENS

Renowned In Many Music Fields.

Miss Stevens is equally honored and beloved in other fields of the entertainment world.

She is regularly heard and seen by millions through her television and radio appearances and she is known to additional millions through her starring roles in movies and through numerous recordings which have made her one of the all-time best-selling artists in the classical field.

As a foremost critic wrote recently: "Rise Stevens is at the top of her career."

IBOP Asks NLRB Vote For Porcelain Concern

A petition asking an election to determine a bargaining agent for employes of the Porcelain Products, Inc., of Carey has been filed with the National Labor Relations Board by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters.

The date for the election will be set after a survey is made by John Vincek, field examiner for the NLRB regional office in Cleveland.

The IBOP said the petition was filed by Clyde Jones, eighth vice president, after the union claimed a canvass showed 70 per cent of the employes favored the brotherhood as their collective bargaining representative.

A subsidiary of the A. B. Chance Co., the firm manufactures a high grade of porcelain products and now employs about 100. At peak production, it employs approximately 150 workers.

Queen Will Be Named At Dance Of Auxiliary

NEW CUMBERLAND — Selection of an entry to represent New Cumberland High School in the "Queen of Queens" contest at the Ohio - West Virginia All - Star football game in August will feature a record hop of the auxiliary of the VFW tonight from 8 to 12 in the post home.

Mrs. Gem Hill, chairman, said 17 seniors will compete for the queen candidacy. Out - of - town judges will narrow the field to three, with the winner being the girl with the highest scholastic average in school. Most of the candidates will perform talent acts.

The 1959 representative to the game played at Wheeling Island in August will be crowned by Mrs. Marsha Herron Webster, last year's queen.

Allied Leaders Fear France On Retaining Fleet

PARIS (AP) — Allied leaders feared today France's determination to retain command of her Mediterranean Fleet even in time of war might weaken the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

President De Gaulle's show of independence was regarded as a bid for a stronger role in NATO military commands and to get more support for France's fight against the Algerian rebels.

The immediate impact of the French move was more phychological than military. There was apprehension it could give the impression—especially to the Soviets—of a sharp division among the Allies.

The French navy totals about 400,000 tons. Reliable sources said only a third of the fleet had been earmarked to come under NATO command in time of war.

French sources contended the government's decision to retain command would in no way alter the military effectiveness of NATO, either in peace or war.

One NATO source warned, however, such unilateral action — if followed by other countries—could severely damage the alliance.

Escapees Captured

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—After a short hour of freedom, two London Prison Farm escapees were nabbed by police Friday. Farm Superintendent R. B. Eckle said Lloyd J. Knixley, 24, and Clinton B. Hensley, 28, fled from a work detail at the farm, but were captured about six miles from the farm.

Student Gives Trumpet Selections At Recital

Stanley E. Hindmarch, a senior in the Ohio State University School of Music, participated in a graduate recital at Hughes Hall Wednesday afternoon.

He presented two trumpet selections, "Choral" (Pierre - Max Dubois) and "Concerto for Trumpet" (Giannini). He also took part in a brass quartet.

Attending the recital from this area were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hindmarch of Gardendale, his sister, Miss Donna Hindmarch and Mrs. Lyle Kocher and Miss Barbara Domski.

Killed In Accident

STEUBENVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Charles Hipscher, 64, of Smithfield was killed Friday when the car in which he was riding crashed into a parked truck on Ohio 150 near Rayland. His companion, Charles Reasbeck, 40, was admitted to Martins Ferry Hospital. The State Highway Patrol said it had not determined which of the men was driving.

Tolls Bill Passed

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A bill to reimpose traffic tolls on the Ohio River bridge connecting Huntington, W. Va., and Chesapeake, Ohio, was passed by the West Virginia State Senate Friday and sent on to the House for concurrence on amendments. The bill provides that no tolls shall be collected until after construction of a new Ohio River toll bridge near Huntington. A bond issue to finance the latter would be retired through toll revenue to be collected on the existing bridge.

Legion Auxiliary Picks Wellsville 'State' Delegate

The auxiliary of Wellsville American Legion Post 70 selected a Wellsville High School junior to attend the 13th annual Buckeye Girls State when it met Wednesday night in the post home.

Miss Peggy Jean Excell will attend the session June 20-28 at Capital University in Columbus. Miss Becky Gatho was named alternate. They were selected for their scholastic standing in school and their interest in American history.

The program included a talk on "The McCarran- Walter Immigration Act" by Mrs. Isabel Hart of Wellsville, national auxiliary security chairman. A skit on proper use of the American flag was presented by Mrs. Sarah Rose and Mrs. Kathryn Hughes.

Two Garfield elementary school pupils, Joyce Westlake, and Cathy Powell, presented a "George Washington Minuet." Cathy sang "Stand By America," and Joyce "Safely By His Guided Hand." An instrumental duet was presented by Patty Newton and Ronnie Dickinson.

Mrs. Dolores Excell, president, presided for business. Members signed Easter cards to be sent to veterans in hospitals. It was agreed to hold a card party every two weeks. Lunch was served by Mrs. Margaret McAdoo and Mrs. Helen Secrest.

Boy Falls 100 Feet But Expected To Live

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Richard Greer, 12, fell onto the rocks of rugged Feather River canyon from a 100-foot cliff Friday but he is expected to survive despite multiple fractures.

Richard and a friend, Robert Seveille, 13, both of nearby Oregon City, rode their bikes from school to the rim of Table Mountain. Richard fell the equivalent of 10 stories while they were playing. Robert rode for help.

It took a sheriff's posse 90 minutes to rescue the boy, who had fallen on a ledge. His mother, Mrs. Woodrow Greer, watched anxiously from the top of the cliff.

Ohio May Be Broke Soon, Director Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Is Ohio's state government going broke?

According to State Finance Director James Maloon, it's very possible Ohio could become financially embarrassed in the next two or three months, in trying to meet its debts.

Maloon told fellow members of Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's cabinet Friday that there may be a "fiscal crisis very soon" and "another and more serious situation in August."

But it might be possible to head off the problem with Liquor Department funds, he told the cabinet meeting. The department plans to hike prices at state liquor stores 25 to 50 cents a fifth, starting April 1.

Sunday School Cagers Honored With Banquet

The Sunday School basketball team of the First United Presbyterian Church was honored at a dinner Friday night by the Young People's Department.

Two trophies were presented — one as Y-Church league tournament runners-up and the other the Intercollegiate award.

Brief talks were given by the coaches, Bill Thornberry and Jack Connell. Harmon Chaney, superintendent, also spoke on behalf of the Sunday School.

Team members are: Joe Lowe, Leonard Oliver, David Oliver, Steve Neville, Bruce McCoy, Bob Bloor, William Bigelow, Brady Clutter and Alex Davison.

Entertainment included movies screened by Jerry Croft and a piano solo by Steve Neville.

Civil War Vet Gets Supply Of Oxygen

KINGSPORT, Tenn. (AP)—John Salling, 112-year-old Civil War veteran, is receiving a constant supply of bottled oxygen today in his battle with pneumonia at a private Kingsport hospital.

President Given Another Term In VFW Auxiliary

Mrs. Lillie Boggs was retained as president of the auxiliary of Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 9285 at its election at the Wellsville post's home Thursday night.

Others re - elected were Mrs. Willa Parker of Irondale, treasurer; Mrs. Naomi McCuen of Irondale, conductress, and Mrs. Lucille Daniels of Wellsville, guard.

Mrs. Clara Snyder of Wellsville was elected senior vice president; Mrs. Louise Carter of East Liverpool, junior vice president; Mrs. Rosie Dorsey of Wellsville, chaplain; Mrs. Mary Tucker, No. 2 trustee, both of Wellsville, and Mrs. Mable Dorsey of East Liverpool, No. 3 trustee.

The president announced the reappointment of Mrs. Alice Carter as patriotic instructor and Mrs. Kathryn Carpenter as secretary, both of Wellsville.

Mrs. Idella Smith, Mrs. Virginia Douglass and Mrs. Mable Dorsey, all of East Liverpool, were appointed as color bearers. Installation of officers will be held April 11 in conjunction with the post officers.

The group voted to send a donation to the national cancer fund and $5 to the Ohio cottages fund. A social meeting will be held March 25 and a public fish fry March 27.

Subdivisions Will Get Tax Funds In 10 Days

Columbiana County subdivisions and school districts can look for an advance settlement on real estate taxes within the next 10 days, Auditor Kenneth Bell said today.

Bell plans to make a 60 per cent advance distribution, probably next Friday, from the taxes now being collected by the treasurer for first half of 1958.

Deadline for the paying these taxes is today, after which a penalty will be added.

Ohioan Pleads Innocent To Tax Evasion Charge

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Frank E. Pfaff of Madison pleaded innocent in U.S. District Court Friday to charges of evading $12,495 in income taxes for 1952 and 1953.

Pfaff, 53, a former Bryan sewer and water line contractor, moved to Madison recently.

Richard Colasurd, assistant U.S. district attorney, said Pfaff filed a joint return for himself and his wife, declaring their income was $1,800 in 1952 and $4,802 in 1953. Actually, said Colasurd, their income was $23,595 in 1952 and $25,472 in 1953.

The tax on these incomes would total $12,776. Colasurd said Pfaff paid no taxes in 1952 and $281 in 1953.

Exercises Designed For 'Spot Reducing'

Fat is prone to settle in the least used places, so specific exercise is the best means of spot reducing. If the fat has made a home for itself on your hips and has hardened there, so to speak, diet alone will not budge that upholstery. Nor will a diet banish a frontline bulge.

Ida Jean Kain

Of course if you are overweight generally as well as in "spots," then calories must be curbed, too. Precision exercise along with diet can get the fat moving from certain areas and is the sure way to a streamlined figure.

Summed up, for reshaping the silhouette there is nothing to equal precision calisthenics. They need not be rugged, but they should be regular.

THE BONUS REWARD of exercise is a wonderful feeling of well being. Plus that, toned muscles help to keep the fat away from those vulnerable spots.

A frontline bulge isn't always a question of fat on the middle measurement. Often it is due to lack of tone in the abdominal muscles. This exercise helps restore tone to both the long front muscles and the bias muscles that span the side-front of the silhouette.

Position: Lying on back on floor, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor.

Movement: Place palm of right hand on back of left hand. Slowly lift shoulders off floor and bend forward to touch hands to left knee. Hold this muscle contraction for slow count of ten, then slowly lower shoulders to floor.

Be sure to keep small of back flat against floor. Repeat exercise, raising shoulders and touching hands to right knee point. Do this exercise four times as a starter, gradually increase to 10 times.

The second exercise slims the waist and tones the girdle muscles. Position: "Stand" on knees, hold arms out at sides, shoulder level. Now sit back on your heels and pull up-and-in firmly with middle muscles.

Movement: Keep a firm grip on middle muscles as you slowly bend to the right, aiming to touch fingers of right hand to floor at the side. Do not allow hips to jut out rearward! Come back to center, pull up and in again, and bend to opposite side. As you reach down with fingers of one hand, stretch out with fingers of other hand to get a bias stretch. Repeat 6 times, later 12 times.

MOVEMENT: Swing left leg forward, knee straight, swing back, and forward again, and on second swing rearward, hold for slow count of six. Swing again, 4 complete cycles. Change sides and swing with right leg.

This trio of exercises, taken for just 10 minutes daily, will bring beautiful results.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Cleveland Area Dairy Farmers Will Get Bonus

CLEVELAND (AP) — An estimated bonus of $280,000 will be received by Cleveland area dairy farmers for February milk shipments.

The bonus resulted Friday when the Milk Producers Federation got handlers to agree to ignore a seasonal price drop of 45 cents a hundredweight for fluid milk.

Charles K. Laughton, federation manager, said the negotiated price to the farmer will be $4.30 a hundredweight for 3.5 per cent butterfat milk. The federal marketing order minimum price as determined by W. W. Hurwitz, federal market administrator, is $3.99.

Laughton said the 31-cent difference would mean an additional $38 for the average producer in the market last month on the basis of an average daily farm production of 438 pounds.

The Cleveland agreement also applies in the Akron-Stark County areas and in northeastern Ohio generally.

Extension Authorized For Leetonia Bus Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Because its service between Salem and Warren under temporary authority has been satisfactory, Quaker City Bus Lines Inc. of Leetonia can expand its Warren to Salem route, the Utilities Commission said today.

After the necessary papers have been filed, the commission said, the bus company can amend its certificate to provide for a run from Warren to Salem via Ohio 45, then via Ohio 14-A to Washingtonville, over Brick Road to Leetonia, and via Ohio 344 to Columbiana - and back.

Children Of The Bible

DAVID

"And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children? And he said, There remaineth yet the youngest, and behold he keepeth the sheep . . ."
—I Samuel 16:11

David, who was to become the second king of Israel, was the youngest son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah.

He lived in Bethlehem, which later was to be called "the City of David," after him; and to become the birthplace of Jesus.

Being the youngest of all Jesse's sons, David became the shepherd of his father's flocks, which grazed in the fertile valleys of the Judaean hills.

There, in the solitude of nature, the boy came to know God. He saw His form in the look of clouds above a hilltop; he heard His voice in the pebbly notes of the brimming river. He recognized God in the movement of the stars overhead—bright children of the night, playmates of the mother skies.

And, because God meant guidance and love and overwhelming joy to David, the shepherd boy fashioned a harp and expressed his feeling in songs that were free as the wind.

"The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters."

David was tending his flocks and singing his songs one day when Samuel the prophet was sent by God to find among Jesse's sons, one who was to become the king of Israel.

One by one, Jesse brought seven of his sons before Samuel. But in each instance, God told Samuel this was not the boy He had chosen.

After reviewing all of them, Samuel asked Jesse: "Are these all your children?"

It was then that Jesse remembered David, the shepherd whose kingdom was a green valley and whose throne was an emerald hill.

Samuel sent for him at once. When he came, the prophet saw before him a shy lad, "ruddy, and withal of a beautiful countenance." Samuel heard the voice of the Lord, telling him: "Arise, anoint him: for this is he."

So Samuel took a horn of oil and, as David's brothers looked on, poured a little upon the boy's head to show that he was dedicated to the service of God.

"And the spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward."

Because of his skill in playing the harp, he soothed the troubled mind of King Saul from its deep melancholy. And later, as a young warrior, his confidence in God enabled him to slay the giant Goliath with only a sling and two stones from the river's edge.

2 Men Killed, Another Hurt In 3-Car Collision

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Two men were killed and a third injured early today in an automobile accident involving three automobiles on U.S. 35 a half mile west of Jamestown.

George A. Shinkle, 46, of Jamestown, an employe of a Xenia foundry, and Floyd E. Harper, 57, of Jamestown, operator of a Xenia plumbing shop, were killed when their car crashed into two cars stopped on the highway.

The highway patrol said Claudia E. Cox, 19, of near Jamestown, had stopped on the road to help another motorist, Kenneth W. Patterson, 19, whose car was mired in mud beside the road.

Shinkle's car crashed first into Cox's car, then into the Patterson car. Patterson, standing besides his car, was not injured. Cox was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries which were not believed serious.

Bandit 50 Cents Short In Robbery Of Store

BALTIMORE (AP) — A young gunman came out 50 cents short in a grocery store robbery.

David Silberman, 79, the grocer, said the teen-age bandit spent about 30 minutes waiting for customers to leave. While biding his time, he bought two soft drinks, a pretzel and a pack of cigarettes.

When the place was clear, he pulled a gun. Mrs. Silberman screamed. The bewildered youth fled without taking anything.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In memory of HERSEL BOYD LONG. Little Buddy we have missed you so. We miss your smiles and when we wake and look at your chair; we make believe you are still there. God walked in 14 years ago today and said it was time to take little Buddy away; But God knew best, so he took little Buddy home to rest. Sadly missed by his mother Hazel Long, and sisters Naomi and Pearl.

IN loving memory of David Lloyd Rowley, who left us seven years ago Saturday, March 15, 1952. He went through the gate at the end of the road, That we each must go through alone, And who he met on the other side only to God, is known. We like to think that he met him there And he smiled and said, "Hello." Then took him into his gentle care, Free from all pain and woe. We have missed each day of the years that have passed, And we'll miss him in every other. Until we too reach the end at last, And will once more be together.
"Peggy"
Sadly missed by his mother Ethel Rowley, his brothers and sisters, and all who loved him.

IN loving memory of our husband and father, Paul W. Stoneburner who passed away March 14, 1957. Sadly missed by Mary, Phyllis and Bob.

Keep In Trim

Exercises Designed For 'Spot Reducing'

Fat is prone to settle in the least used places, so specific exercise is the best means of spot reducing. If the fat has made a home for itself on your hips and has hardened there, so to speak, diet alone will not budge that upholstery. Nor will a diet banish a frontline bulge.

Ida Jean Kain

Of course if you are overweight generally as well as in "spots," then calories must be curbed, too. Precision exercise along with diet can get the fat moving from certain areas and is the sure way to a streamlined figure.

Summed up, for reshaping the silhouette there is nothing to equal precision calisthenics. They need not be rugged, but they should be regular.

THE BONUS REWARD of exercise is a wonderful feeling of well being. Plus that, toned muscles help to keep the fat away from those vulnerable spots.

A frontline bulge isn't always a question of fat on the middle measurement. Often it is due to lack of tone in the abdominal muscles. This exercise helps restore tone to both the long front muscles and the bias muscles that span the side-front of the silhouette.

Position: Lying on back on floor, knees flexed, soles of feet on floor.

Movement: Place palm of right hand on back of left hand. Slowly lift shoulders off floor and bend forward to touch hands to left knee. Hold this muscle contraction for slow count of ten, then slowly lower shoulders to floor.

Be sure to keep small of back flat against floor. Repeat exercise, raising shoulders and touching hands to right knee point. Do this exercise four times as a starter, gradually increase to 10 times.

The second exercise slims the waist and tones the girdle muscles. Position: "Stand" on knees, hold arms out at sides, shoulder level. Now sit back on your heels and pull up-and-in firmly with middle muscles.

Movement: Keep a firm grip on middle muscles as you slowly bend to the right, aiming to touch fingers of right hand to floor at the side. Do not allow hips to jut out rearward! Come back to center, pull up and in again, and bend to opposite side. As you reach down with fingers of one hand, stretch out with fingers of other hand to get a bias stretch. Repeat 6 times, later 12 times.

MOVEMENT: Swing left leg forward, knee straight, swing back, and forward again, and on second swing rearward, hold for slow count of six. Swing again, 4 complete cycles. Change sides and swing with right leg.

This trio of exercises, taken for just 10 minutes daily, will bring beautiful results.

Send a long, stamped, self - addressed envelope for illustrated exercise leaflet entitled, "Slim Hips In A Hurry." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of this newspaper. Post card requests cannot be answered.

Cleveland Area Dairy Farmers Will Get Bonus

CLEVELAND (AP) — An estimated bonus of $280,000 will be received by Cleveland area dairy farmers for February milk shipments.

The bonus resulted Friday when the Milk Producers Federation got handlers to agree to ignore a seasonal price drop of 45 cents a hundredweight for fluid milk.

Charles K. Laughton, federation manager, said the negotiated price to the farmer will be $4.30 a hundredweight for 3.5 per cent butterfat milk. The federal marketing order minimum price as determined by W. W. Hurwitz, federal market administrator, is $3.99.

Laughton said the 31-cent difference would mean an additional $38 for the average producer in the market last month on the basis of an average daily farm production of 438 pounds.

The Cleveland agreement also applies in the Akron-Stark County areas and in northeastern Ohio generally.

Extension Authorized For Leetonia Bus Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Because its service between Salem and Warren under temporary authority has been satisfactory, Quaker City Bus Lines Inc. of Leetonia can expand its Warren to Salem route, the Utilities Commission said today.

After the necessary papers have been filed, the commission said, the bus company can amend its certificate to provide for a run from Warren to Salem via Ohio 45, then via Ohio 14-A to Washingtonville, over Brick Road to Leetonia, and via Ohio 344 to Columbiana - and back.

Children Of The Bible

DAVID

"And Samuel said unto Jesse, Are here all thy children? And he said, There remaineth yet the youngest, and behold he keepeth the sheep . . ."
—I Samuel 16:11

David, who was to become the second king of Israel, was the youngest son of Jesse, of the tribe of Judah.

He lived in Bethlehem, which later was to be called "the City of David," after him; and to become the birthplace of Jesus.

Being the youngest of all Jesse's sons, David became the shepherd of his father's flocks, which grazed in the fertile valleys of the Judaean hills.

There, in the solitude of nature, the boy came to know God. He saw His form in the look of clouds above a hilltop; he heard His voice in the pebbly notes of the brimming river. He recognized God in the movement of the stars overhead—bright children of the night, playmates of the mother skies.

And, because God meant guidance and love and overwhelming joy to David, the shepherd boy fashioned a harp and expressed his feeling in songs that were free as the wind.

"The Lord is my shepherd I shall not want. He maketh me to lie down in green pastures: He leadeth me beside the still waters."

David was tending his flocks and singing his songs one day when Samuel the prophet was sent by God to find among Jesse's sons, one who was to become the king of Israel.

One by one, Jesse brought seven of his sons before Samuel. But in each instance, God told Samuel this was not the boy He had chosen.

After reviewing all of them, Samuel asked Jesse:

"Are these all your children?"

It was then that Jesse remembered David, the shepherd whose kingdom was a green valley and whose throne was an emerald hill.

Samuel sent for him at once. When he came, the prophet saw before him a shy lad, "ruddy, and withal of a beautiful countenance." Samuel heard the voice of the Lord, telling him: "Arise, anoint him: for this is he."

So Samuel took a horn of oil and, as David's brothers looked on, poured a little upon the boy's head to show that he was dedicated to the service of God.

"And the spirit of the Lord came upon David from that day forward."

Because of his skill in playing the harp, he soothed the troubled mind of King Saul from its deep melancholy. And later, as a young warrior, his confidence in God enabled him to slay the giant Goliath with only a sling and two stones from the river's edge.

2 Men Killed, Another Hurt In 3-Car Collision

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—Two men were killed and a third injured early today in an automobile accident involving three automobiles on U.S. 35 a half mile west of Jamestown.

George A. Shinkle, 46, of Jamestown, an employe of a Xenia plumbing shop, were killed when their car crashed into two cars stopped on the highway.

The highway patrol said Claudia E. Cox, 19, of near Jamestown, had stopped on the road to help another motorist, Kenneth W. Patterson, 19, whose car was mired in mud beside the road.

Shinkle's car crashed first into Cox's car, then into the Patterson car. Patterson, standing besides his car, was not injured. Cox was taken to Greene County Memorial Hospital for treatment of injuries which were not believed serious.

Bandit 50 Cents Short In Robbery Of Store

BALTIMORE (AP) — A young gunman came out 50 cents short in a grocery store robbery.

David Silberman, 79, the grocer, said the teen-age bandit spent about 30 minutes waiting for customers to leave. While biding his time, he bought two soft drinks, a pretzel and a pack of cigarettes.

When the place was clear, he pulled a gun. Mrs. Silberman screamed. The bewildered youth fled without taking anything.

Chief Justice Warren Is Grandfather Again

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Chief Justice Earl Warren is a grandpa again.

His youngest daughter, Nina (Honey Bear) Warren Brien, gave birth Thursday night to a daughter. She is the wife of Dr. Stuart Brien, Beverly Hills Gynecologist.
